Keeping Our Lives at Katella — ‘A Small World’

Communication is a very important function in the lives of many people today. We can communicate with our bodies, our mouth, how we act, how we move, and the list goes on. In our ever-changing world of computers and technology, one thing we must improve is our ability to communicate with each other.

Here at Katella we are our own kind of world with our organizations the different countries. Each one of our many groups at Katella has its own personal way of accomplishing its goals. Although we speak more than 10 different languages at Katella, the students all share common ideas and goals — to learn, to compete, to grow, and to love.

With improvements made and changes accomplished, our world can communicate with each other with ease. It is like that infamous water-ride at Disneyland that everyone knows so well. And in it you can hear the children of the world singing that although we speak many different languages, we all live in a “Small World.”

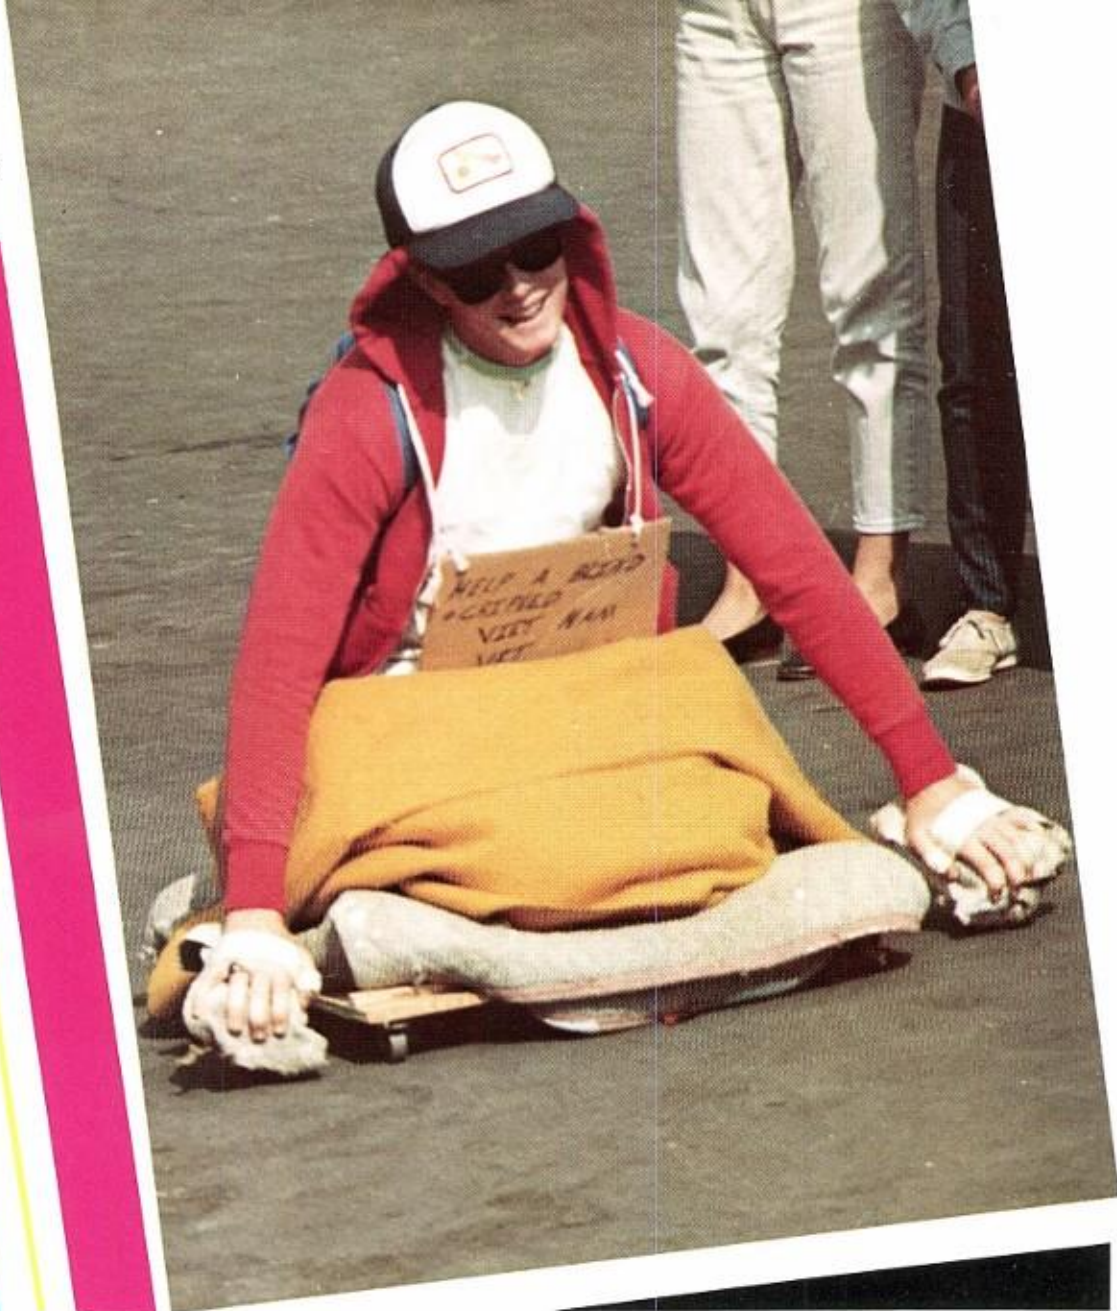

At football games, the team was cheered on by the not-so-quiet "Goon Squad."

Katella's Small World Has Influenced Lives

*K*atella students do not have to think twice if you ask them "Have we changed?" the definitive answer would, of course, be "YES." The students at Katella are all at that age when the music that we listen to affects the way we dress, talk, and act. This is another form of communication that we need in the world today because it influences a person's style.

We all know that because we all come from different backgrounds, countries, or languages, each individual's style is unique. As you think about this, think about the role you play throughout these pages of our world because "It's A Small World."

A more tightly knit group

“Good morning faculty, staff, and Katella student body . . .” Sound familiar? It’s the morning announcements that brought you news of the whirlwind activities throughout your days at Katella. For the sports fanatic, the announcements offered the current update on school athletic events. To the more academic student, they brought reports of clubs, meetings, seminars, and college opportunities. Others learned of the latest information on dances and social events. These various activities helped to bring the Katella student body closer together during the 1984-85 school year.

In addition to the usual dances and sports activities, new events such as the Trivial Pursuit Tournament and other special assemblies were introduced. The Drama department successfully produced plays such as “Stage Door,” “Desk Set,” and “Once Upon A Mattress.” Spirit weeks sponsored by the ASB Cabinet sparked creativity and provided lunchtime entertainment. All of these events helped break up the monotony of school days.

By sharing these times together, the Katella Knights became a more tightly knit group. Activities provided the common ground needed to unify our student body and improve our relationships with each other. Differences were set aside as the students worked together for a central motive, a common goal. We have proved, once again, that it truly is a small world after all.

Howdy Dance Sizzles

Have you ever felt like you've been inside a sweltering forge? If so, you were probably at the Howdy dance on Friday, September 14, 1984. If one will recall, the school year started in the middle of what could be described as a heat wave.

The dance was held in the multi-purpose room or what is commonly known as the cafeteria, which did not make matters any better. But don't get the wrong idea. The dance had a massive turnout.

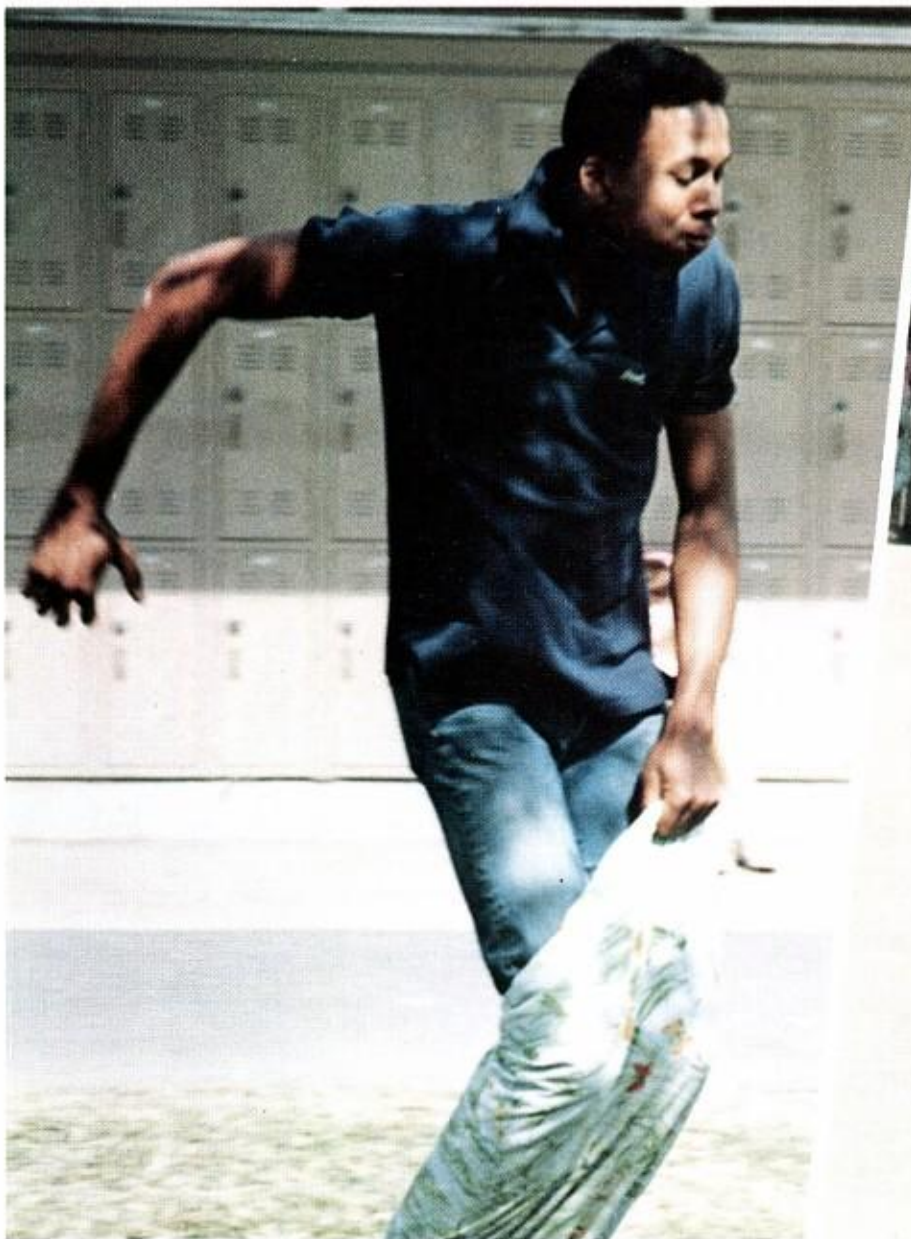

The Howdy kicked off another great school year and helped the freshmen get acquainted with the rest of the student body.

Mike Moss, from Sound Dimensions, supplied a variety in style of music. Most were upbeat songs, allowing the kids to really show their "stuff" on the dance floor. One of our Goon Squad members, David Linker went out of his way to parade his talents to amused onlookers.

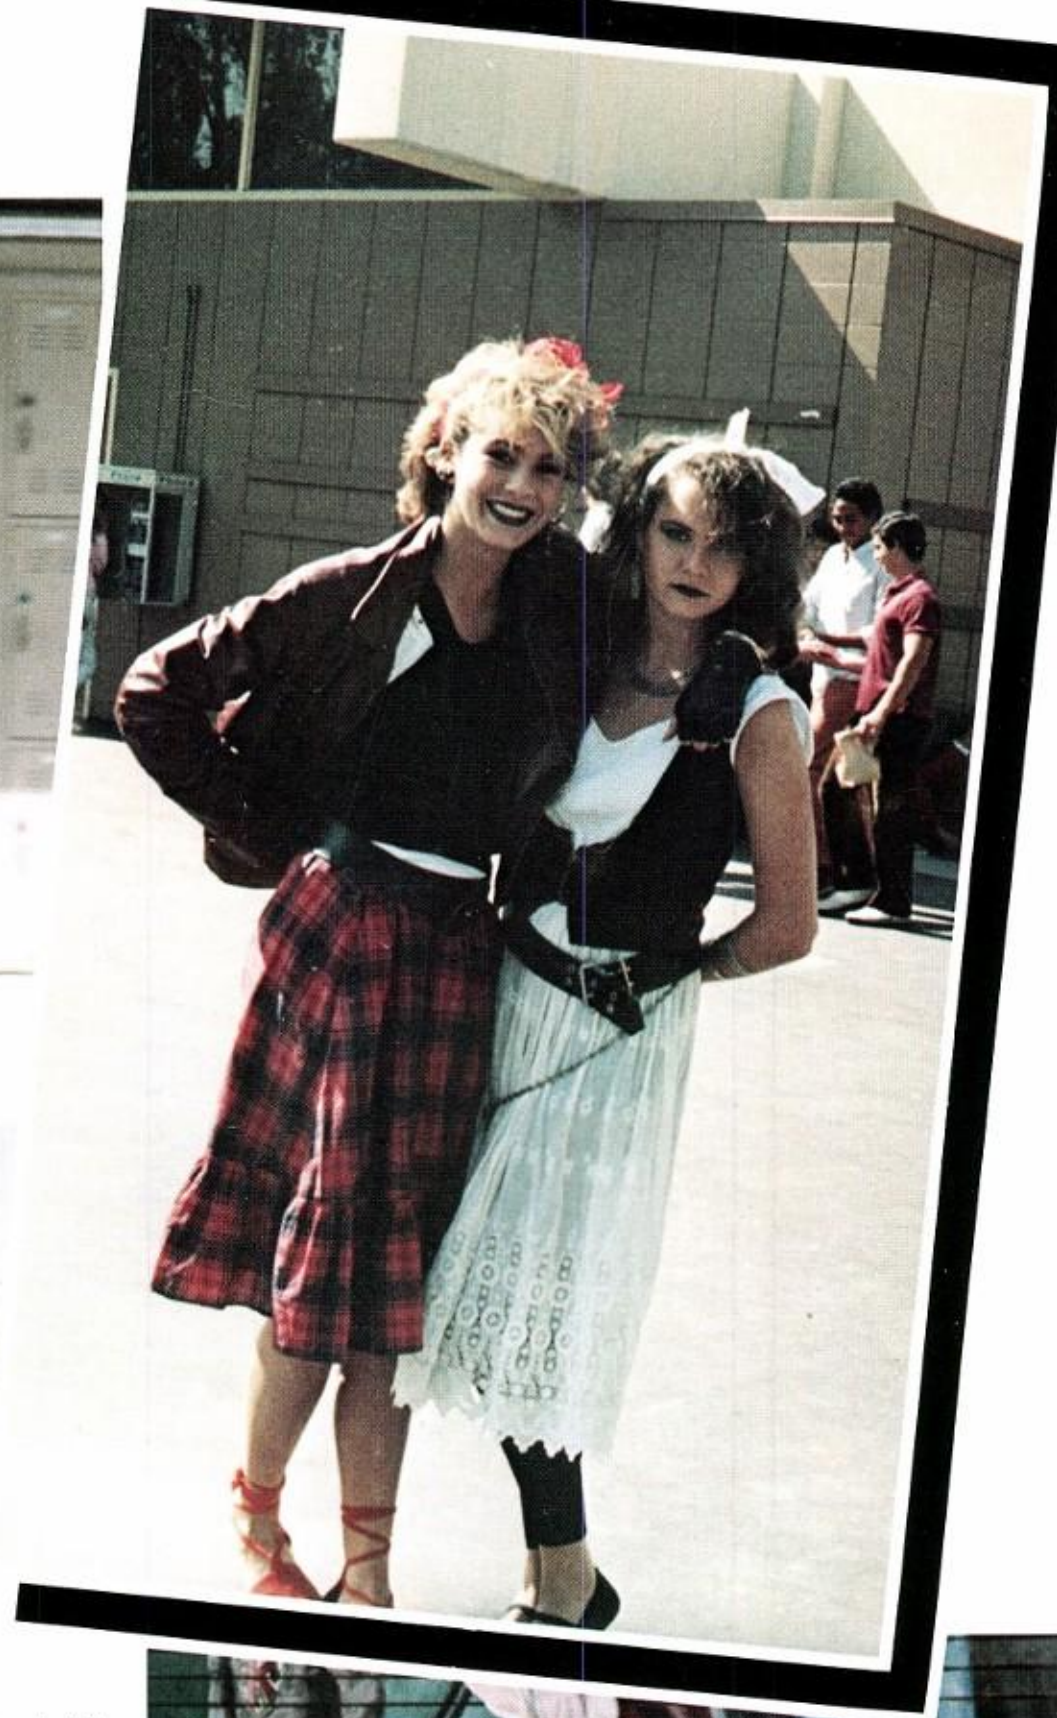

With crazy dancers, excruciating heat, and support from the Song and Cheer, the Howdy sizzled in more ways than one.

Spirit Week Sparks Students Imagination

From Mickey Mouse To Echo and The Bunnymen

“Compared to last year’s Spirit Week, this year we had original ideas and more people got involved,” said Charlotte Russell. ASB organized the dress-up days and lunchtime activities to celebrate the Homecoming this year. The week commenced with character T-shirt Day. Mickey Mouse, Batman and Robin . . . and even a rainbow wig (?) were seen on campus. Everyone gathered together to watch the banana race at lunch. On Tuesday, students modeled their punk, new ro, and neon looks at the fasion show at lunch of Trendy Day. Fame struck Katella on Wednesday — Star Look-alike Day. Personalities such as Tina Turner, Cindy Lauper, and even Michael Jackson were spotted around campus that day. At lunch we were entertained with a concert at which the Monkees and Echo and the Bunnymen performed. Roman Day, although a better name for it would have been Toga Day, was also a success. Sporting sheets and olive leaves, these twentieth-century Romans competed in “chariot races” during lunch. Friday was the traditional Colors Day and school spirit continued to rise. Sounds of enthusiasm filled the gym at the Homecoming assembly. Former song and cheerleaders, drill team captains and other alumni returned to celebrate this year’s Homecoming with us.

After watching their team play a rough first half against Esperanza, the number one team in the Empire league, the Katella Knights were anxious to discover who their homecoming King and Queen would be. The half-time ceremony began with a unique performance from the Band and Drill Team. Then, transported by Packards supplied by the ASB Cabinet, the entire court circled the field beginning with freshmen Danny Briggs and Rhonda Beaudoin. Next came sophomores Brian Buchanan and Kristi Hooker, and then were the juniors, Wayne Petrakis and Sandy Weildon. Last but certainly not least the senior court, consisting of the following: Ricky Duran, Halle MacDonald, John Paboojian, Kathy Kurtz, Steve Trull and Julie Schultz. They then proceeded down the fifty yard line, accompanied by their proud parents. At last the moment everyone was waiting for.

The homecoming King and Queen for 1984 were Steve Trull and Halle MacDonald. Immediately the Queen's name was lit up in lights, much to the surprise of the spectators. "It was the most exciting thing in my life," said Halle. Remarkably enough, Halle is the third royal subject in her family. Thanks to the planning of the ASB and Mr. Norm Fried, the half-time ceremonies sparked up most everyone's evening.

SHARING THE NIGHT TOGETHER

"The Magnolia Room was one of the best places to hold the Homecoming. It was big with plenty of room to dance." This was the review given by Senior Lori Davis who, along with many others were pleased with the choice of location. The Magnolia Room, of course, is located on the second floor of the Disneyland hotel.

The Homecoming was held on October 20, 1984 and turned out to be a lively occasion. Our 350 students attended this one night experience and approximately twenty alumni reunited with old friends to "party-it-up!"

Scotty McKay DJ'd the dance with continuous requests, some of which couldn't even be played due to lack of time.

The ASB Senior cabinet did a great job in putting this particular dance together. They even picked up the tab for everyone who parked in the hotel's lot.

"It was a break-even deal, we didn't lose money but we didn't profit," added Mr. Fried, "even though, I was very pleased with the outcome. It was well worth it."

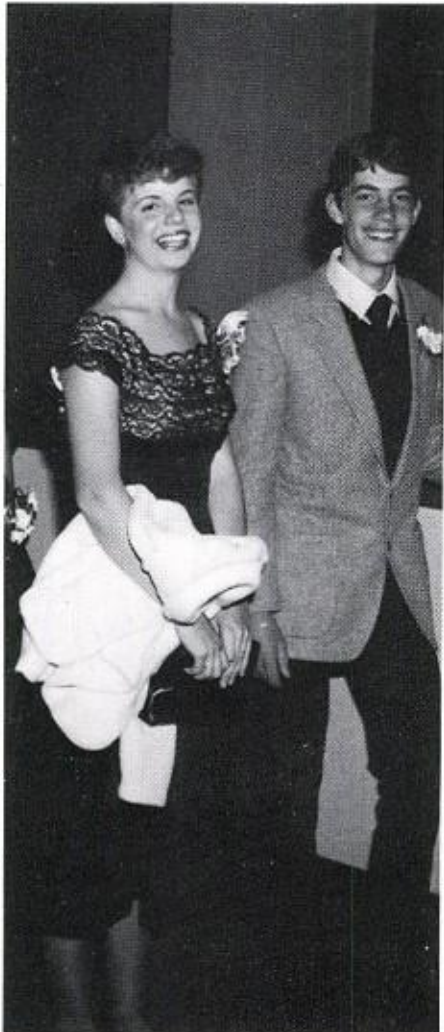

With the laughter between friends and an added spice of romance for a few, "Sharing the Knight Together," was indeed, an appropriate theme.

Cliff Winterbottom, Marianne Frizell, Jessica Wilken, and John Ocampa have fun just watching people dance.

Georgia Ypma and escort, Steve Stechschulte, seem happy to be there.

Students Unite for a Good Cause.

During the weeks of April 15th through the 26th, Katella students raised an incredible 3500 dollars. "Although the goal of $5000 was not reached, the United Way fund drive was still a great success," said Diane Hornsby, Secretary of Student Affairs.

The competition among the first period classes brought in the larger percentage of the money, with Mr. Coy's class bringing in a remarkable 1500 dollars. The dunk tank also added to the goal. At only 25¢ a throw, many students participated in this lunch-time activity. Other activities included the jello dunk, the chocolate-banana feed, and the balloon toss. The contributors also got a chance to guess the numbers of candy in a jar at 25¢ a guess. This also added to the total. Ian Donnelly won this competition.

Also included in the weeks were dress-up days, such as triplets day and pajama day. A slave sale also took place raising even more money to put towards the goal. The students even got involved in a tug-o-war, which the juniors won.

It was exciting to see the Katella student body become involved with something that meant helping other people not so well off as themselves. Perhaps next year Katella will raise $5000, and Dr. Escoe will shave his head when the goal is reached. In the meantime, good job Katella! You should be proud of your accomplishment.

Ka-Hi Assemblies In Good Cheer

Once in a while, everyone enjoys a break from their everyday routine at school. A chance to get together with friends and maybe act a little rowdy. That's what assemblies are all about. That's the time when the entire student body can come together and show their school spirit.

This year we had some new and different kinds of assemblies along with the old traditional ones. Freshmen were welcomed at the Howdy Assembly, which kicked off the school year. Following the Howdy Assembly was the Homecoming Assembly, an all time favorite. Former cheerleaders, songleaders, mascots, and drill team leaders along with other alumni joined us in this celebration. Another traditional one is the Holiday Assembly. Drill team's dancing elves and a visit from Santa Claus ignited the spirit of the season. In January, Cary Trivanovich, a mime, came to Katella to demonstrate his fascinating skill. A new assembly this year was the Dating Game. This T.V. take-off generated many laughs from the student body. The year ended with the Senior Good-Bye Assembly. A fun and carefree gathering wishing good-luck to the departing Seniors.

In conclusion, assemblies unite the student bodies and raise the spirit and pride we have for our school.

THE DATING GAME

During the past school year, Katella saw one tradition start from scratch and another continue on nobly. Both involved heavy student participation to be successes.

New was the "Dating Game" assembly held in the gym in front of the entire student body. The mood was completely set on Valentine's Day with background scenery and music taken from the infamous television show of the same name. Matt Post was chosen by a girl from Valencia over Tony Ruiz and Joey Novelich, and Diane Hornsby was chosen by the ASB President from St. John Bosco over Monique Kragten and Pernille Schiellerup.

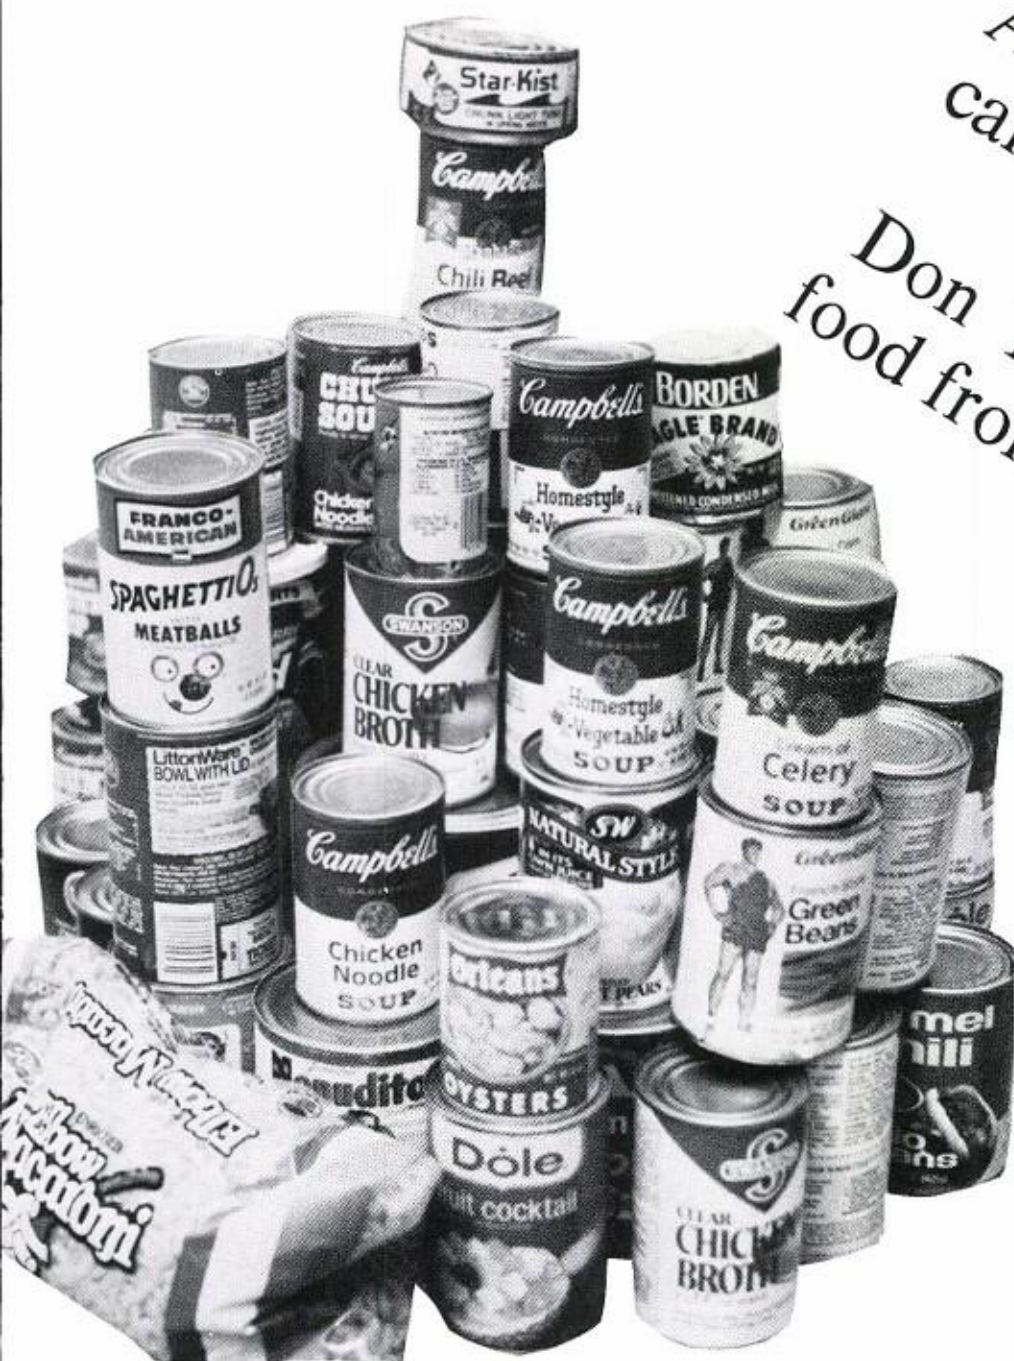

Old was the continuing tradition of the canned food drive. Katella students showed their generosity by giving over one ton worth of food to the orphanage in Tecate, Mexico. So much food was given by the students that there was enough to give to the Euclid Street Baptist Church, which distributes food to the needy in our area.

One new tradition. One old tradition. Both were great successes in 1984-85, and both will continue onward into the future of Katella.

Sadies goes without a hitch!

March 23 was this year's date for the exciting and traditional Katella Sadie Hawkins dance. As usual, the hoe-down was held at Knotts Berry Farm, from 5 to 10 p.m. Many couples turned out for this semi-casual dance, sporting many unique & interesting threads. Overalls, Levi's, and the ever-popular western plaid shirts were seen as well as tank tops, baggy pants, and bright colors.

A traditional chuck-wagon dinner was included with the cost of the tickets. It was served from 6 to 8 so that both early birds and late comers could enjoy the dinner, which consisted of a barbeque and Knott's famous boysenberry pie.

After the filling dinner, couples had a chance to work it off with vigorous dancing. Music was provided by the DJ and his crew. Everything from The Vandals to The Time was played, including student requests. In addition, special effects made the dance unique, with curling smoke and flashing lights.

Pseudomarriages were performed by the Rabbi Fried and many couples were hitched, even with brussel sprouts for a bouquet.

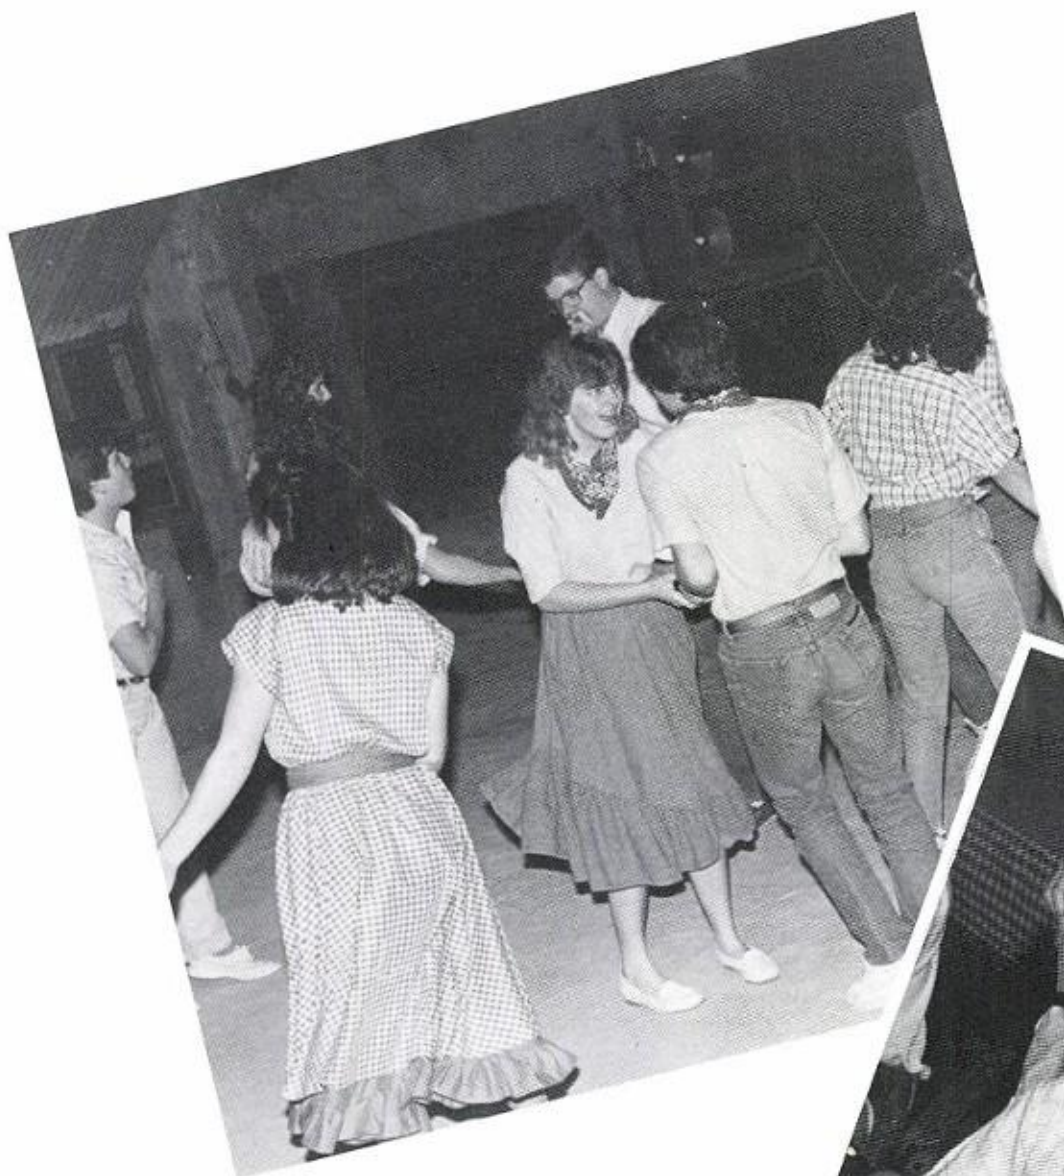

"It was the best dance I've ever been to," was Denise Knight's ecstatic reaction to this event. The sophomores obviously did a super job in planning the dance, and once again, a Katella tradition was carried on.

■ Gabi Jimenez and special friend caught in a light-hearted embrace.

■ Sadie's boyfriend, Herman, shows up for this exciting Katella tradition.

■ Lynn Davenport beams while being honorably recognized.

Awards For All Seasons

All of us will remember the balmy evening of Awards Night on June 5, 1985, when students, faculty and proud parents gathered for the presentations. Dr. Escoe opened the evening with a welcome and then Mr. Farrer added a few words of his own. Then on with the awards. The first awards were given to those outstanding students in each department. Recognition was given to the Gold Seal Bearers and Academic Honors. All were then presented with this year's Valedictorian, Sandra Mathews, and Salutatorians, Angela Huisman, Halle MacDonald, Theresa Manly, and Clara Saucedo. More honors and recognitions were made to those students who won scholarships and grants. Our own Dr. Escoe was presented with an award on achieving his Doctorate! Despite the heat, all that were involved felt it was a gratifying evening.

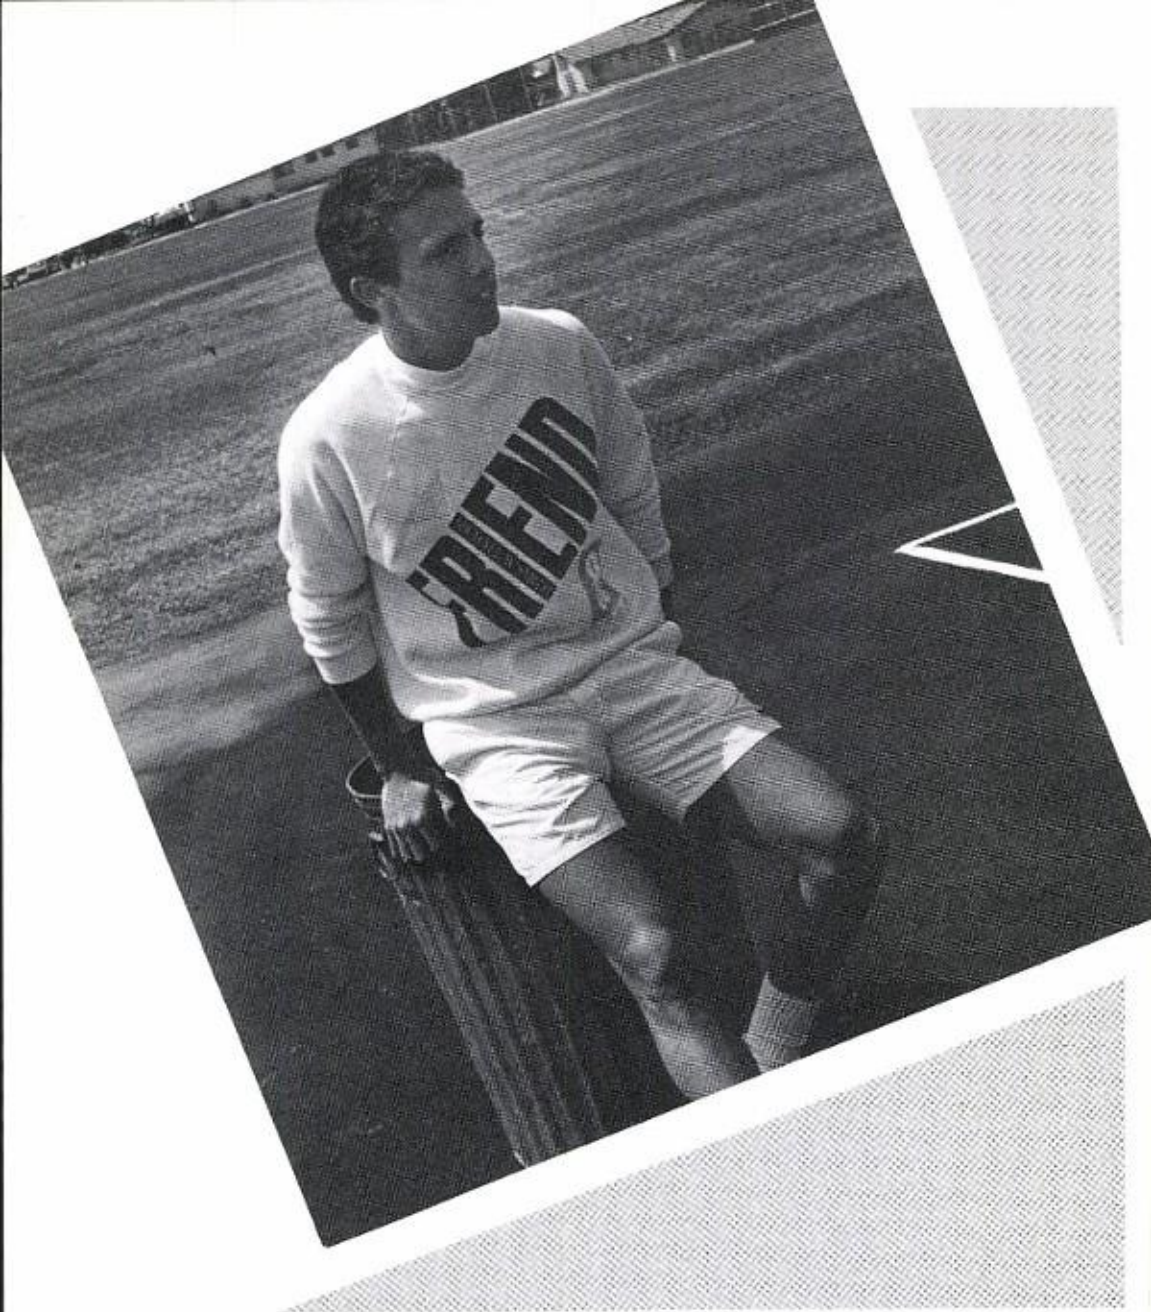

■ Dr. Escoe is happily surprised at his award for receiving his Doctorate this year.

■ Valedictorian, Sandra Mathews, accepts her medal.

■ Gold Seal Bearers are presented with their awards.

Senior Class of 85 Say Farewell

On Friday, May 31, 1985, the Senior class gathered together in the Little Theater and on the athletic field to pat each other on the back for surviving 12 years (13 if one went to kindergarten) of formal education.

First on the agenda was the Senior assembly, which featured performances by the songleaders, drill team, a group called "Feedback", and a Rodney Dangerfield impersonator. The highlight of this otherwise drab get together was Jim Devore's hilarious conversation with J.R., his Speak'n'Spell.

Then it was over to have a picture of the class taken, then out to the basketball courts where the seniors ate their own weight in hamburgers and soft drinks.

On Thursday, June 13th, 1985, the class of '85 once again gathered together. This time it was mere hours before graduation at the Phoenix Club where the Senior Breakfast, otherwise known as the last informal get together, took place.

It was both a happy and melancholy occasion as friends met for what might be the last time.

When it finally came to an end, the students hesitated in leaving one another. They knew that in a few mere hours they would graduate into a new life, leaving high school behind, making their moments together that much more precious.

■ Albert Rangel "kicks-back" after a filling lunch of hamburgers and potato chips.

■ Mr. Escoe gives service with a little more than a smile to Karen Divine.

■ Eileen Givens and Martha Rios are happy to have a free day off from school.

■ Ashik Patel receives the award for "most likely to succeed".

■ Dennis and Dan Brunet "the cutest couple" share the award.

■ Tammy Delatorre, Dina Gallerina, David Ferrone, and Angel Macios enjoy their senior breakfast.

■ Seniors Kristy Faircloth and Colette Yates reflect on the past year.

The California Plaza, where the junior-senior prom was held, provided a romantic garden setting and conveniently happened to be next door to Movieland Wax Museum. Each person received a ticket to go through the tour free that night.

"Just One More Night" was the theme of the dance and how appropriate. The theme was taken from Phil Collins' top ten hit and was played as the Prom king and queen shared the spotlight on the dance floor. Who was this handsome couple? Shawn Donnely and Monique Kragten, chosen by their fellow classmates. As the song went on, couples proceeded to join in.

The atmosphere was filled with good cheer as the girls complimented each other on their dresses, while the guys talked about how much they devored during dinner.

This dance was superior to others this year due to the fact that most people stayed until the end of the dance. Cheryl Wright expressed that "It was the best formal dance this year." As each couple left the dance they received a gift from the junior class, a 5x7 picture frame, which was a nice touch to end such an enchanted evening.

■ Arm in Arm, these chums, Kim Davini and Stacey Tokagi, sing to the music.

■ Despite everything, Jim Hardy and Kelly Ford arrived at the dance in high spirits.

■ Shawn Donnely and Monique Kragten lead the dance to "Just One More Night."

■ Sheri Rossini, Collett Yates, and dates share the evening together.

■ Having a pleasant chat are Karyn Hess and Karilyn Fisher.

Powder Puff Pulled Off

Girls boasting football jerseys and guys bobbing up and down in short skirts and spirited sweaters. Sound a bit bizarre? Well, on November 30, this was the scene celebrating the juniors and seniors Powder Puff game. To point out an interesting fact, this year's game was the first to succeed in three years, despite the efforts made in the past.

The teams began working out two weeks prior to the game. The basics of football such as holding and clipping were taught by each of the team's own staff of coaches.

The day of the game, a pep assembly was held at the amphitheater. It was here that the enthusiastic cheerleaders performed to support their teams. According to their class they called themselves the "Jammin' Juniors" and "Sooo . . . Seniors" football teams.

The two weeks of training were put to the test that afternoon at 3:00 when the game commenced. Half-time came but the score steadfast at 0-0. It was in the third quarter that the "Jammin' Juniors" made an interception return and a two-point conversion! The "Sooo . . . Seniors" failed to gain from the chance given to them during the fourth quarter, so the conquest fell to the side of the "Jammin' Juniors."

Powder Puff was indeed a win for all who were involved. It was ASB who deserved the credit for pulling this one off and now everyone is convinced that Powder Puff will thrive for years to come.

■ A swift Linda Stotereau eludes her vicious opponents.

Ghosts Haunt Katella

To celebrate Halloween dress-up day, the Katella campus was flourished by Goblins, Ghouls, witches and devils. They were, of course, the student body who showed just how original they could get. There were lunch-time activities for those who wanted to get in the "spirit" of things and there were prizes given to those with the best costume.

Ghosts and Goblins appear for the occasion.

Tuxedos and Gowns Bedeck 'A Winter's Rose'

What seemed to be a chilling winter was warmed with one of the most charming and elegant dances; The Winter Formal.

It was held at the Diamond Bar Country Club on January 19, 1985. Many of the student body attended anticipating a glamorous evening. Couples were dressed for the occasion. The girls with their exquisite gowns, the boys dressed in formal tuxedos.

Groups sat at white covered tables each centered with a single rose symbolizing the dance's theme: A Winter's Rose.

The music was supplied by a live band called the "Instigators." "They performed well although more slow songs should have been played," commented Dan Brunet. Having a live band play at a formal dance was quite a change from having a D.J. It was an experiment that turned out well.

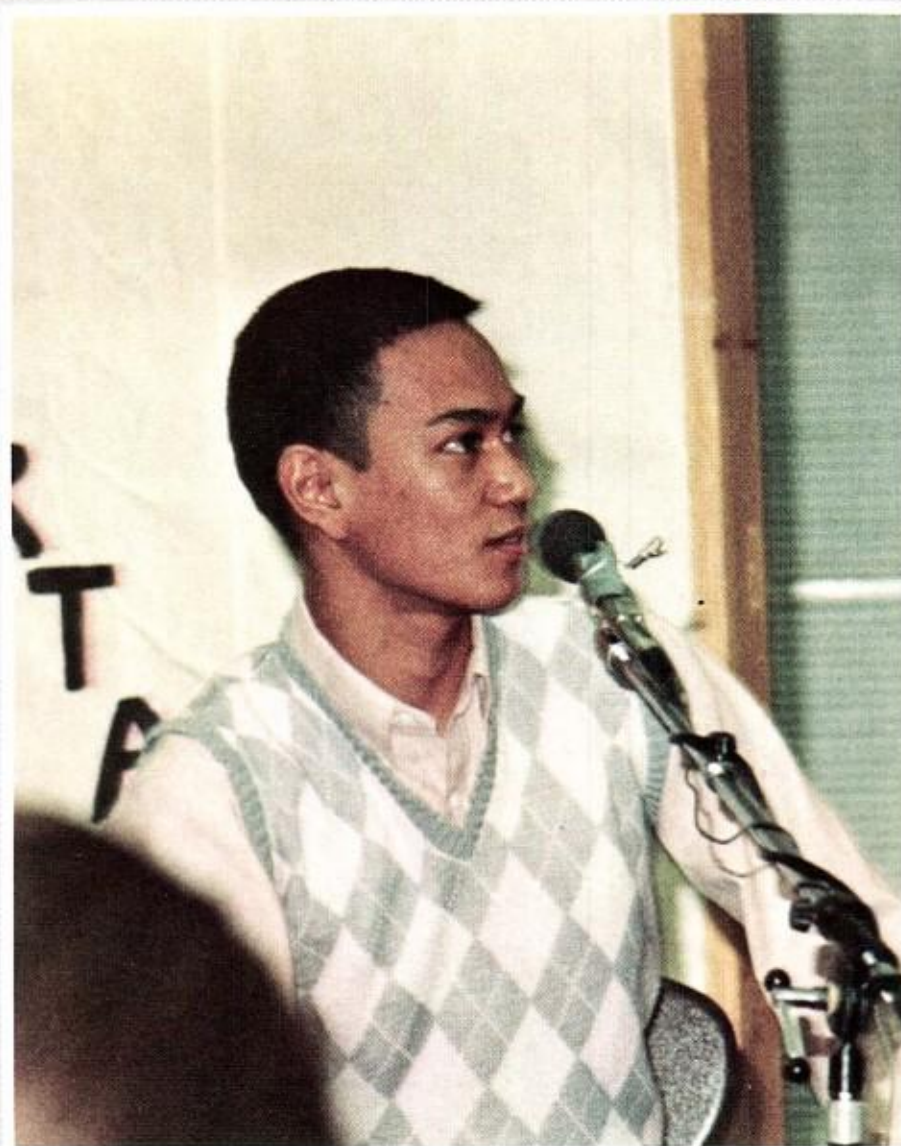

Frosh Dethrone Jrs. & Srs. to Become "King of the Hill"

What political leader said, "I forgot to duck, honey."? That's one of the many questions in the game of Trivial Pursuit. On Friday, November 16, 1984, what began with 28 teams ended up with just two. Burns' Unbalanced Forces and Mizer's Macho Men Plus One were the remaining teams left to battle it out in the Katella gym.

Mr. Werschke, Mr. Fried, and Carla Trease devised their own version of the popular board game that has been sweeping the country. Each first period class was represented by three to six selected students. A flip of the coin decided which team would throw the die first. The die determined one of the six categories. After the question was read, each team had fifteen seconds to answer the question correctly and earn one point.

The crowded gym was buzzing with excitement that day and television cameras were everywhere. The mediator, Mr. Dick Werschke, introduced Mr. Burns' Unbalanced Forces and Mrs. Mizer's Macho Men Plus One. The game started and Burns' Unbalanced Forces answered eleven straight in a row, and half-time they led 18-4. With 4:26 remaining, Mizer made a miraculous comeback. In the last thirty seconds, the score was 18-25, but time ran out for Burns' Unbalanced Forces. With a final score of 20-25, Mizer's Macho Men Plus One became "King of the Hill."

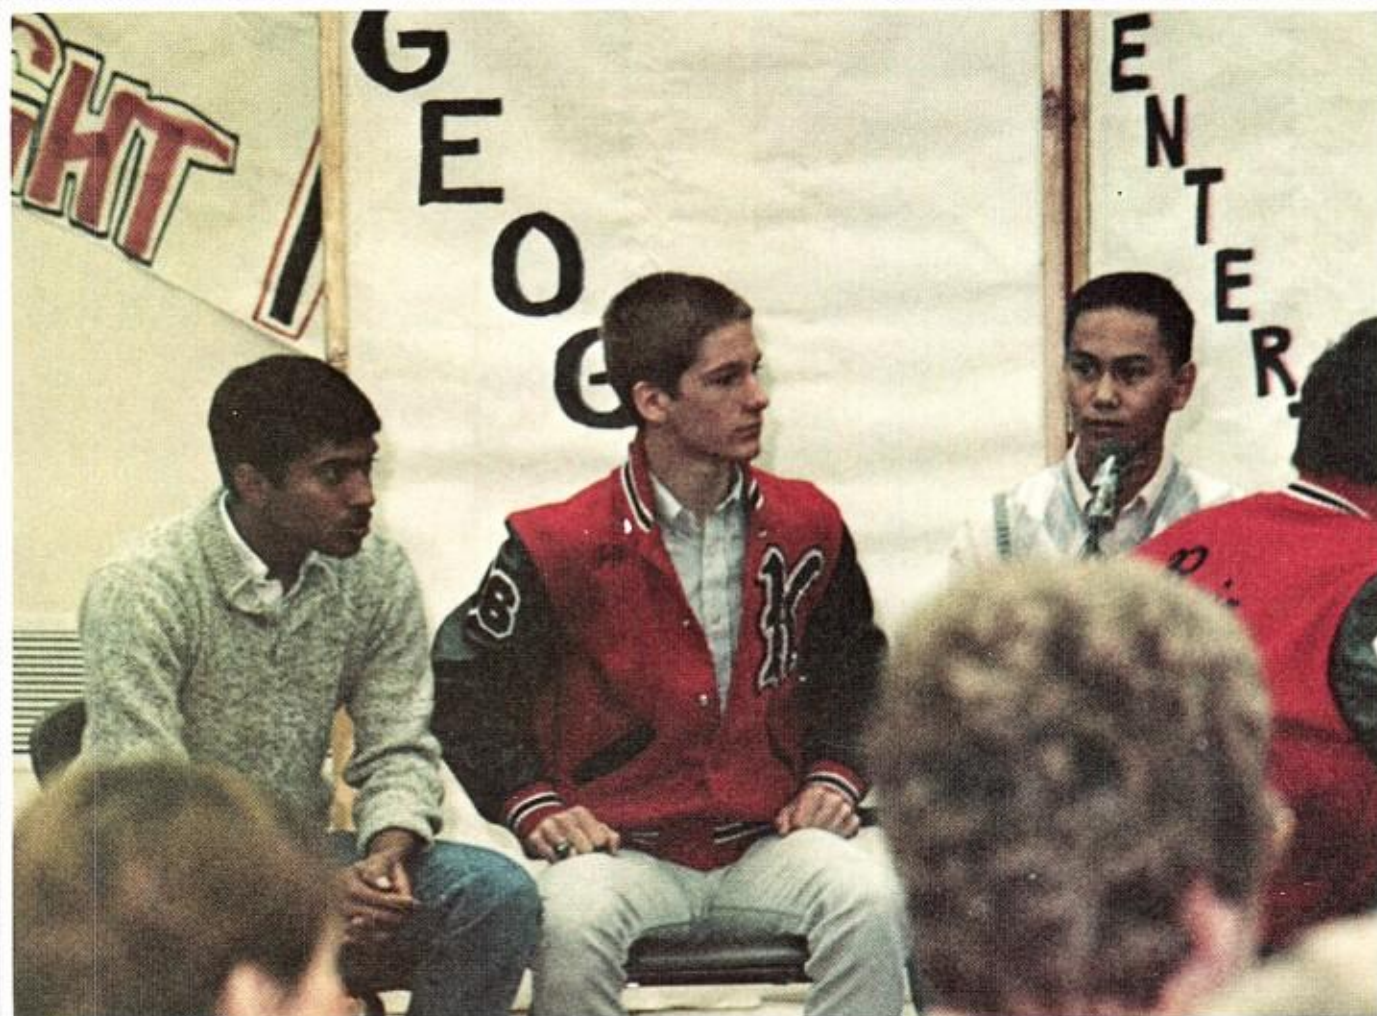

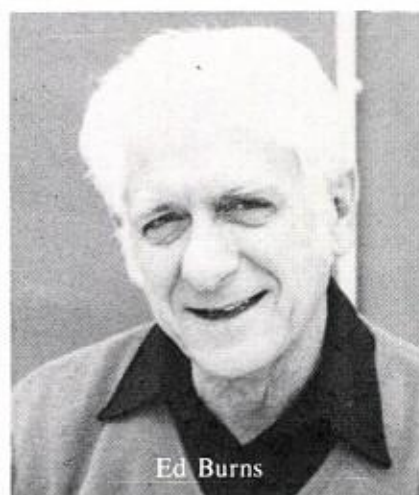

Steve Pagaduan forces his wheels to turn.

Burns' Unbalanced Forces look puzzled by the last question.

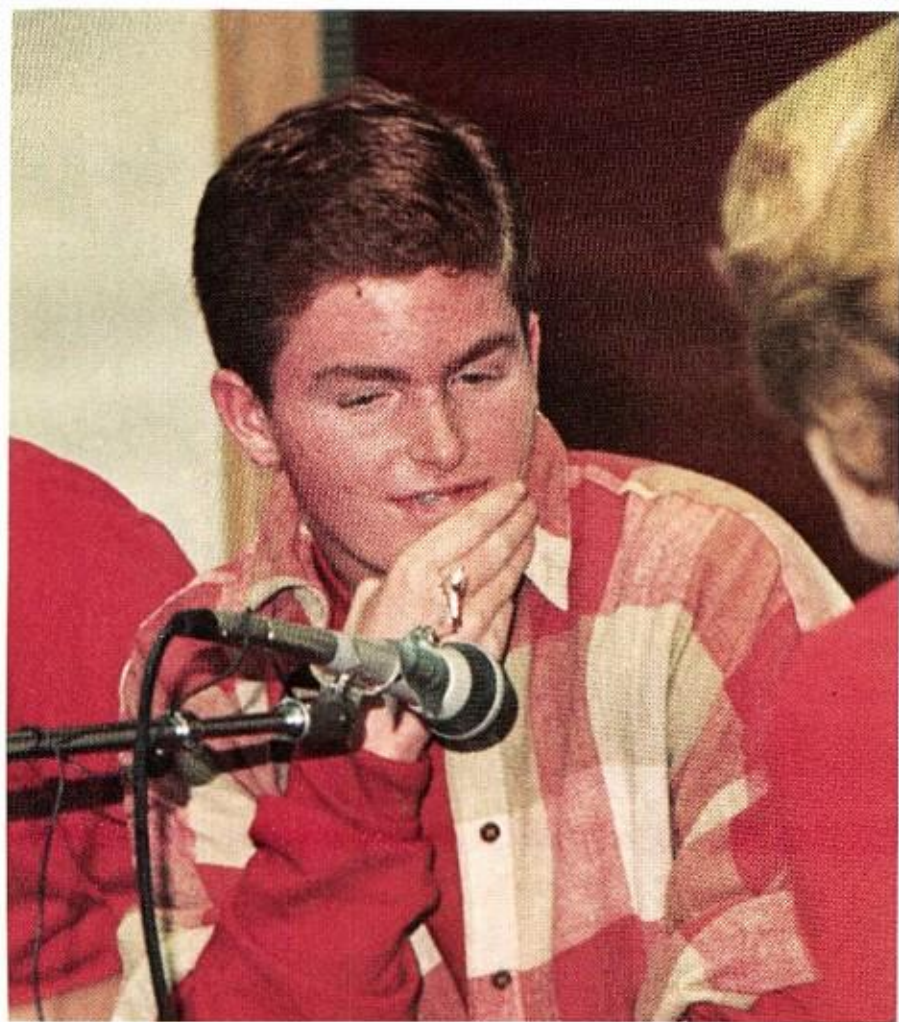

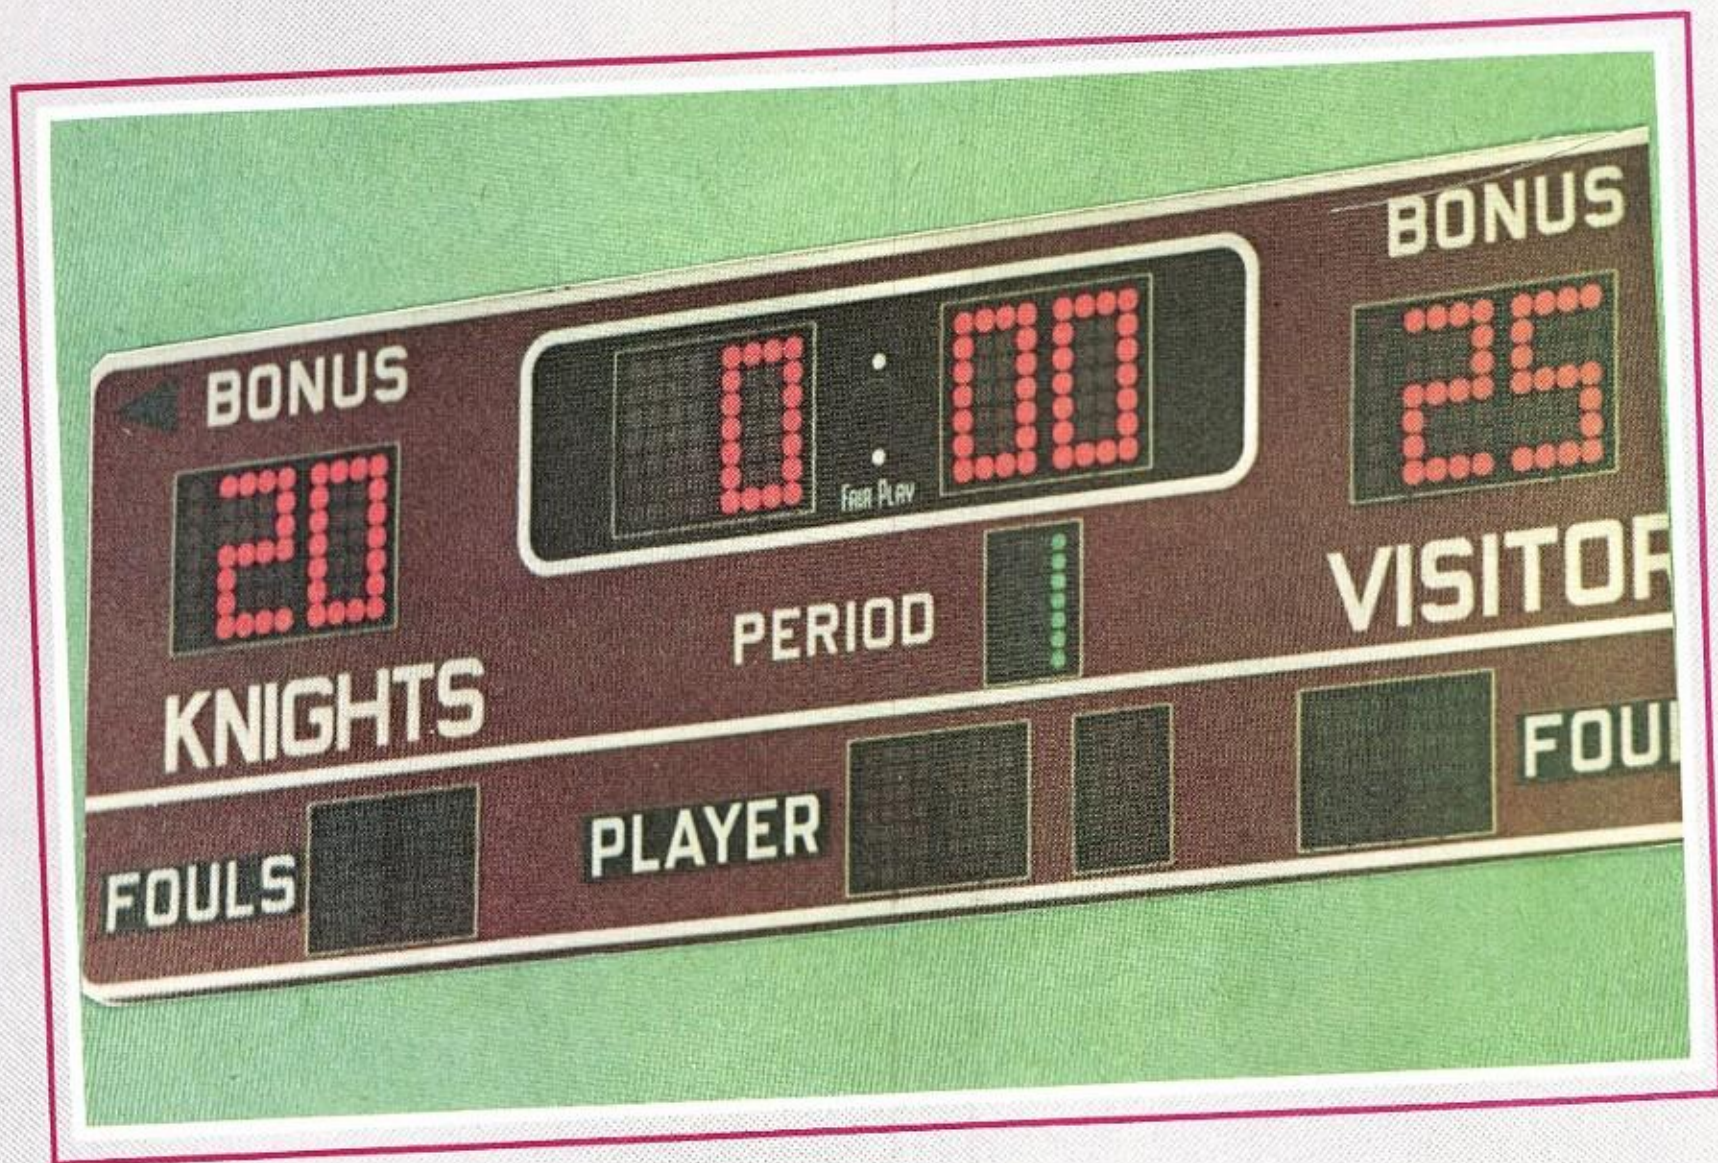

The scoreboard shows off the final outcome of the competition.

Kirk Hoiberg ponders over his teammate's answer before time runs out.

Mr. Dick Werschke wonders how he ever got into this mess.

WHAT IS TWO ALL BEEF PATTIES, SPECIAL SAUCE, LETTUCE, CHEESE, PICKLES, ONIONS ON A SESAME SEED BUN? . . . BIG MAC
WHAT'S MICKEY MOUSE'S PET'S NAME? . . . PLUTO

Look in the closet and what is seen? Well that question has a wide variety of answers.

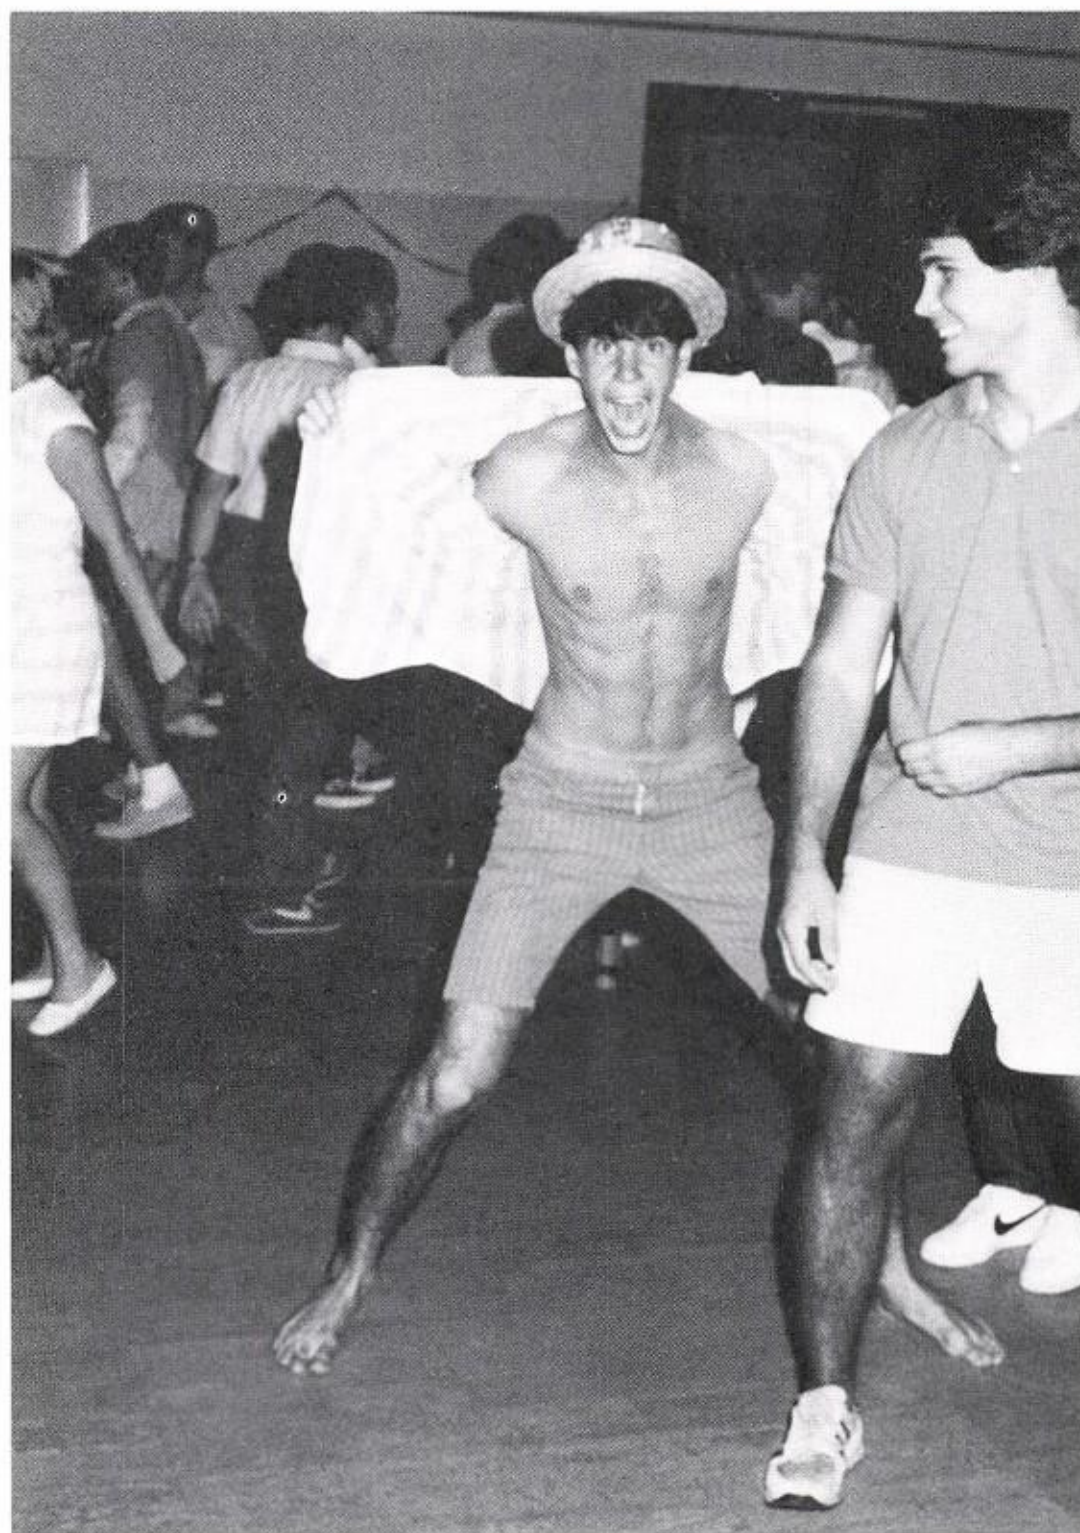

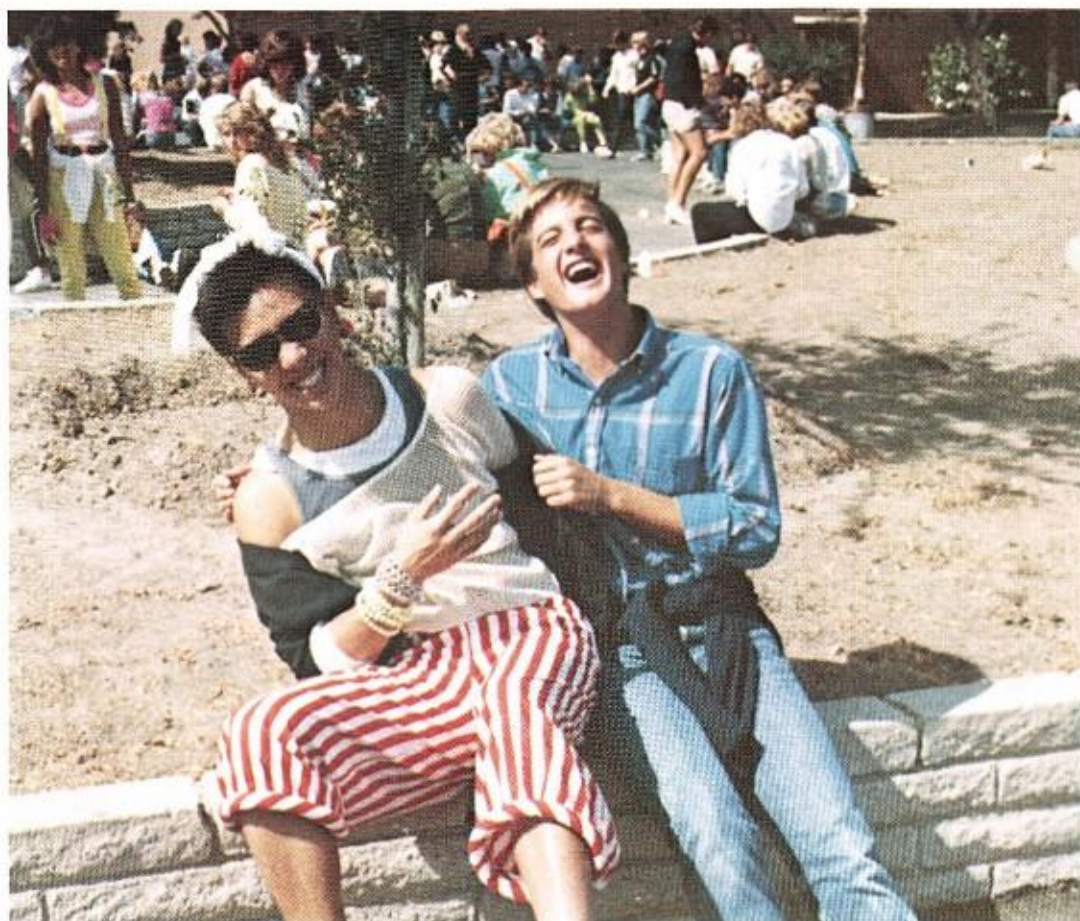

There are so many different styles, colors, patterns and tastes in this world today and they all bring out the characters of the individual person who displays them.

Styles range from the radical punker to the conservative preppy — from spiked blue hair to a blunt one length cut.

Styles reflect many things. Music is a major manifestation of the way we dress, such as New Ro's, Heavy metal, New Wave, and Punk. Music brings friends together. Where would we be if we didn't have friends? This world would really be an empty place.

Friends also bring out the fashions that we wear, usually if you see something new on someone you want to try it, then everybody's wearing it. High school is a place where you learn, but you also spend time with your friends.

Music and fashion can also bring couples together. You could meet your future boyfriend/girlfriend at a concert, or just by the way you dress. After all friends, music, and fashion make the world a better place in which to live.

■ With her wardrobe just out of Vogue, Carla Trease spends time telling friends about her fabulous clothes.

■ While decorating the school for Color's Day, Halle MacDonald and Crystal Lewis got a little drenched by all the excitement.

■ Junior Vida Powers gives friend, Maria Ippolito, a warm "bear" hug.

FASHION

At Katella High School there are several styles to dress, such as: Ska, mod, punk, rocabilly, preppy, heavy metal, surfer, and new wavers to name a few. As you roam around Katella's campus, you will come upon students who represent these styles. Nearly everyone is put into a category according to their individual taste. As you stroll, you will see Steve Beacroft with his parka and perfectly flat flattop. As you continue, you may run into Gina Womack. You will know her when you see her because she'll be the one dressed like yo mama used to dress. Today, it's called the "Mod" way to dress. If you come across someone with furry pants and a nose ring, it's probably Andy Hamer. Laura Gensing is a rockabilly with her hair pomped high, a jean jacket and a hoop skirt. Matt Vargo, Halle MacDonald, and Joyce Butterfield dress nicely. The style they prefer is preppy. Jeff Massmeyer and Ray Barbeyo dress the heavy metal style with cropped hair and rock T-shirts. Some of the surfers you might see are Jerome Nellesen, Paul Brown, and Sean Foreman. They'll be the ones with the "Maui and Sons" shirts and "Rip Curl" clothing.

Laura Gensing, when asked why she dresses the way she does replied, "Because it's what I like and I don't look like everyone else. I like to buy my clothes in Hollywood, Penny Lane, Gasoline Alley, Attics Delights, etc."

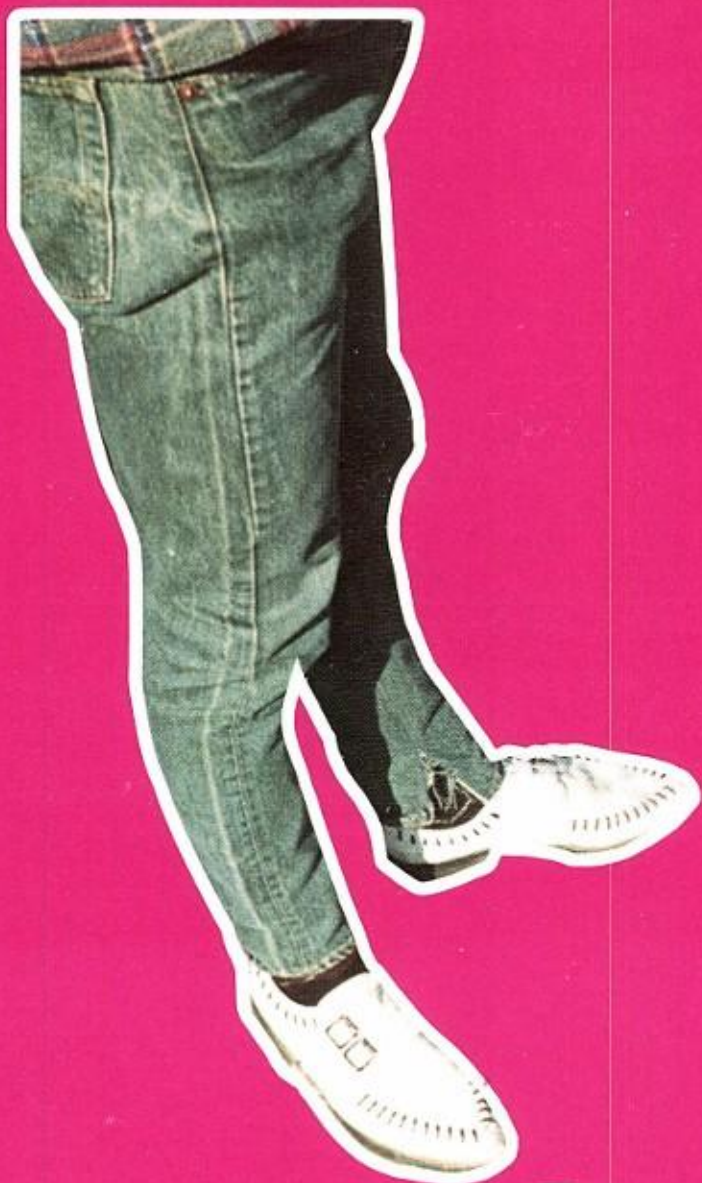

Joyce Butterfield said, "I like a preppy style because I feel the way I dress is traditional and not a fad. Traditional clothing will always be 'in.' I like to shop at Fashion Island and South Coast Plaza because it has stores like Duck and Co., At Ease, Red Balloon, and my favorite store is Nordstroms."

Andy Hamer dresses the way he does — a punk style, because he says he's supporting a sub-culture that deviates from mainstream fashion. He says he shops for most of his clothes at thrift stores.

Among the other styles on campus, another popular thing this year is hair "ratting" — tangling your hair and teasing it as high as it will possibly "stretch!" Melissa Sullivan and Kim Davini must go through an entire case of hair spray in one week! It's really wild lookin! I would probably put them under the category of "Siouxsie" freaks!

Most people at Katella dress according to what they're comfortable in, however, it's hard to imagine being comfortable in combat boots, blue hair, or a ton of hair spray on your hair. Oh well, to each his own!

■ Junior Anh Phan displays a fashionable design on her snow white sweatshirt.

■ Showing the latest in eyewear is junior Matt Borden.

■ A trendy look for the hair is displayed by senior Brian Feutz.

■ Andy Hamer shows the newest exotic leg wear, a style that only a punker can wear.

■ "Did you get a load of the way she is dressed," exclaims Jim Devore about junior Jennifer Buxton.

■ Although one is a junior and the other a sophomore, Carrie Rader and Heather Martins don't mind being together.

Ann San Mateo, Earl Boberg, Linda Stotereau, Ed Partch, Greg Dang, and Rosa Reyes show the style of clothes that they prefer on Halloween.

Foreign exchange student Pernille Schiellerup and senior Myrna Barker share an international friendship.

It looks like Tom and Jerry have finally become friends at last.

One will find one thing that binds together the youth of today: Music. Music has a definite influence on the adolescent society of the United States, England and Japan.

One aspect of music is the major impact on fashion. Madonna, Michael Jackson, Cyndi Lauper and Prince have all participated in creating new fashion trends. Large amounts of jewelry, colorful tank tops, gloves, neon and lace clothing have all been new styles for teens, influenced mainly by their favorite rock star.

Not only is the music itself an important part of our life, but the actual live performance of the artist can create a delirious effect on thousands. Whether it's going to see a four hour Bruce Springsteen concert, paying over forty dollars for a Jacksons and Prince ticket or waiting overnight at the ticketron outlet hoping to get a Depeche Mode ticket before there's another 13 minute sell out, we all seem to go to the extreme.

If one wants to be "Mommy's Little Monster," "Relaxed" or a "Head Banger," it's the message the particular group brings forth we enjoy. Punk Rock, Heavy Metal and Pop music present in their lyrics what they believe, and this in return influences our way of life and attitude.

Unfortunately this brings forth a sense of rivalry and disagreement among teens and often our world is more isolated and smaller. However, some of the stars themselves are willing to come together to be one, as with the super group Band-Aid.

Band-Aid is a prime example of how music can cut across the ethnic and cultural barriers. This group consists of the vocal talents of such English groups as Duran Duran, Culture Club, Spandau Ballet, Wham and Bananarama as well as other top artists from the British music scene. The sales of this recording have generated over 10 million dollars to help relieve the famine in Ethiopia. The record is called, "Do They Know It's Christmas?" And is an important example of competing groups getting together for a good cause. Music is not just a form of entertainment, but is also a definite, positive factor of cooperation and a way to spread the message of peace throughout the world.

■ Freshman Justin Post gets into the beat of things wearing a traditional preppy style outfit.

■ Gaining incredible popularity this year was Madonna, by setting new trends and fads in the clothing world.

■ Musical duo Daryl Hall and John Oates continue with their success over the many years they have been performing together.

■ Taking America by storm with his "Born in the U.S.A." tour was none other than Bruce Springsteen.

There are people who, during the 1984-85 school year, organized into small and large groups that marched forward toward a common goal that may or may not have been reached during the almost ten months of school that passed. Even more is the fact that some of the people gave their time, effort and resources to try and better themselves and the people within the organization they belonged to.

Their groups set out to help others, maybe provide entertainment for others, or maybe just to have fun. The groups met at lunch time, after school, before school and sometimes even on weekends. What different groups talked about during these meetings is basically unknown, but it is safe to say there was no malicious intent from any of them.

The basic age of these people was between 14 and 18, the group more commonly known as high school teenagers.

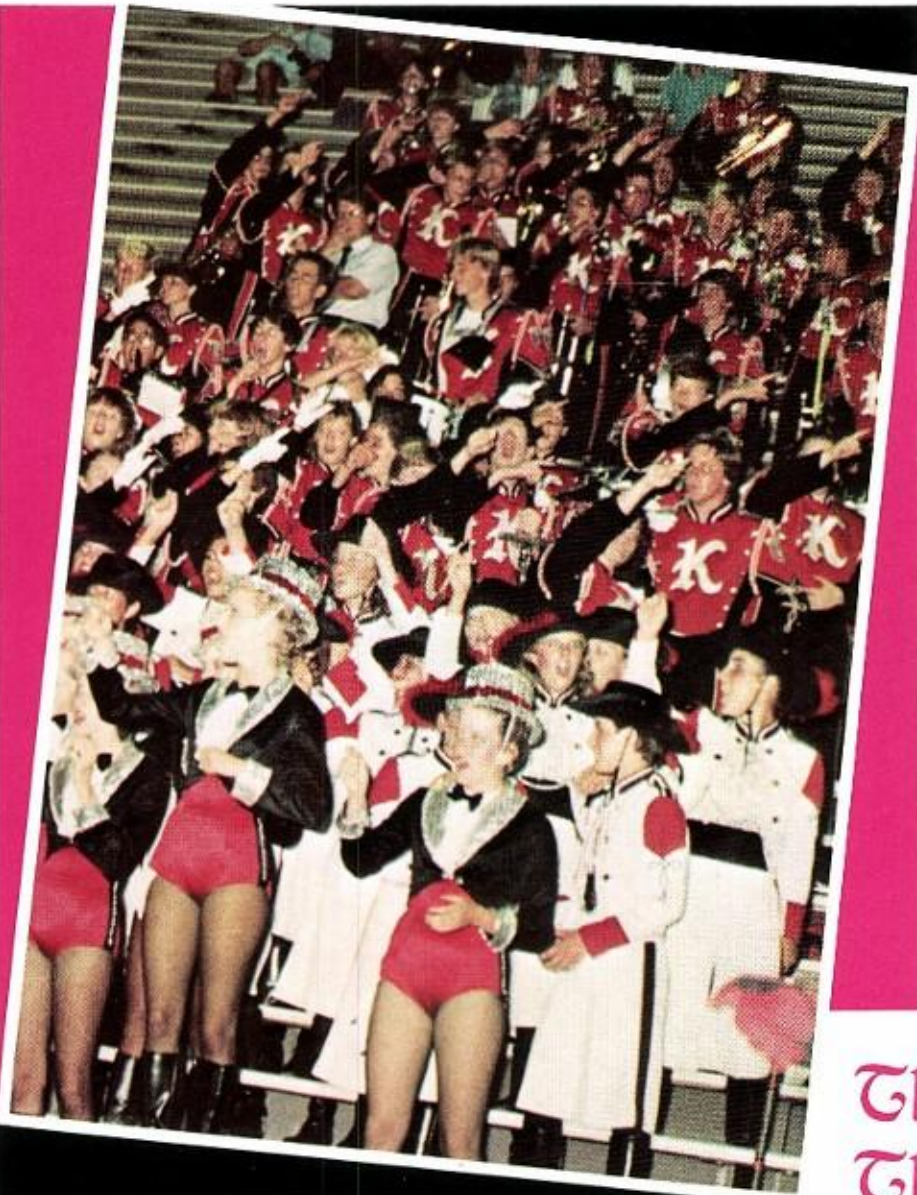

Together they made up a unique combination. It has been said that they performed their tasks at Katella High School in the city of Anaheim. This has been confirmed. Another thing has been confirmed about these groups. They call themselves by one basic name only. Clubs.

Leaders of the Pack

Who were the members of the ASB and how did it function? The answer is easy. The ASB (Associated Student Body) was made up of high-spirited, fun-loving students. That particular group of students arranged certain activities such as: assemblies, dances, pep rallies, and fund raisers. They even dared to confront the faculty with their ideas. ASB Vice-President, Charlotte Russel, commented, "Arranging the assemblies was easy, it was the dances that we disagreed upon."

A new director came to head the ASB and with him came new and improved ideas for activities. This man, though small, carried a big stick and became one of the most liked counselors on campus.

The past year was full of assemblies. Thanks to Steve Trull and his outrageous personality they were original and easy to get involved in. There were more assemblies in the 84-85 school year than ever before. That's not all! For the first time in three years the ASB succeeded in putting together a powder puff game.

The kids that ran the ASB were responsible enough to keep the student body involved in school and that made them truly good leaders.

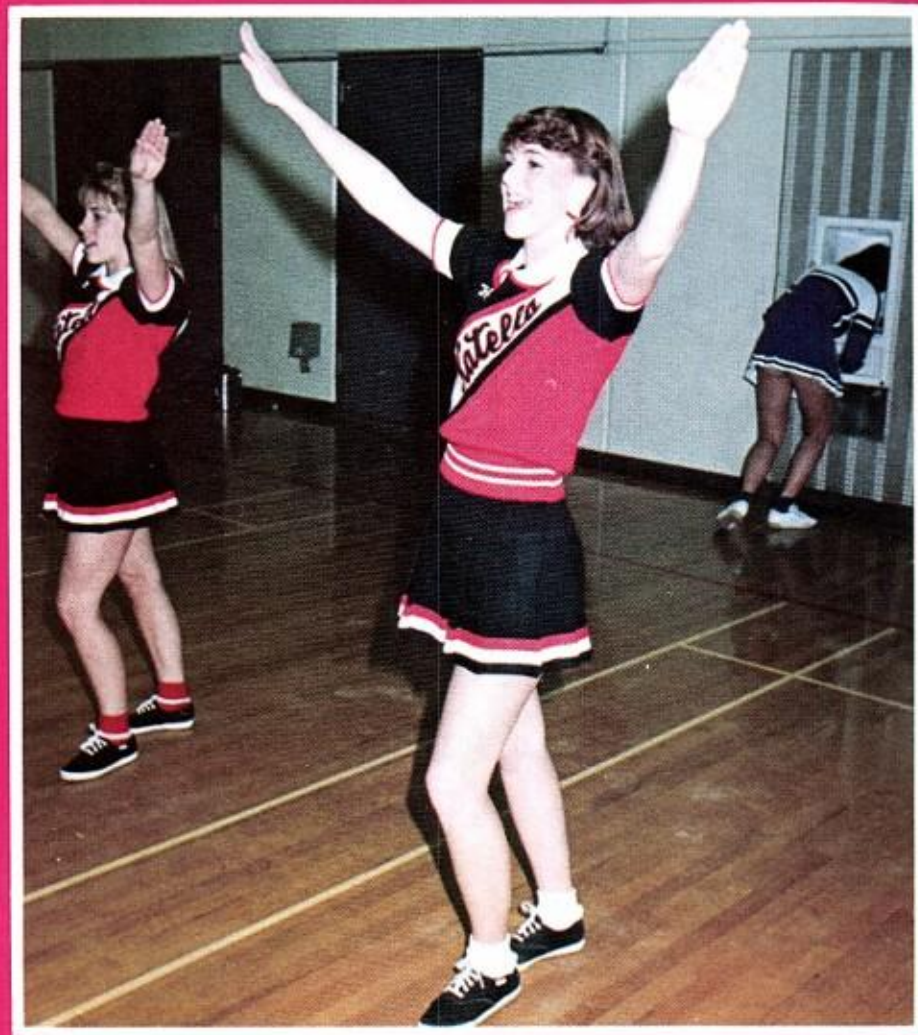

Spirit Soars with Varsity Cheer and Mascots

The cheer squad, led by Kerri Slaughter, did such things as: hold a banquet for the basketball team, while having one held for them by the football team, and lining La Palma for homecoming with posters for the football team, and managing to capture a superior trophy at a cheer camp with only two members attending. Along the more personal line were the wild skit practices at Kerri's home, which defy description.

The Cheer squad consisted of Leslie Douglas, Melissa Adams, Rachel Bishop, Deborah Grosso, Sharon Vopat, Ann San Mateo, and Kerri Slaughter.

The Songleaders, led by Gaylene Thomas, competed in only one competition and missed 1st by only 1 point, and had to settle for a tie for second. They suffered a great loss when Lisa Coombs went down with a bad knee and missed the entire basketball season. And of course, there was Pam Freeman, who played the grouser for the whole year.

The University of California, Irvine was the location for the training of Katella's freshmen, sophomore, and junior varsity cheerleaders. The United Spirit Association taught the girls how to do cheers, voice control, synchronization and many other things. The squads were put into divisions, such as Katella's junior varsity would compete with the junior varsity of another school. The freshmen, sophomore, and junior varsity won ribbons for their outstanding abilities.

Marianne Frizell was the head cheerleader for the freshmen and Lisa Vitullo was the head cheerleader for the sophomores. Marianne and Lisa did a great job of supporting the athletes and cheering them on at all the games, plus they showed great school pride and spirit.

Marianne and Lisa took their squads to Mount Sac and did an outstanding job.

Rikki Smith was the head cheerleader for the junior varsity. The girls had a busy year, besides going to the junior varsity games they also spent time going to some of the varsity games, cheering the athletes and getting into the school spirit.

The 1984-85 school year was a really spectacular year with these girls cheering our athletes and getting the student body to show their pride and spirit for Katella.

Blue Ribbons For The Drill Team

Katella's drill team is one that has a strong tradition of being the best. In the school year that covered 1984-85 the drill team continued its phenomenal success.

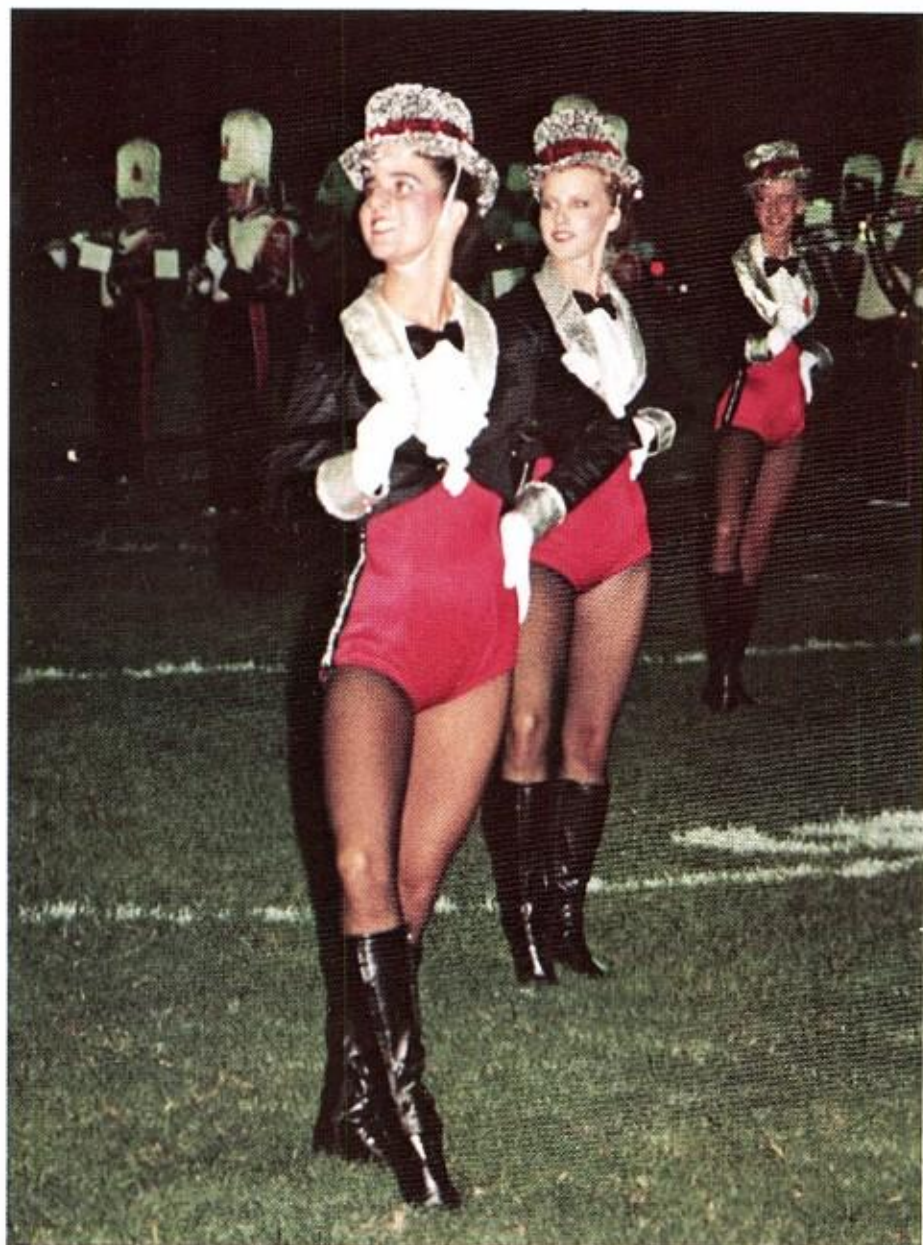

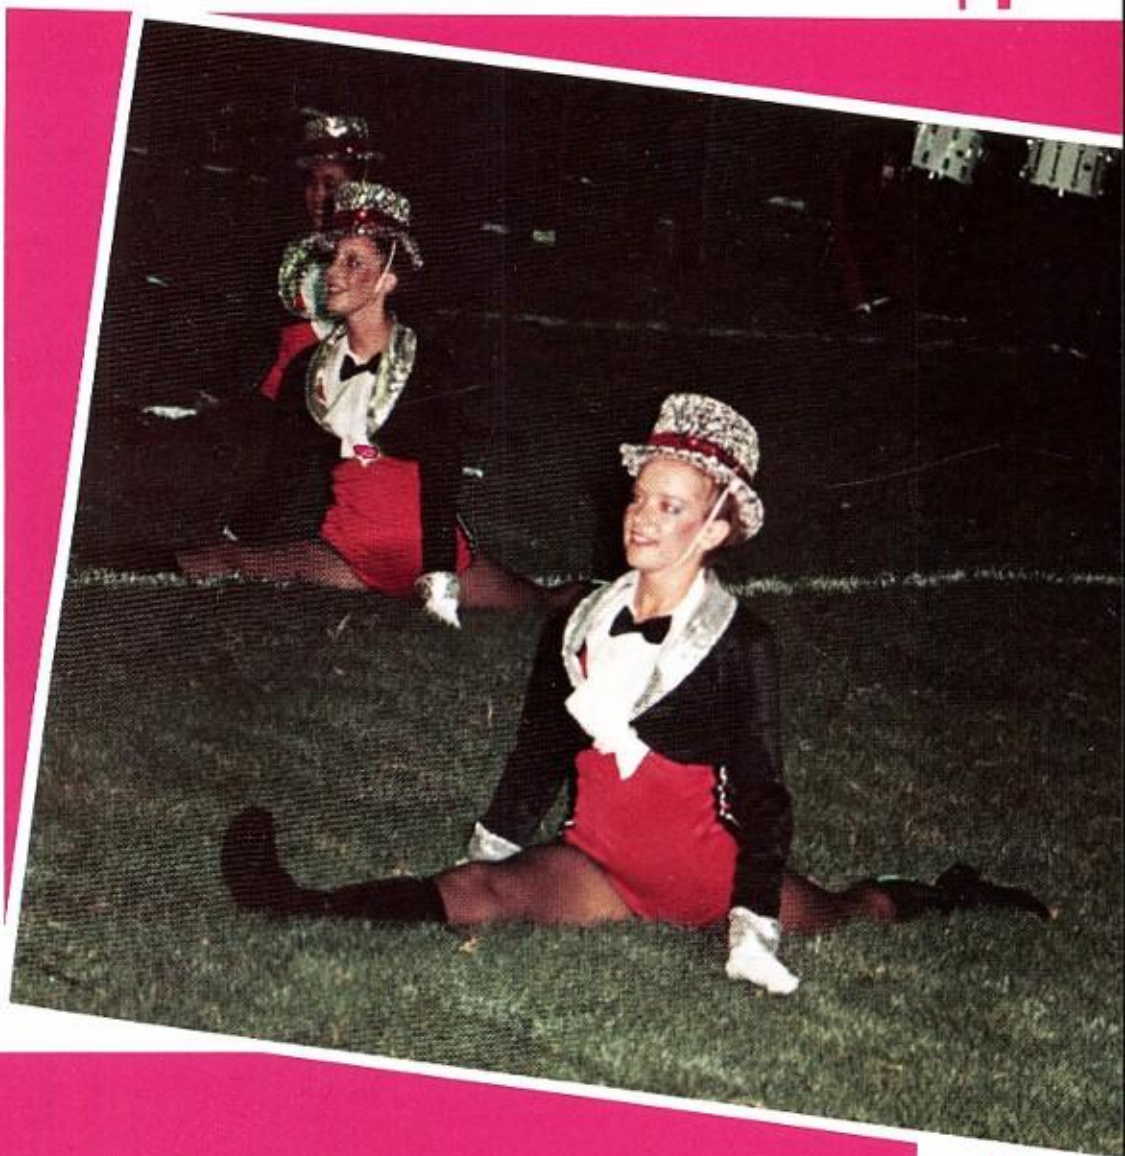

They were led in this prosperous year by Karilyn Fisher, a junior, who gave her all to keep the team at their unbelievable caliber. Her two assistants this year were April McCue, 1st assistant, and Marlena Baurman, 2nd assistant. These three people formed the team's brain trust.

They started off the year by attending a camp at Santa Barbara for three days. They had a very enjoyable time being with each other and the other girls who were members of teams from other schools. It was an experience that they will long remember.

Like other teams in the past, they attended quite a few drill team competitions. However, this team pulled-off an astounding feat. They took Sweepstakes at every competition except one, and in that one they took first place.

Every morning they arrive one to two hours before school starts for practice. It was here where they polished and perfected their awesome routines and their routines are truly awesome.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

Being a member of the 1984-1985 Choir means giving a special part of oneself to the group and friends. These talented young people are unique in a very special way in that they all carry their own type of tone and talent.

Under the direction of Mrs. Wolfe the choir has been a big success performing at concerts. It was the appreciation of hard work that went along with the outstanding performances. The hours of after school rehearsals added the final touch of excel-

The successful year started off with the Fall Concert held at Katella in the Campus Theater. They also started off the Christmas season with the Holiday in Music Concert, which was held at the Anaheim Convention Center. The excellent singers inspired the audience giving them what they wanted to hear, THE SOUND OF MUSIC. Mrs. Wolfe has developed an outstanding choral department with the concert and jazz choirs.

Rebuilding a Mighty Knights Band

The biggest news that had to be with band this year was the fact that we had a new director, Mr. Danny Wagner. Every morning in the wet grass, 89 pairs of soggy feet would march to the tempo of Mr. Wagner and Drum Major, Darin Dittmar. That took dedication! Those early morning practices with sniffing noses and wet feet certainly payed off. These were the results of the band's competitions: El Modeno Tournament — First Place, Western High School Tournament — First Place, Mission Viejo Band Review — Second Place, Mission Viejo Field Tournament — First Place, West Arcadia Band Review — First Place, Savanna

Field Tournament — First Place, California Band Review — Second Place.

This year, the band also hosted Foothill High School from Northern California. Band members from Foothill stayed in the homes of Katella band members. This gave Foothill the chance to compete in an important competition here in Southern California. They also involved themselves in fund raising activities such as paper drives.

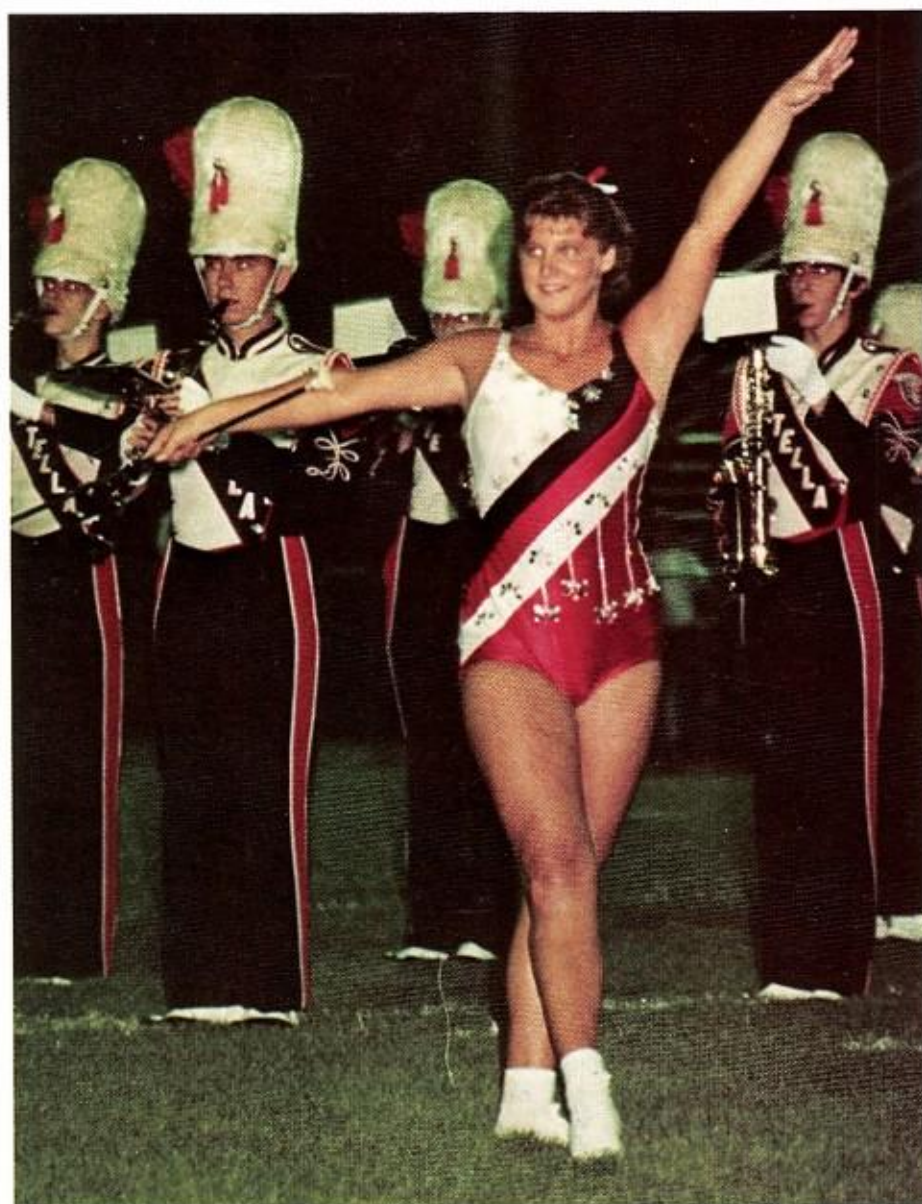

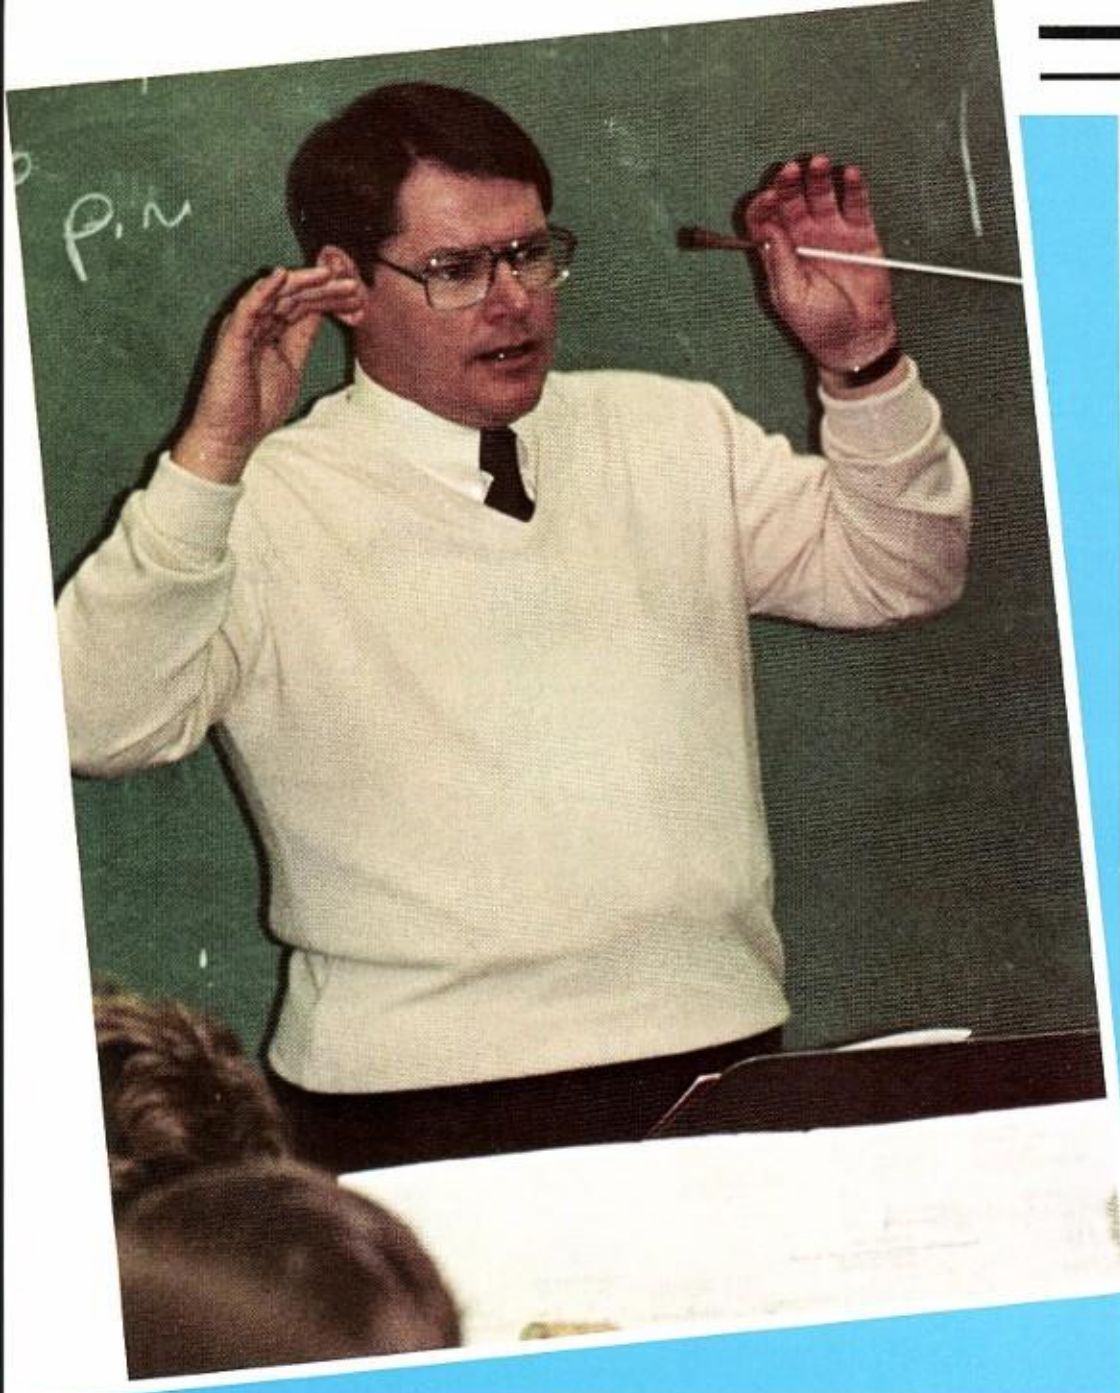

The band was somewhat small in size this year although Mr. Wagner expects that next year it would grow to 150 members. The Knights band will blow everyone away.

French

This year's French Club was led by Miss Strahn and also led by Myrna Barker as president. Katella's French Club was alive and living in Miss Strahn's classroom. As in the past the French Club had a varied and exciting year.

One thing they did was venture out to see the 17th Century classic play entitled "Tartuffe" by Moliere. They did that in October.

In May they once again took a journey to the J.P. Getty Museum and LA County Museum of Art to see the Toulouse-Lautrec Exhibit.

In May they once again took a journey to the J.P. Getty Museum to see the Toulouse-Lautrec Exhibition. They also visited the Museum of Modern Arts.

On the appetite side of the club they held 2 of their infamous French Club luncheons. During lunch they had chicken stewed in red wine. Once a month they have french pastries at their meetings. In May they had a big turnout at their 7-course French dinner.

They also provide their own entertainment, these self-supporting people. Occasionally they go out and rent either video tapes or films of French subjects.

Three people who were very important to the French Club were Sandy Mathews, Bruce Hall and Karl Stukenberg. All provided invaluable services to the club, which had another incredible year.

A Brighter Future For CPA and Math Students

A business education is an important subject to learn in this complicated business world. Mr. Lenihan had a group of young men and women who were in his fifth period class which were known as his Future CPA students. Only advanced accounting students qualified to be a future CPA member.

To make sure these advanced accounting students had a thorough training, Mr. Lenihan took them to Northrop Corporation where they went through accounting and computer divisions. CPA members also helped many students with their business tax forms and figured that with all the students they helped it was calculated to be about twelve thousand dollars.

The Future CPA had many fund raisers during the school year consisting of: the Datsun raffle tickets, a bake sale within the business department only, a donation raffle, and a booster club breakfast. These fund raisers raised money for the CPA members for a year end banquet.

Thespians Set The Stage

Katella's thespians gave a command performance year with their productions of "The Desk Set" and "Once Upon a Mattress." Not only did they perform for Katella students, but a numerous amount of them were in the GATE production of "Stage Door."

It was a wintry December morning in the New York downtown area, the beginning of what was about to be the end of the career of Bunnie Watson. That was the mood of the Katella Thespian's first stage production in 1984-1985, it was "The Desk Set." The play was about a group of office girls (Diane Hornsby, Kelly Ford, and Kristy Takacs) whose jobs were about to be jeopardized by the technology of a computer. Their boss Bunnie Watson (Stacey Gooding) kept calm, cool, and collected and showed that a bunch of "office goof-offs" could outsmart a computer. The play was a fun-filled production with a drunk, a nerd, a Christmas office party, and good old slapstick comedy. It was performed in the Katella campus theatre on January 10, 11 and 12.

The next production that involved Katella students was on March 7 and 8, 1985, in the Anaheim High School William Cook Auditorium. It was of course "Stage Door." This play took place in the 1940's in a boarding house in New York for girls trying to become actresses. It was filled with laughs and tears, sad endings and happy ones too. The lead roles was Terry Randall portrayed by Halle MacDonald making her acting debut. Her leading men were Keith Burgess (Matt Vargo), and David Kingsley (Karl Stuckenberg), the two were in constant competition for Terry's love. In the end Terry and David become each others "better half." Every cast member gave it their all and some great performances were pulled out to make "Stage Door" a big success.

■ Elyse Popick, senior from Loara, portrays Kay Hamilton in the play, Stage Door.

■ Matt Vargo, playing Keith, and Diane Hornsby, playing Judith, have time for a little arguing.

■ Leading lady, Hale McDonald, and leading man, Karl Stuckenberg, express their feelings toward one another.

■ Male lead, Alyn Tyson, plays the nerd in the play, Desk Set.

■ Stacey Gooding, playing Bunnie, and Bruce Berube, as Abe, find time to talk seriously about their relationship.

■ Room boy, Bruce Hall, brings messages to the office in the play, Desk Set.

■ Second leading lady, Kelly Ford, has a little too much to drink for her to handle in the play, Desk Set.

■ Second leading man, Matt Vargo, playing Sir Harry and second leading lady, Trudi Pad-dison, playing Lady Larken discuss their pathways to the future.

■ Male lead, Bruce Berube, playing Prince Dauntless, waits patiently for his Princess.

■ The ladies-in-waiting: Gina Brandt, Stacey Payne, and Cathy Mortenson, and Knights: Mark Halverson and Brett Williams listen to the Queen speak.

■ The narrator, Erin Keith, playing the Minstrel, lays down the story line.

"Mattress" Draws Crowds

What has 20 mattresses, one small pea, a mute king, a talkative queen, and a kingdom of more than 40 people? No, it's not "Camelot." It's the Katella High School Drama Department's Spring musical, "Once Upon A Mattress."

If you were one of the less fortunate and did not see the musical, you missed out on a fun-filled night of comedy and music. The musical appeared for a short engagement on May 9, 10, and 11. The production of three days is based on the fairy tale of "The Princess and The Pea," only it is filled with musical and dance numbers and tends to shy away from the serious side.

Having the starring role as the Princess Winnifred was Kristy Takacs. She was trying for the hand of Prince Dauntless (Bruce Berube) in marriage, but first had to pass an unfair test by the Queen (Stacy Gooding). And of course, the Princess passed the test, and everyone lived "Happily Ever After." But if it were not for the expedition for a princess initiated by Sir Harry (Matt Vargo), all would have been lost. Sir Harry went to find a princess only because his love Lady Larken (Trudi Paddison) had become pregnant, and no one could be married until Prince Dauntless was. As you know how the story ends, everything turned out for the better and the Queen got it in the end.

The actors were not the only ones to be commended for the musical's success, many others were involved also. It had a crew of 16 people who helped design and build the sets, and an orchestra of 10 people, three directors, and one stage manager. The stage manager was Janet Laferve, and the directors were Peggy Harju (acting), Nancy Wolfe (vocal), and Danny Wagner (musical). Many people put their time and effort into making the 1985 Spring Musical a success and it was because it all happened with a pea and a princess "Once Upon A Mattress."

Female lead, Kristy Takacs, playing Princess Winnifred, sings her way to glory.

Alan Tyson, playing the Wizard, wonders how he is ever going to get his hand out from under Stacy Gooding, playing Queen Aggravain.

"Are we having fun yet?" asks Karl Stuckenberg who plays the Jester.

Drama Displays With Multi-Talented Actors

1. Mrs. Harju, teacher and director, is mesmerized to the performance given by her students.

2. Janet Lafevre, senior, is seen in a hypnotic trance at the podium.

Once again Katella's very own Drama Club established themselves on our campus.

Mrs. Peggy Harju was again at the helm, leading the club as advisor and director, and has taught at Katella for five years.

The Drama Club sponsored two plays during the past school year: the Winter and Spring Play. The club also provided all refreshments at their plays.

The Drama Club consists of approximately 25 members. The club officers are as follows: President — Alan Tyson, Vice-President — Marc Caldwell, Secretary — Judith Sitton, and the Raffle Chairman — Bruce Hall.

Seniors were plentiful in the club, which could mean that the quality of the club in future years may be lowered from lack of experience. But, Mrs. Harju disagrees.

"They will be just as good next year," Mrs. Harju said. She cites new blood coming up through the ranks as reason for the continuing quality of the club.

The Drama Club is, as most organizations or clubs are, in need of money. For fundraisers they participated in the car raffle, and the old steady, and sold candy which very few teenagers can resist.

With the incredible amount of money these multi-talented people raised, they went out and purchased a follow-spot. In case you don't know, a follow-spot is similar to a regular spotlight.

On June 2nd they held their awards banquet. It was held at the Harlequin Dinner Theater. They watched "Barefoot in the Park," while having their lunch. The awards presented included Best Actor, Best Actress, Best Comedian, and more.

Mrs. Harju recommends the Drama Club to anyone and everyone who ever thought about going out for it. In the club there is a place for everyone and their personality.

Mrs. Harju summed up the club best when she said, "It's a very rewarding experience."

Scholars Improve Their Strength In Numbers

CSF, which stands for California Scholastic Federation, consists of nothing but academic subjects. The group is made up of one hundred members and is led by advisor Mr. Anthony Corradino, Jeff Wilson as President, Patt Chang as Treasurer, and Lisa Coursintino as Secretary.

CSF's members must have obtained at least a 3.5 GPA and four semesters in CSF to become a Gold Seal Bearer. The members had many fund raisers such as selling candy and having membership drives. Each of the members received a club sweatshirt so they could be recognized as a proud CSF member.

Landscaping Develops Greenhouse Arises

Sitting behind the school, in front of the pool and running behind the science room is part of a class called Landscaping.

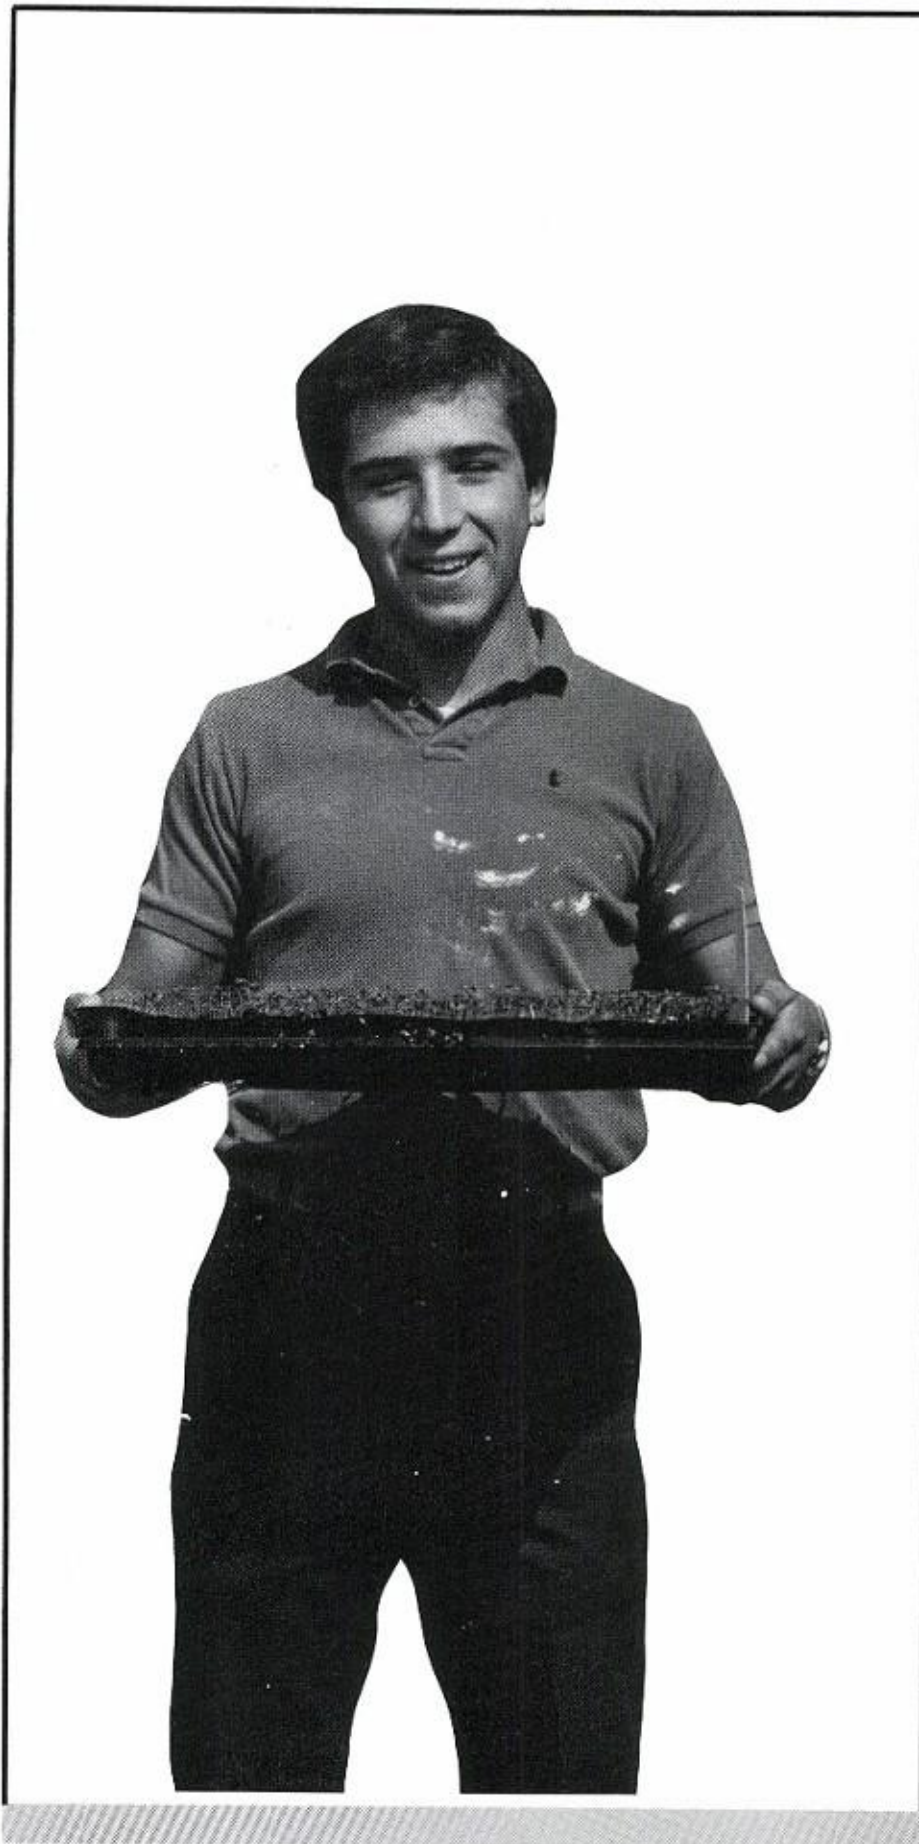

This year the landscaping class was involved in landscaping our school grounds, slowly transforming our campus into what it is today.

They were also constructing a greenhouse to grow plants in. Moss-type hanging baskets were another project they worked on, along with a shack house for them.

This was also a learning class. The students were taught how to identify plants, how to install and design irrigation, and about propagation. This year they also did quite a bit more of flower growing this past year.

For some involved it was the beginning of a career. For others it was a completely rewarding experience, one they will never completely forget.

Intelligence Through Competition

The Kiwanis Bowl, which is also known as the College Bowl, has many intelligent members which are sometimes called the Intellectual Quiz kids. These members form a five senior and five alternate junior and senior team. The teacher of the members is Mrs. Harju and the president is Steven Lee. The club also has many freshmen and sophomore students which are striving for the intelligence they need for the coming year.

The Quiz Kids play on a gameboard that has five bells on each side, five bells for one team, five for the other. The game somewhat resembles Trivial Pursuit, but the Quiz kids play at a more sophisticated level.

The year started off by competing at San Clemente High School. The Katella Quiz Kids won the first round but lost the second round. The group practiced three days a week during lunch. The second competition was held at Fallbrook, where they won all rounds except the final round. The Kiwanis Bowl is proud to be a part of the Academic Boosters. Next year the Kiwanis Bowl hopes to be a part of the Southern California Competition which is held in CA, Nevada or Hawaii.

President Steven Lee writes down the activities which will be coming up during the year.

Creativity Flows Through Writing

When I signed up for the Creative writing class, I didn't know what to expect. The first day scenario went something like this:

It was 12:25 when my friend and I shuffled into class for our first creative writing session, trying to look perfectly at ease with what we were about to do. What were we about to do? I, mean what do you do in a creative writing class for a whole hour, five days a week, for nine months? Preferring not to think about it any more, I took a more-than-casual glance around the room and met my fellow classmates. Wait a minute! Where are all the whimpy short guys with glasses, writer's cramp, and a pencil behind one ear? I had a sudden urge to get out my schedule and make sure I had the right room number. Athletes, intellectuals, preppies, and "The Man" himself; Mr. Sieg. These were the people I would come to know and understand through our experiences together. It was a strange combination, true, all these people from different walks of life, but each one helped add to the color and texture of our group, kind of like a mixed fruit basket. There are the bananas; Lance Thomas, Mark Ciglar, Shellie Winder. There are the apples, the core of our program: Pat Osborne, Chris Sanchez, and Shelly Dame. And there probably are a few vegetables in our class, too: people that started out in here just because they needed a fifth period class, but discovered so much more. Together (under the inspiring and supportive leadership of Mr. Sieg, of course,) we have come to be what we are today: Creative!!

■ Lorrane Vandaveer, Noelle Giffin, and Shelly Dame keep their thoughts running on paper.

Hard Work, Dedication, And Understanding Make A

"David, are my pictures in yet?"

"Dave you seen my copy?"

"... But I need it typed up by Thursday ..."

"Matt, how do I crop this picture?"

"If we don't get these 72 pages in by this deadline, we'll be charged $500.00."

Do these sound familiar to you? Probably not, unless you were on the 1985 Legend staff. If you were than this can only bring back memories of misery, headaches, pain, calamity, and just all-out-mass-confusion. Getting a yearbook put together is not as easy said than done. When you only have twenty people on the staff and must get 72 pages finished in less than a month, it can be hectic. Let me give you an idea of what it is like to be on the yearbook staff.

You have just been assigned to complete six pages of the yearbook in one month. That means you have to draw the layout, get and fit pictures to what you have drawn, write the copy and captions, and then put it all together suitable for the publishing company. Not easy you say. Precisely my point.

Being a member of the yearbook staff is an honor because it takes a special group of people to work together, to collect memories, in one book that will last for years to come. It takes a person who is responsible, dedicated, understanding, and most important patient. Patience because putting a book of memories together and waiting for three months to see if it turns out O.K., is a quality that you must have to be on the staff.

We are like one big, happy family. We fight, get angry, and share one common goal. That is to put together a yearbook that will satisfy us and the majority of the student body. It is our baby that we created and we can only hope that you approve of our accomplishment.

Advisor James Sieg doesn't let his students do all the work on the yearbook, he likes to get involved occasionally too.

Katella's Excalibur

This years 1984-85 Excalibur staff had a very successful year. With Kelly McHugh and Mellissa Scheir as co-editors.

The Page editors consisted of Kelly McHugh as news editor; Missy Schier as editorial; Bruce Hall as Feature; and Brian Fuetz as sports editor.

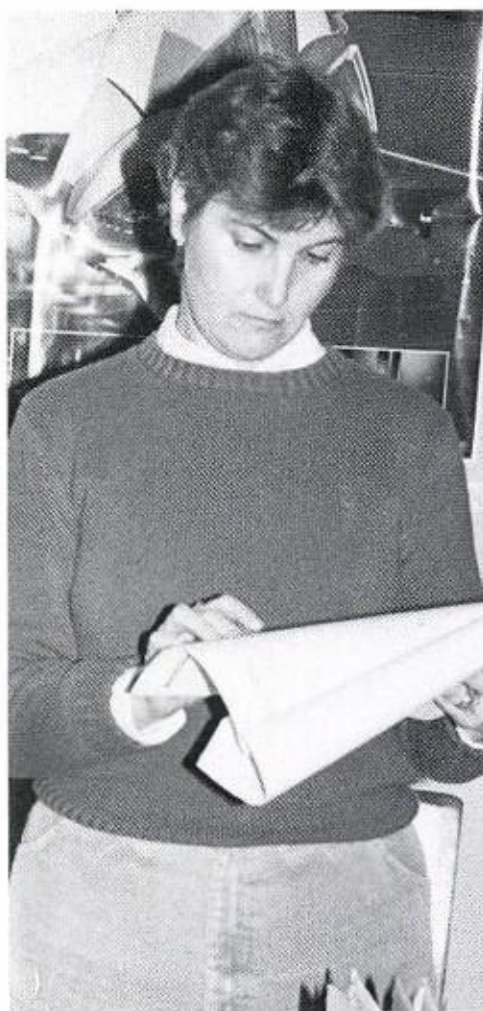

This years Excalibur staff raised enough money to pay for half the senior tribute issue of the school paper, with A.S.B. matching funds.

Last year the Excalibur staff took first place in the Columbia University Press association contest in 1983-84. This is Mrs. Peggy Harju second year at being the papers advisor. She commented "The newspaper is a challenging endeavor to tackle."

Letterman Appreciate the Foreign Exchange of Students

Peter Hansen sits back and gets into the American lifestyle.

This years 1984-85 Lettermen's Club along with many other clubs and organizations on the Katella campus had a very successful year.

The first fundraiser of the year was 'Toys for Tecate', which was when our lettermen collected and distributed donated toys to the children who are less unfortunate in Tecate Mexico.

"This was a great turnout," states Tim Beland.

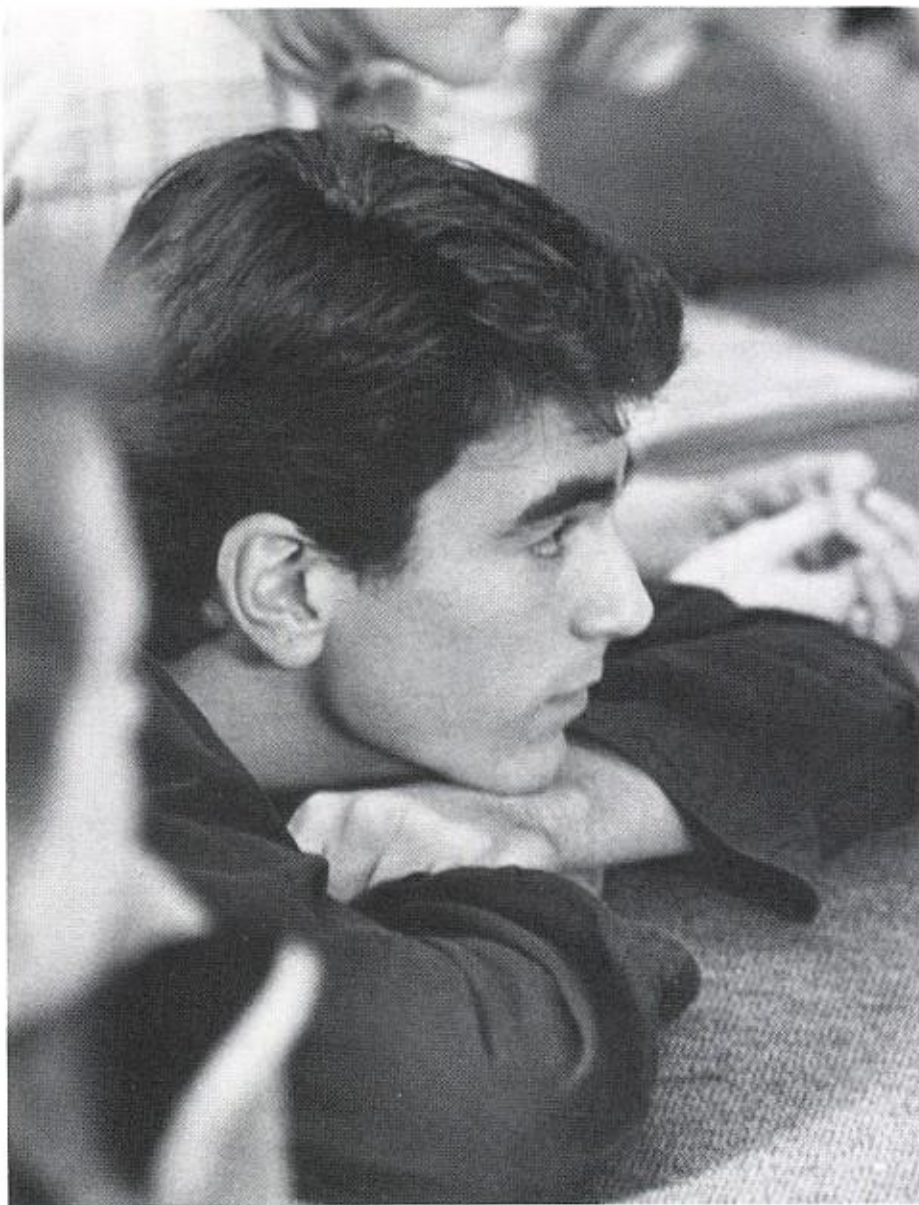

The Lettermen's also worked in the student snack bar during all varsity home basketball games. They also, during the year, had their annual Lettermen/Faculty basketball game. The game didn't turn out as well as the guys would have liked it to, but they had a great time playing.

First Place Trophies Highlight Speech

Normally when people think of the speech club they think of the people that get up in front of other people and speak about things, humorous and serious. In that respect they would be right. However there are quite a few misconceptions that the club members want cleared up.

"Speech is a lot of hard work," Amber Bancroft said, "and it takes a lot of guts. A lot of people don't take Speech Club seriously, and they think it's only for geeks. But it's cool! If they'd get into it, they'd agree."

What they are is amazing. Steve Lee received an excellent certificate; Mark Ciglar & Lora Denton, and Eric Christianson & Amber Bancroft respectively won numerous awards for their Dual Humorous Interpretations; Janet LaFevre took home her share of excellence awards; Kathy York, who also teamed up successfully with Ms. LaFevre, was awarded a number of trophies. Some of the organizations that held some of the competitions were the Optimists' Club, the Lions Club, and the Rotary Club. The club also competed in several Saturday events including the First Year Champs' competition.

These talented bunch of non-geeks were led by Miss C. Preston, who had never had any experience coaching a speech team, but, according to Joy Klinkenberg, "She did a great job."

Miss Preston was very impressed with the caliber of the twenty student members. Eric Christianson summed up the Speech Club's year the best: "Awesome!"

Gourmet & Mecha A new beginning

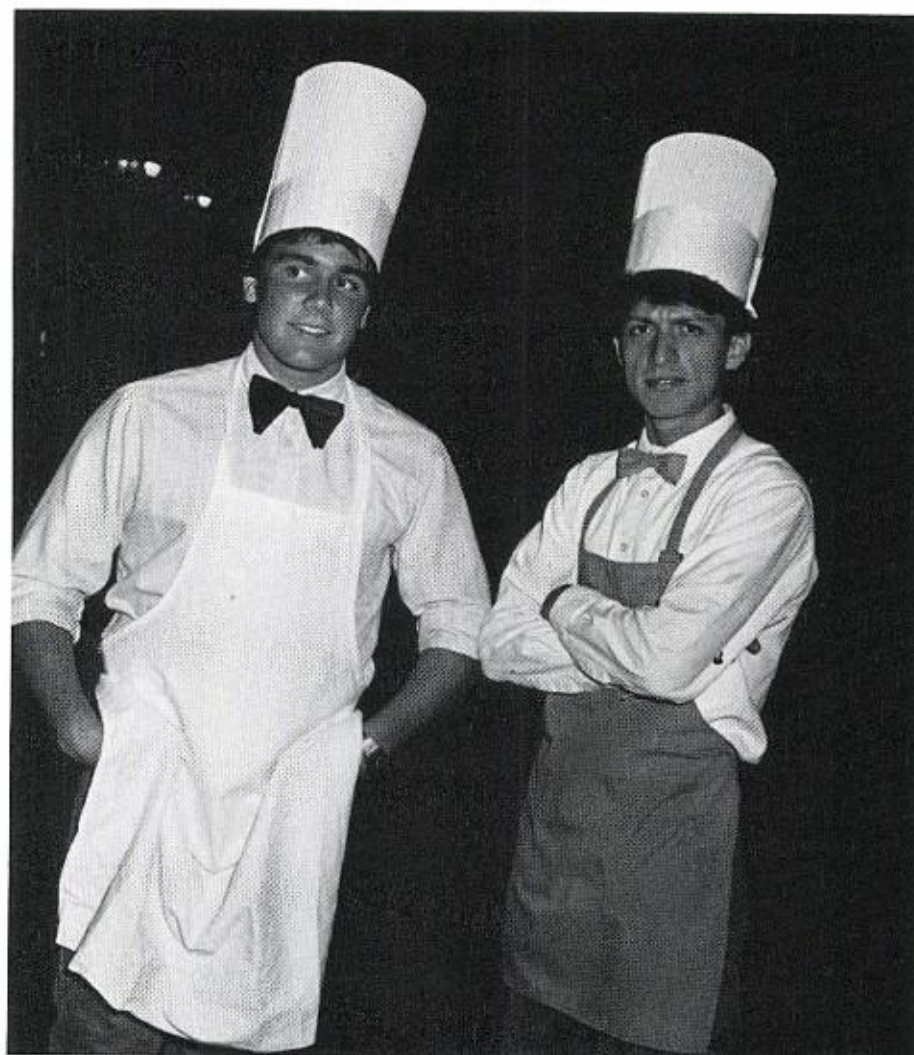

Once again this year Katella's own Mecha/Spanish Club was present on campus. Led by the faithful Mr. Fried this extremely large group of students, definitely one of the larger clubs on campus, participated in a large variety of activities including the numerous luncheons and fund-raisers, and of course there was the yearly softball game against the French Club in which the Mecha Club has always held the advantage.

At the luncheons the members ate traditional Spanish meals, made entirely of what was made and/or brought by the students themselves, which were promptly vacuumed up by the eating machines which are teenagers. Everyone left the meal/meetings happy, content and not very hungry.

There was also talk of another trip to Olvera Street, which has always been one of the more popular activities of the club.

As always, there was a strong sense of friendship and warmth present with all of the members. They were not so much a club as they were one big happy family.

Webster defines a gourmet as someone who is very knowledgeable about fine food and drink. Katella, in 1984-85, came up with their own definition by organizing the Gourmet Club. Led by Mrs. Platfoot, Katella students learned how to make dishes only dreamed of by other students. And along with making them, they also received the immense pleasure of sampling their work. All in the club learned immeasurable, from Mrs. Platfoot, who generously shared every bit of her experience with all who were willing to learn. It was a very satisfying year to all who were involved with the infant Gourmet Club.

Top Ratings For Katella's Choirs

Jazz Choir

The Katella Knight Train Jazz singers have performed well this year. This group is an audition group, with selection based on musical skill, ability, and perseverance.

The jazz singers, along with the Concert Choir, put on many concerts this year and also performed at "Holiday in Music" at the Anaheim Convention Center. This select group also performed for several club organizations. They competed at Fullerton Jazz festival and toured to Reno, Nevada to compete in the International Jazz Festival, where they received all superior ratings.

The group consists of 24 members including the accompanist, Bruce Berube, and the drummer, Karl Stuckenberg. The majority of its members are upper classmen. With Mrs. Wolfe's expertise in Vocal Jazz, she is able to create a top notch group.

Concert Choir

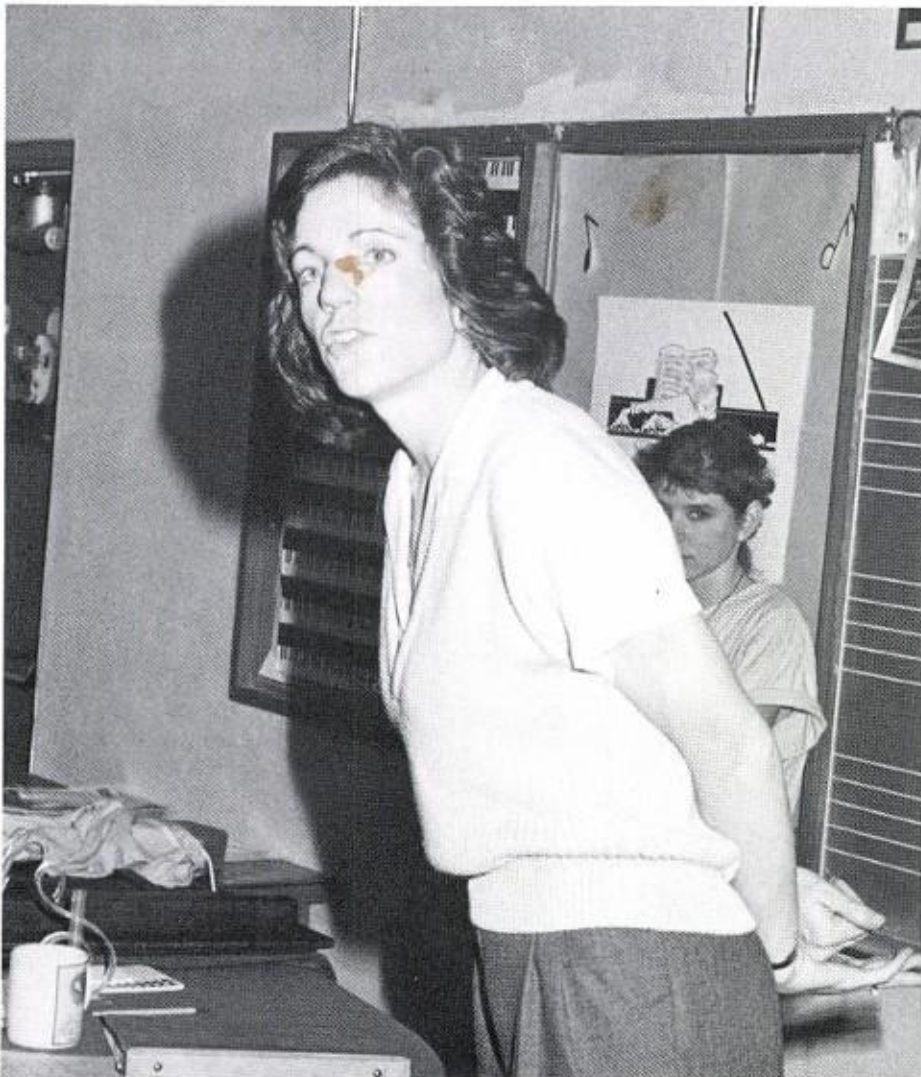

This year's 1984-85 Concert Choir has proven to be a very solid and strong group.

The group has put on several concerts this year, including the most prestigious, the Pops show, featuring student soloists. With each and every concert more new talent was exposed. In May the choir toured to San Diego to perform for several sister schools there.

This was Mrs. Wolfe's fifth year at Katella, and again she has brought out her groups talent. The year proved to be very rewarding for the whole group. Choral president, Kim O'Meara, said "This year's group not only proved to be very talented but devoted to one another, an extremely rare quality to find."

■ Bruce Berube and Shelley Paddison show their talent by playing the piano.

■ Choir director, Mrs. Wolfe, constructs a new piece for an upcoming concert.

■ Kristy Takaes keeps with the beat.

Katella's flowing flags.

Katella's Tall Flags, which this year had 23 members, once again had a stupendous year. These talented girls were led by captain Cari Holmes, lieutenant, Robin Lenz, and Sheri Bowden, the flag instructor who uses what must be an awe inspiring imagination to arrive at the spectacular routines the girls performed.

The group went to the International Marching Clinics, which lasted for three days. During their eight hour days the girls were split up and taught the basics. The designated leaders of their teams went to a special leadership camp. On the last day the entire camp got together and performed their routines.

During the first semester between bouts of homework and remembering summer, the girls started their year of competition. The field shows which were mainly the performances at game half-times, and the street competitions, the parades, etc, were the mainstays of their first semester appearances.

The second semester brought forth what would be called the indoor season. This was the time for assemblies and basketball shows. They also performed at various indoor competitions. The mood of these competitions were very tense.

The team placed first at the Magnolia competition, first at the Los Alimitos competition, first place and flag sweepstakes at the western competition and grand sweepstakes at the Katella competition.

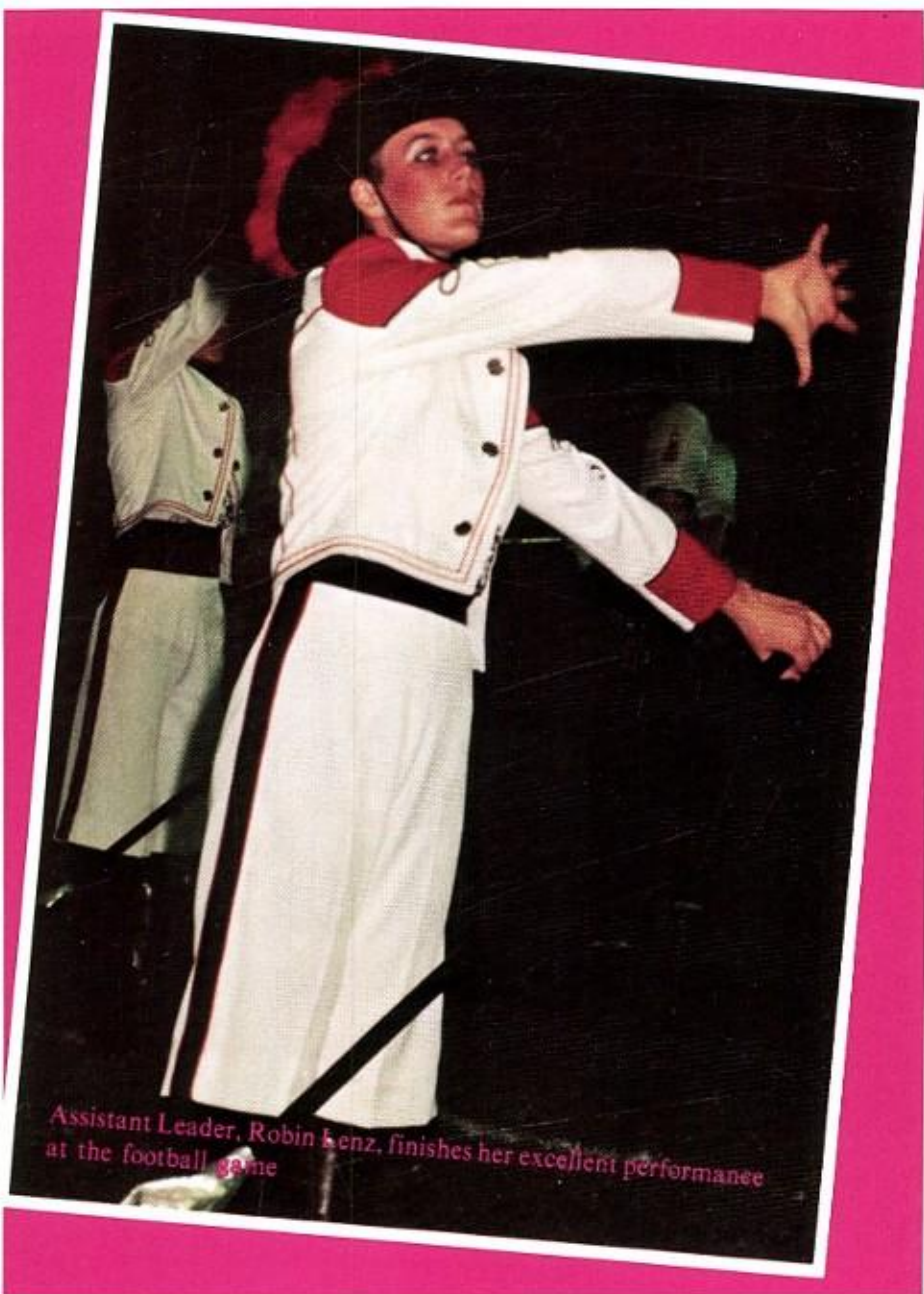

Mr. Wagner, the band director, who also worked very closely with the drill team, supported the girls greatly throughout the year.

ARTISANS

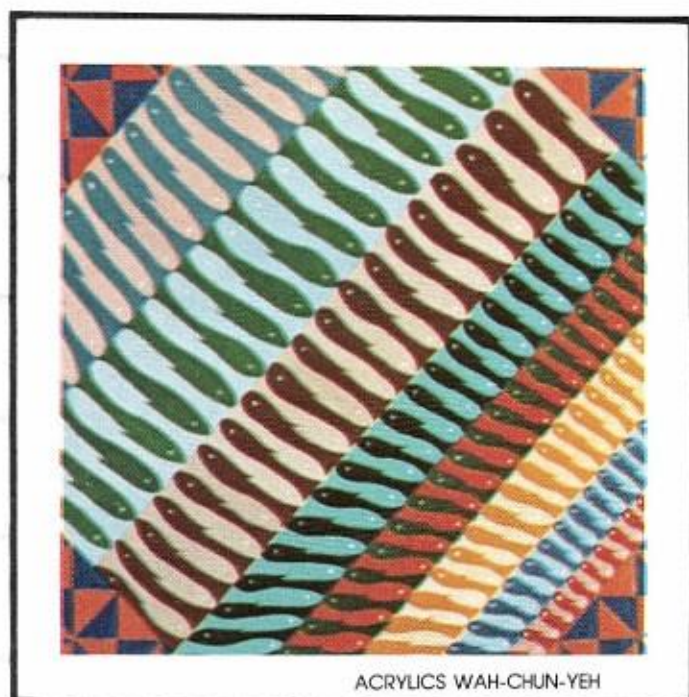

The ability of an artist to communicate an idea or feeling visually has given the world a universal language. Cultural barriers like customs and language can be forgotten in the world of art.

Even within our own school we can find a group of artists whose backgrounds vary. Yet one thing brings Cindy Petrovic, Carl Frank, Gaylene Thomas, Juliette Liu, Rachel Bacon, Dale Romero, Andy Hamer and myself together is our common interest and desire to find self-expression through drawing and painting. By presenting ourselves visually we can communicate to a larger audience. All that is requested of this audience is for them to allow some sensitivity and imagination to come through.

This year Katella has benefited from the guidance of four art teachers; Mrs. Blankenship, Mr. Schneck, Mr. Cendejas and Mr. Parrot.

As you turn through these next few pages, keep in mind that each is a personal statement to you, and an impression that will be understood all over the world. Art is just one more bridge that brings this world together!

GRAY BEAST

The clouds open wider, pouring down rain
Changin the earth, leaving nothing the same.
Our world lies in wait of the powerful beast
Who prepares himself for his very last feast.
He growls with hunger and shatters the air
The world grows older, filled with despair.
He's moving in closer, stalking his prey
With his powerful ominous clouds of gray.
The city cowers, awakened by fear
We'd all be safe if the skies were clear.
Our lives dwindle down like hands on a clock.
A great flash of light, the gleam of his teeth
Where is the protection of angel and wreath.
I close my eyes tightly, and at the end
My one last wish is to be with a friend.

AIR BRUSH BY SCHOTT JACKSON

SILENT TEARS

The thunder roared through the clouds
 As did the thoughts in my head
 The clouds ached with pressure, they had to burst
 As did my eyes
 The first drops fell
 As did my tears
 The rain fell very heavy
 As did my heart
 The ground absorbed the drops
 As did my face
 The land became pure
 As did my soul
 The sun laughed so bright
 As did my smile
 The rain was only momentary
 As were my fears

HUNGER

Hunger. The hunger gnashed at her stomach, demanding food. A hunger that could never be satisfied.

She brooded angrily, feeling faint.

Through the corner of her eye, she caught a sight of a centipede scurrying around. Quickly, she snatched it up and ate it, trying to diminish hunger.

"I'm hungry," she screamed.

The words bounced from wall to wall, finally to disappear.

She cursed her people, cursed them for being born — cursed them for locking her up — cursed them for her misery.

Miserably, though, she knew it was her fault. Her fault, for letting the human go . . . but the look in her eye, it was so much like intelligence. So she had let her escape instead of eating her.

Now, she had to pay the consequence, starving for all her people. Food was short and she had even further shortened the food supply.

Sadly, she curled her tail around her body and sang herself to sleep, to keep away the hunger.

"A HITCHIKER WAY OUT HERE, I MUSED . . ."

I had started to grow disgusted with this car. Six hours of straight driving was obviously too much for me to deal with. I had driven into nothingness it seemed, Pure nothingness. I stopped my car and looked around. All around was desert. No cars, no other cars at all. Maybe I had made a wrong turn somewhere, I hadn't seen a sign in at least half an hour.

I started the car and drove on. At about 15 minutes later I saw a person walking on the side of the road. I had pondered about him for awhile but didn't pull over. My momma brought me up right. No hitchhikers.

Suddenly I heard a bang on my car roof. I banged the brakes and the hitchhiker's face appeared on my front window. In a flash, he jumped off my window and was in the passenger seat beside me. I gaped at him.

"Thanks for giving me a ride," the hitchhiker said.

"Don't mention it," I said stupidly, not knowing what else to say.

"My name's Gus; What's yours?" "Mary" "Are you from around here?" he asked, with interest.

"No, I'm from Laguna Beach. What about you?" I asked politely.

"Jupiter" he said.

"That's interesting," I replied. "Do you usually get rides this way?"

"Weell, yes," he stated.

"Where are you heading, Gus?" I asked.

"Where are any of us going really? What is the main purpose of life? Why do people exist?" Gus rambled.

"That's deep," I said to agree with him. I wasn't going to take any chances of angering him. We drove on for a few more hours. When we came to the first sign, Gus started to speak again. "You know, life's a humorous event," he declared casually.

"So right," I said.

"Why are you in these parts?" he asked.

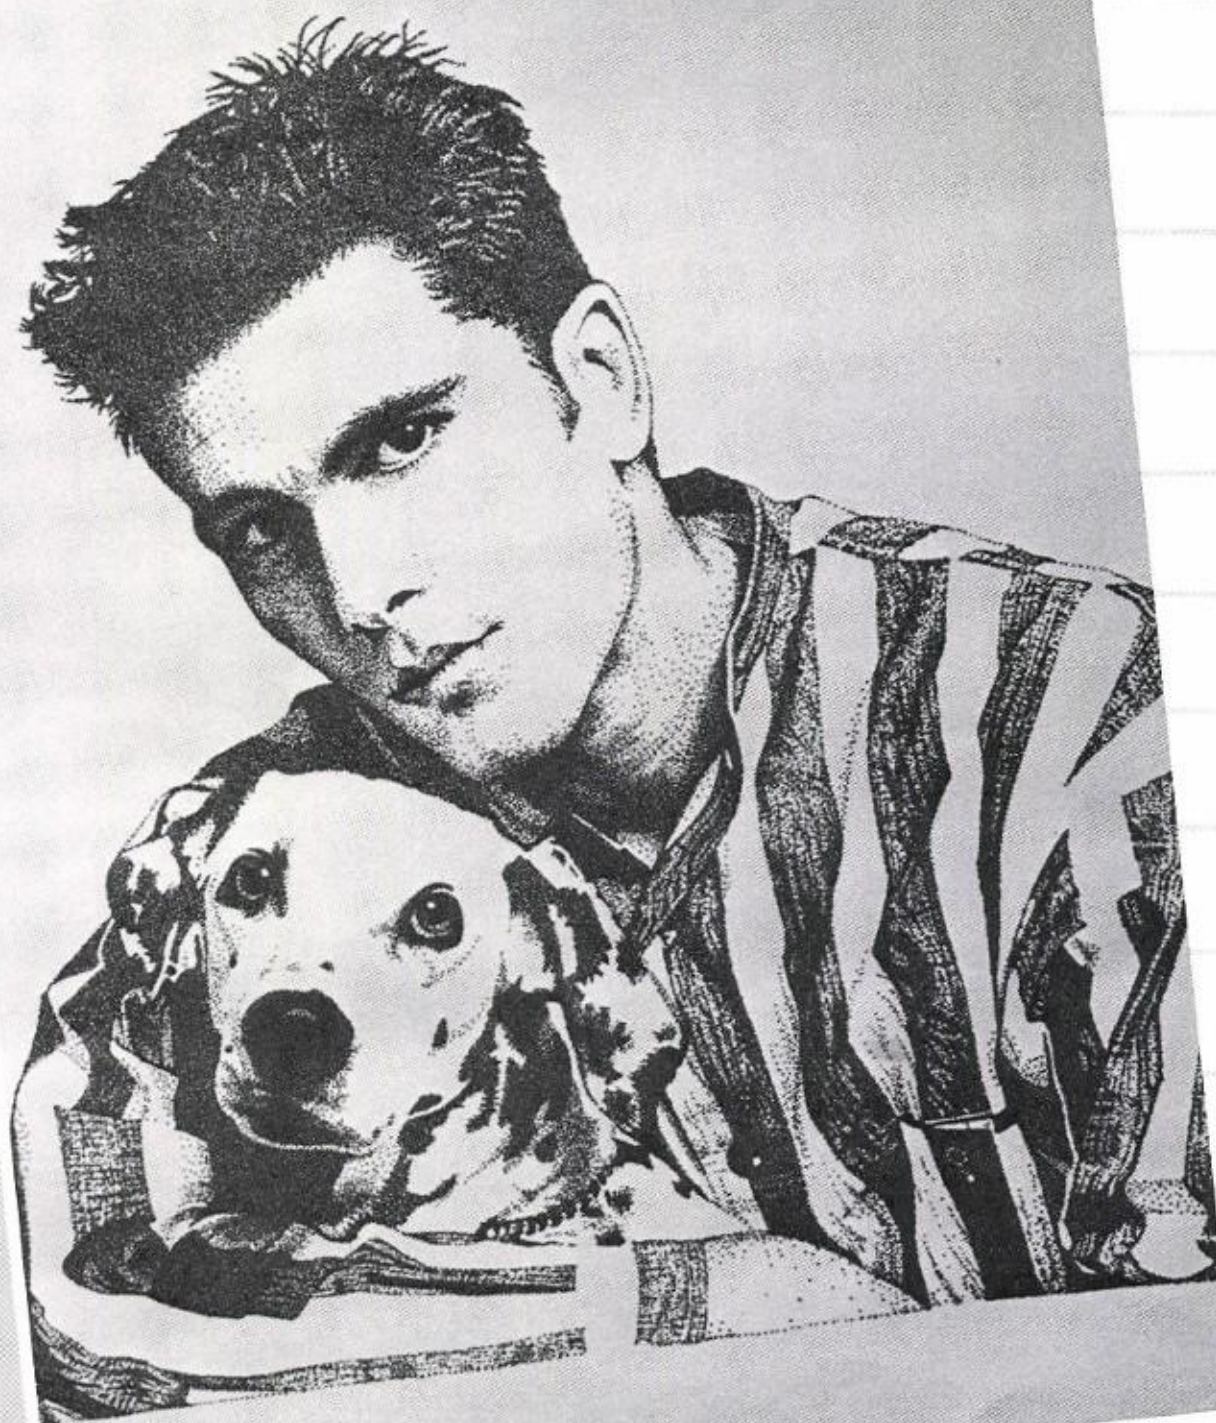

"I'm going for a little visit." "Where?"

"Northern Bakersfield," I said, "I'm visiting my sister Betty."

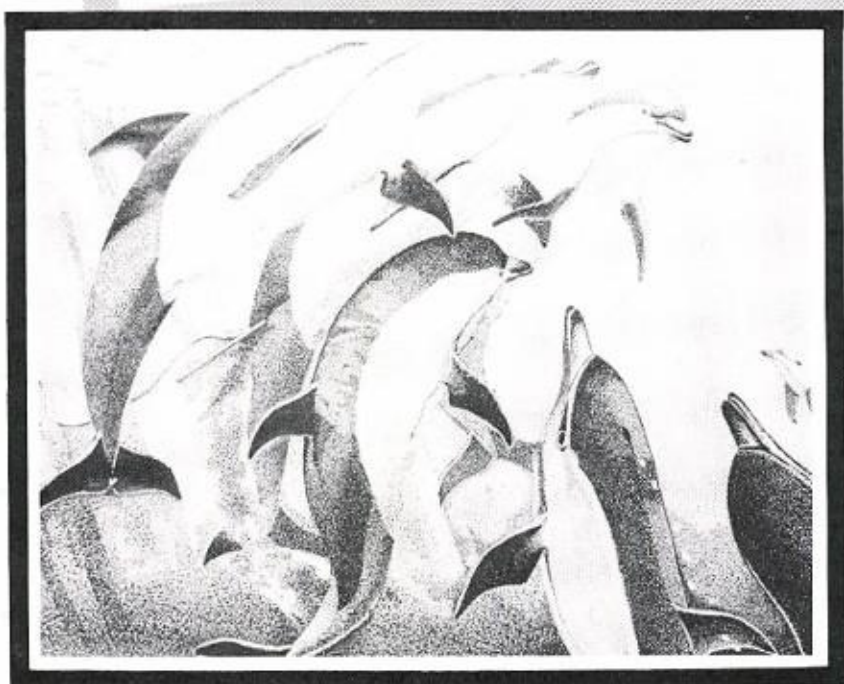

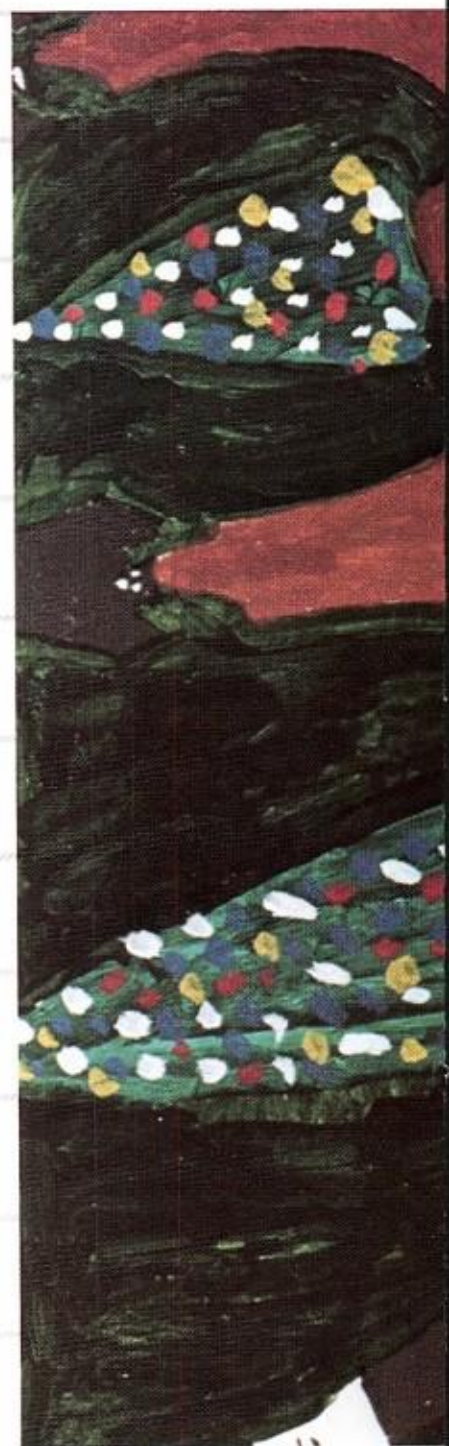

"Oh, can you drop me off here?" he asked.

"Sure." Thank God.

I pulled the car over and he walked out. I drove on and looked in the rearview mirror. I saw Gus behind me. He was waving at me with one hand and staying on the car top with the other.

Avast and stormy savage cloud
 Came like a thief to steal the sun
 To fold the earth within its shroud
 A ruthless bandit on the run.
 The gruesome warrior of the sky
 Took his revenge upon the land
 The sea of clouds caomes surging by Like waves come crashing to the sand.
 With murky mist to be his cloak
 A bolt of lightning for his sword
 He sent the rain to chill and soak
 And shake the sky into discord.
 The wall of shadows then did fade
 And let shine through a beam of light
 With fury spent and justice paid
 The thief crept off into the night.

BARRIERS ARE CLEARED BY KATELLA ATHLETES

In some way we have all competed in the arena known as sports. We have all known what is called, "the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat." It feels good to win, and it hurts very much to lose. But, from these experiences we have grown. We may not have become "Good Sports" as people tell us we should be, but hopefully we have become better "Sports."

We grow up, constantly competing against and with one another, in the school room and on the playing field. Sports remain important to our lives as we strive for that intangible called perfection, never quite reaching it but, never doubting its existence.

While playing we ignore things that otherwise might impair our vision. There is no race, religion, or social status on the playing field. There are only athletes. Nothing else matters, and that is how it should always be.

Sports cross over the barriers that would otherwise hold us back from meeting other people. Katella, our very own high school, has played teams not only from Anaheim, or Orange County, but teams from other cities and counties. We have played teams from Los Angeles and Palos Verdes in basketball alone. In other sports, we have played even more teams from an even more diverse area.

In the summer of 1984, we watched as the world came to play in our backyard. The XXIIIrd Olympiad showed us that there were things that we had in common with people from other parts of our world. We all share the common language of sports, for one.

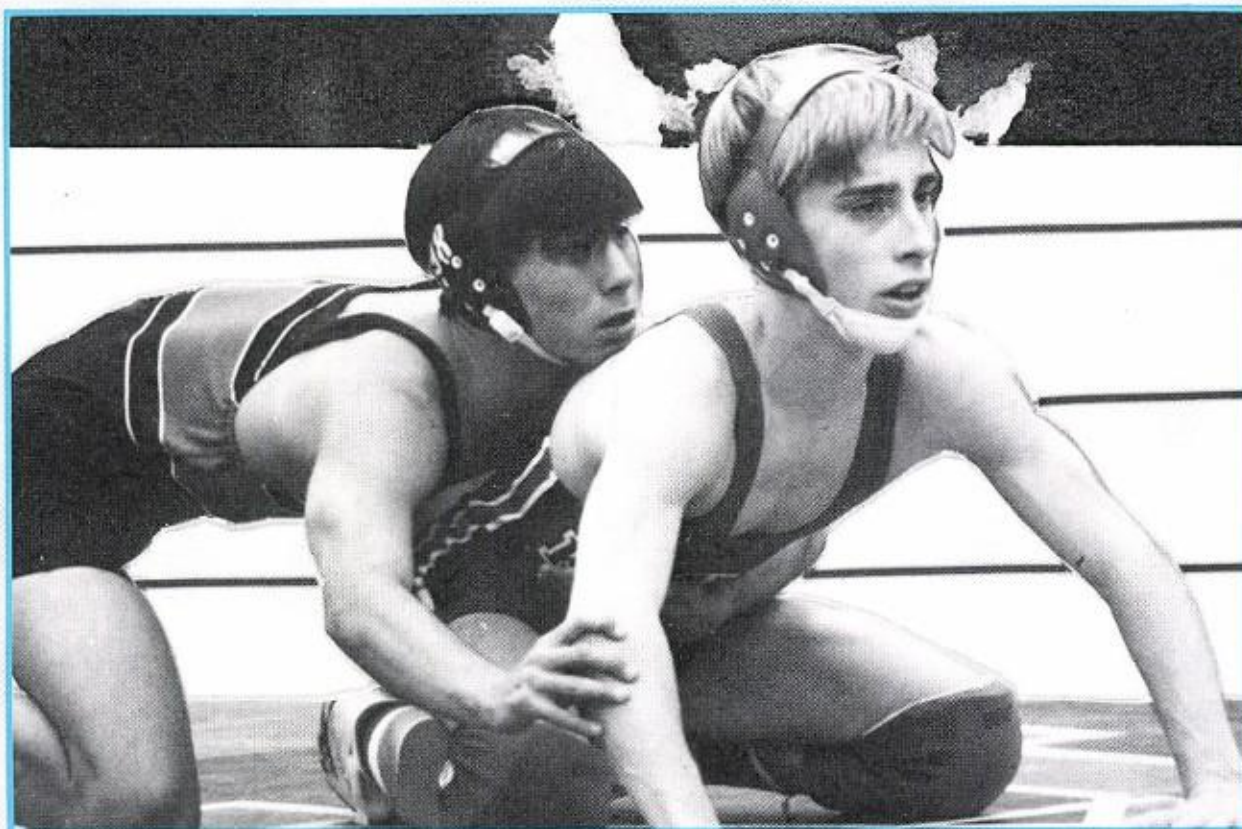

And maybe it also showed us that our world really isn't as big as we think.

Boys Varsity, Miraculous Return to C.I.F. Highlights Cross-Country Season

"Over the hills and through the woods" about covers the scenes of cross country, but the runners of Katella aren't running to grandmother's house, but to the finish line, where many of them will receive various trophies and medals.

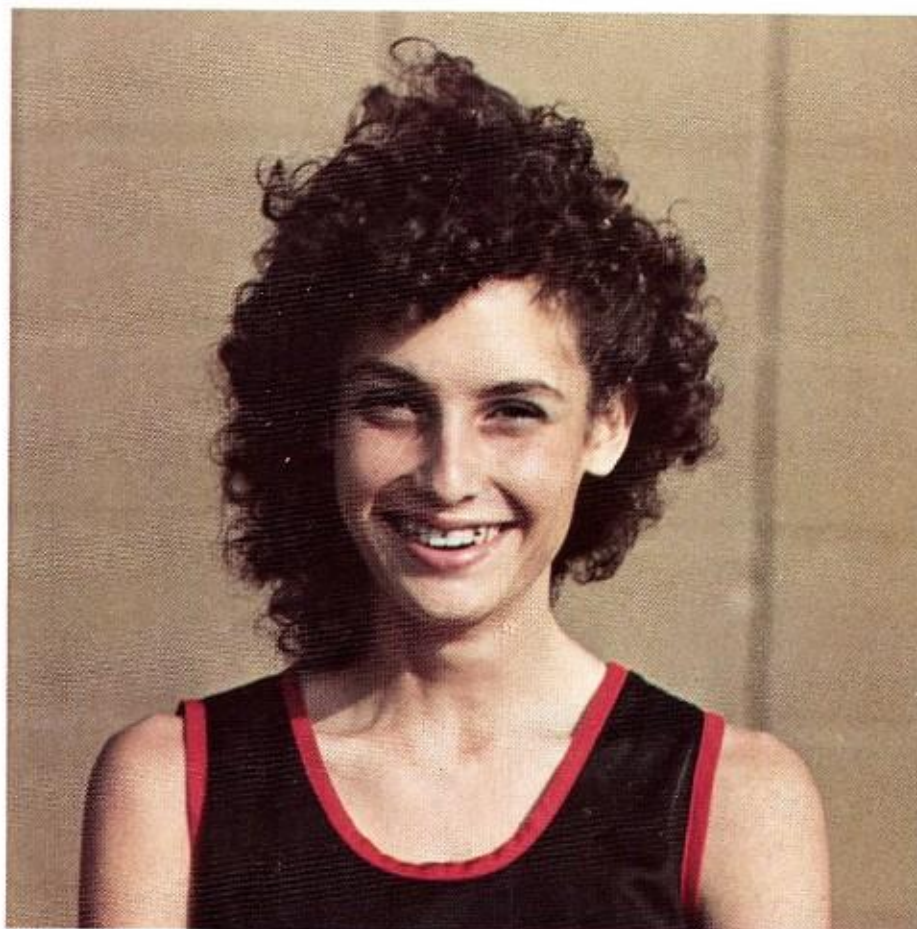

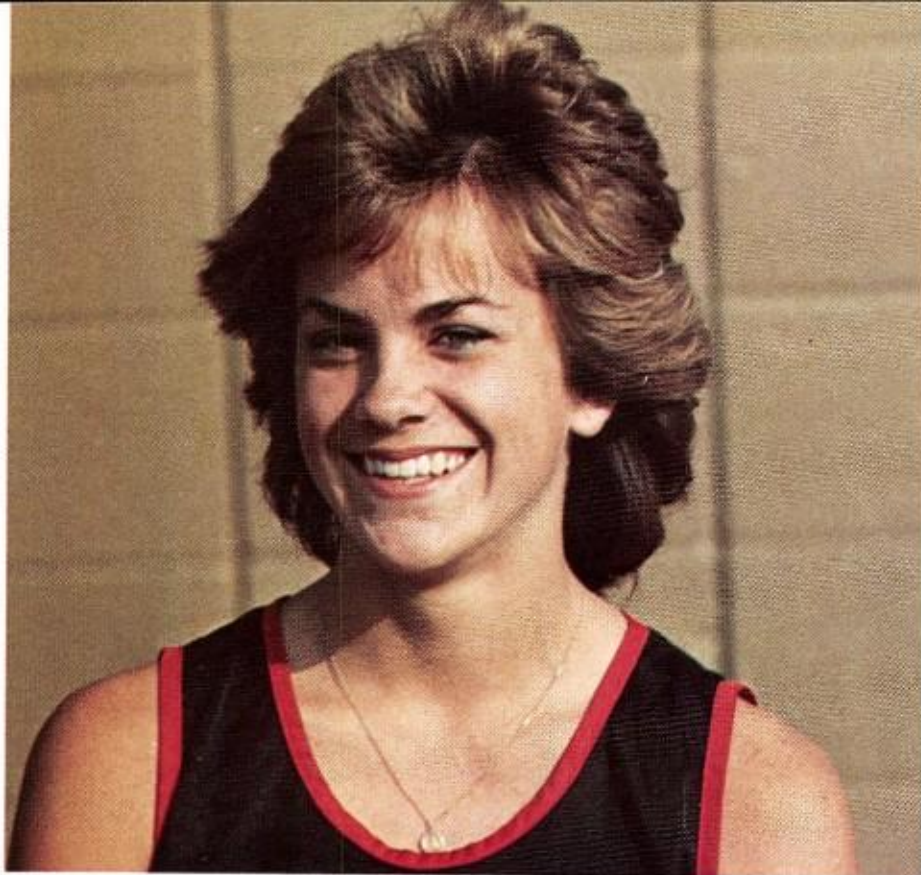

Throughout the 1984 Cross Country season, the boy's Varsity team fought through flu, colds, and other injuries just to make it to the CIF Prelims. Their chance to go to CIF seemed to be a long distance dream after their loss to El Dorado in the dual meet by only one-tenth of a point. The only chance the Knights had, was to go all out at the three mile course of Craig Park in the League Finals and beat El Dorado. With Coach Cochrane going hysterical at the side lines and the other team members cheering them on, the boy's varsity made it to CIF for yet another year. How does the boy's team look for next year? Very strong. With the top runners like David Dement and Marc Caldwell being juniors and Rob Schultz and Jerry Bratcher being sophomores, the team will be a very strong and experienced one.

The J.V. team had a very good season, placing second in league after demolishing their competition in the league meet. The Frosh/Soph team didn't fair as well. They placed eighth in league. Had they had a full team, they would have done well.

The girl's team didn't do much celebrating during their season. They were seventh in league, beating Kennedy in the League meet. The girls were struggling, not only physically but also mentally, with only five members on the team. The girls were mainly running for individual goals, which, for some, came true. main concerns? What will happen next year? The three top runners, Kris Sanchez, Monique Kragten and Michelle Mattson, are seniors and will be leaving to pursue their life time dreams. There doesn't seem to be much hope for next year.

But, as many of the team members feel, it's not the pursuit of winning, it's the fun you have with the other members. In many sports you don't gain the closeness and respect you have for one another as you do in cross country. One team member says, "We're just one big happy family, who could ask for more?"

Who's the main man that holds the family together? Mr. Cochrane. He may get a lot of static when he tells his team to go run eight miles with hills thrown in, but he handles it with a lot of experience and self control. He showed his appreciation for all his runner's hard work at this year's banquet. On the girl's team Michelle Mattson received the Most Improved runner and the Most Valuable was Split between Kris Sanchez and Monique Kragten. On the boy's team, Rob Moore received Most Outstanding Fros/Soph, Marc Caldwell received Most Inspirational, the Most Improved went to Dennis Brunet, Most Valuable went to David Dement who placed second in the Empire League Finals, and Captain went to senior Dan Brunet.

This season may have been a very trying one, but the memories gained made this season an extra special one.

A

2-8 Season; Watson Sparks Hope of Bright Future

Knights give Powerful Esperanza rough Go

The Santa Anna Register had given the 1984 version of the Katella Knights varsity football team a very good review. The team had a new coach, Mr. Watson from Monrovia, and a talented group of assistant coaches. Unfortunately the season ended on the same side of .500 that most of the past Katella teams have. Empire League standings had them sitting 1-6, tied for seventh, 2-8 overall. However that record might sway someone to believe that they weren't very good, the entire season must be taken a look at before it could ever come anywhere near being declared a failure. There are a few things that the high and mighty score board don't show. The Esperanza Aztecs, ranked #3 in Orange County, waltzed into Glover Stadium with a plan to trounce the Knights into the turf hard and fast. It's just too bad the Katella's defense didn't know about the plan, for they went on to hold the Aztecs scoreless until into the third Quarter. The threat of an upset was very strong at halftime, but Katella cross-town rival Loara expected much the same thing, a team that would roll over and play dead while they lit up the scoreboard like a pinball machine. But Katella was hyped up for the game, holding the Sazons to three scoreless quarters before losing 13-0. After the game a worn out Loara coach commented on the "high emotion" and the "Fevered Pitch" at which Katella played.

Magnolia and Cypress have something more in common than just being names of high schools. They were the two victims of the Katella team. Magnolia was defeated soundly in the opening game 20-7. Cypress fell towards the end of the season, 14-6. Both teams could attest to the strengths of the Knights.

Ruiz, Moreno, Portis and Beland Make All-Empire

Although they played a team game, there were many individual efforts that stood head and shoulders above that of their teammates. A total of four Knights received mention from the Empire League, which is one of the toughest in all of Southern California. Two players from offense, two from defense.

Tony Ruiz, the senior class President, received 1st team League defensive honors. Tom Moreno received the nod for second team defense from the League.

On offense, Greg Portis, the amazing sprinter receiver who took a kickoff 90 yards against Villa Park for a touch down, received 2nd team League honors.

Tim Beland, who caught 30 passes for 352 yards, averaging 11.7 yards a catch and 1 TD, received honorable mention. Beland also broke the Katella record for most receptions in a game during this season.

Although Wayne Petrakis received no mention for the league, he deserves mention here. Petrakis, while only a junior and constantly improving throughout the season, passed 215 times, completing 80 for 1117 yards, an average of 124.1 a game and almost 14 yards a completion, plus 7 TD's.

The Knights played an emotional game, never giving up even when the odds were stacked up incredibly against them. They had the all important never-say-die attitude that separates them from other teams with the same, or even better records. Perhaps it was stated best by the head coach of Villa Park, "Katella has a good team, they just need experience," he said. "They have a lot of heart."

Sophs Upset Villa Park While Frosh Post 5-3-1

Katella's two 1984-85 underclassman football teams both started out with high expectations, but ended it at different ends of the spectrum.

Coach Lundquist described the sophomore team as having "the will and desire to win." Unfortunately that will only conquered teams twice, but once was a satisfying victory against high powered Villa Park in what could only be termed as a complete upset. It was one of the few times this 2-7-1 team played to its potential.

Some of the honors for this team went to: John Connolly (Captain, MVP, Outstanding Receiver), Todd Muzi (Captain, Outstanding back), Wade Farley (Most Inspirational), Robert Calhoun (Outstanding Defensive Player), and Jerry Romo (Most Improved).

On the other end was the Freshmen team, who finished 5-3-1. Among their many wins was a victory over their archrivals the Loara Saxons by a score of 28-21. Bubba Clester was credited as playing an important part in the victory.

Honors that went to the Freshmen team include: Bubba Clester (Captain), Jeff Yourstone (Captain, Offensive Player of the year), Dan Briggs (Defensive Player of the Year), Dave Brigham (Most Improved), Sing Vilaysek (Back of the Year, who also on the first play of the year, returned a kick-off for a touchdown), and Jason McCord for Most Inspirational.

Coach Beaumont, commenting on the team, said, "For a Freshmen team we were very close and tight."

Girls Save, Set, & Spike to Best Record Ever: 13-9

The girls volleyball team for this past year did something no other volleyball team in the history of Katella ever had. Their 13-9 year was enough to pull out a fourth place Empire league finish.

Coach Greg Honré, in his fourth year at the helm, left no doubt to his loyalty to the team, leaving his wife and newborn child to lead our team. Honré played college V-ball at Cal State Fullerton.

One of the more outstanding matches came against Esperanza. The girls took the first game from the Aztecs, 15-0, and eventually took it to all five games before being defeated by the perennial league power.

Against El Dorado the lady Knights played a marathon match. Katella showed their complete arsenal of skill and power forcing another five game match. Finally, after three hours, El Dorado fell to the powerful Katella team. In the Savanna Tournament the girls placed 2nd out of twelve teams.

Three members of this years team: Tracy Okumura, Kristy Takacs, and Julie Long, attended Steve George's Volleyball Camp, which was held at Orange Coast College.

The individual awards went like so: MVP's Senior — Kristy Takacs, Junior — Tracy Okumura, and Senior — Joy Danley; Most Improved, Sophomore Serrenda Valdez, Most Inspirational — Senior Julie Asbra; Scholar Athlete Thersa Manley; 1st team All-League Tracy Okumura.

And so it went for the 84-85 team. A team with great mutual admiration. A team with no injuries. A team that went out a winner.

Wampler's Wailers Compile 14-0 Record

Once again the girls varsity tennis team had an outstanding year, missing perfection by only two schools. They finished the year with a magnificent 18-2 overall record, and a 14-0 standing in the Empire league.

The team was led by the outstanding singles play of Michelle Mras and Lynn Davenport, with Ms. Mras being named the LA Times player of the week for her play. The doubles were led by Tia Graff and Monica Davis who received the teams outstanding doubles award. Among the top doubles in the Empire League were Charmain Wight and Cathy Croce, and Sandy Matthews and Denise Rouette.

These lady knights sizzled through their regular season and assuring Katella a fifth consecutive appearance in the C.I.F. playoffs. The on court highlight of the year came with two defeats of the tough Los Alamitos team, 11-7 and 10-8 respectively, assuring the team an Empire League Championship. Off the court there was a memorable experience of having the teams picture taken at the Disneyland Hotel.

The lady knights easily made it past the first two rounds of C.I.F., defeating both of their opponents 15-3. Unfortunately they ran into Westlake in the quarter finals. They suddenly found themselves on the losing end of a 14-4 score.

Next year seems to be somewhat cloudy for the team as five players move up and out of Katella.

On the fund raising side, the lady knights raised about $2500 by working at the Sunland Skiers sale, having a traditional car wash, and selling the dentists best friend, candy.

The 1984-85 awards went as such MVP — Michelle Mras, outstanding doubles — Tia Graff & Monica Davis, Most inspirational — Charmain Wight.

The serious awards were awarded like so: Loud Mouth award — Michelle Mras & Tia Graff; Fickle award — Charmain Wight; Air Head award — Deana Cleveland; Rag award — Cathy Croce; Fashion award — Sandy Matthews; Smile award — Monica Davis; Cosmopolitan award — Denise Rouette.

Young Poloists Torpedo Santiago & Saddleback

The Varsity Water Polo team displayed a tremendous amount of courage this season having to face the long time reigning league champions of El Dorado, and the overpowering strength of both Lakewood and Santa Ana Valley High Schools. There were two high points of the season including the victories over Santiago, with a score of 18 to 11, and Saddle-back, 10 to 8.

Kevin Martel was the starting goalie for the varsity squad with 142 saves. John Thompson led the team in scoring with 35 points. Bob Smey also scored very well, even though being removed from the game 22 times.

The captain for the year was John Thompson, while Bob Smey was selected as the MVP. Most Improved went to Greg Barron.

At the Frosh/Soph level Albert "Albee" Sanchez had 43 saves as the starting goalie. Mike Cashion topped the scoring with 51 points. Also making a big contribution was Mike Chance with 18 points. The captain was Albert Sanchez, MVP Mike Cashion, and Most Improved Mike Pagaduan.

Discipline: Key Word to Season

This season was an interesting one, in that it began last spring. During 6th period the poloists were gathered outside the pool in full sweats to enjoy an hour or so of the infamous "death drill."

They had the summer off to enjoy themselves, but it ended abruptly once school began. Morning practice started at 6:00 a.m. and ended with just enough time to get dressed for school. When 6th period came around they were back in the pool doing one-hundred "Huntington Beach's" and two or three of the ever popular "square one's." Discipline was the standard for this season. Being late, or completely missing a practice without a good excuse, such as death, resulted in at least five-hundred yards of butterfly or the wearing of sweats in the water during practice. This was a funtime even with the hard work, the pain, and the lack of wins.

Katella's 1985 Varsity and Junior Varsity girls soccer team got off to a great start with practices starting at 1:30 and going until late in the evening.

Even though the girls lost several of their games, they still made a great effort against this years tough league.

Varsity won two, tied five and lost the rest. The biggest game of the season was the victory over Loara. Great efforts were made by Most Valuable Player Rikki Smith, Most inspirational Kellie Taylor, and Most Improved, Donna Saunders. The Varsity Coach, Louise Gonzales was a great influence on the team.

Junior Varsity won two games and lost the rest. Even though they had a tough season they still gave it their all, with outstanding efforts by Most Valuable Player, Danielle Martell and Most Inspirational, Melissa Boberg. Junior Varsity Coach, Nora Gonzales, helped the team out with her great enthusiasm.

This year came to a great close for the girls with an exciting banquet held at the Jolly Rogers. The girls participated in getting Coach Louise Gonzales a megaphone with the Varsity players names on it. And the Junior Varsity Coach received a Charm that said 100% fed up. FRUSTRATION MARKS BOY'S VARSITY SOCCER SEASON

It appears that someone in the athletic department ran last year's boys soccer season into a xerox machine and, with only slight changes, placed it out on the field for the 1984-85 season. The Knights finished the season 3-10-1 in fifth place, almost exactly the same as last year. The team fought hard and long, giving their all every game. The only reason they didn't beat a few other teams in the Empire

League was a lack of intensity late in the game. "We could have been ahead of Los Alamitos and Pacifica which are weaker teams," Coach Robert Rojas said, explaining why he thought the Knights could have been in third. This was the second consecutive year the team failed to make the C.I.F. But now it is in the past, and the time has arrived to hope for a brighter future.

Boys Frosh/Soph Soccer A year of learning experience

Katella's 1984-85 Freshman-Sophomore team, sometimes known as the Junior Varsity or J.V. team, completed the year with a very disappointing showing on the soccer field.

The Frosh/Soph team had a very hopeful preseason that had everyone predicting a very prosperous and bright year ahead. They tied El Modena 3-3, and Villa Park, 0-0, while tromping Magnolia, 6-0, and defeating a tough Anaheim team, 3-1. But in reality it was false prediction as to what was to come for the young group of players.

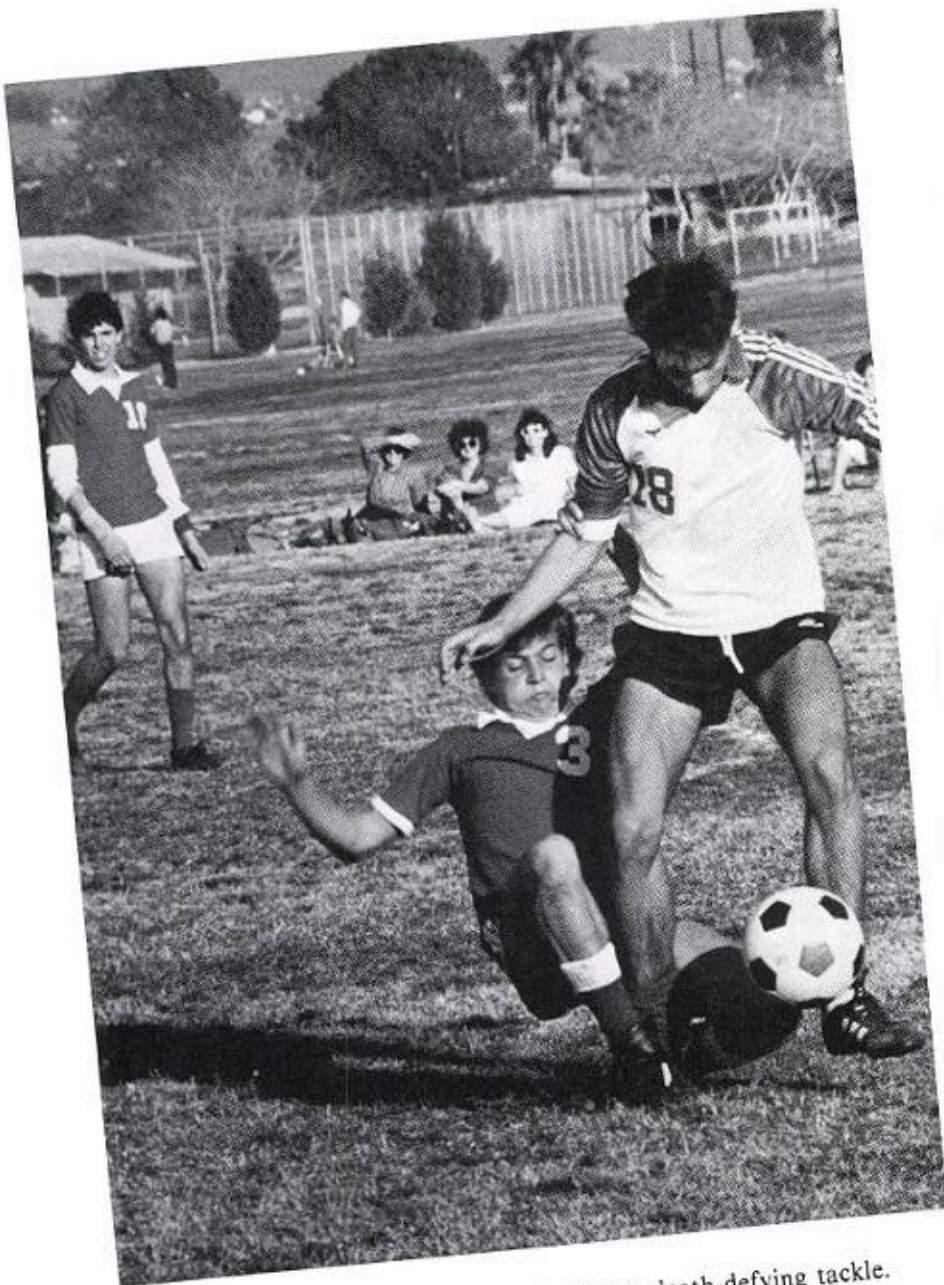

By the end of the year they had posted a 3-10-1 mark, identical to the varsity record, to snatch 7th in the final Empire League Standings.

Two of the three victories came against the Loara Saxons. The first time these two teams clashed, the Knights handily defeated the Saxons, 6-3. The second time Katella barely pulled out a win, 3-2, in one of the toughest games of the year. The third victory came against the Irish of Kennedy, in which the Knights pulled off a 4-2 victory at home.

At the awards banquet Coach Armando Cendejas awarded the Most Valuable Player, Outstanding Defense Player, Outstanding Offensive Player and Most Improved. Not an outstanding year, but one to learn from and build upon to make the future teams of Katella better than ever.

Varsity Matmen Take League Title, Miss Perfection by One

If we can't have one loss and win the league," Coach Werschke said at the pep assembly, "then we'll have to go undefeated!" Well, the Varsity Wrestling team missed perfection by one, losing in an upset to El Dorado, 24-22.

Overall the team ended up ranked number 2 in Orange County, along with winning the Empire League Championship for the first time after spending too many years in the shadow of such teams as Loara.

The Knights won the Estancia tournament to start off their excellent year, which only went uphill from there. When they started league play they steam-rolled opponents, including Loara, who they beat for the first time in many moons.

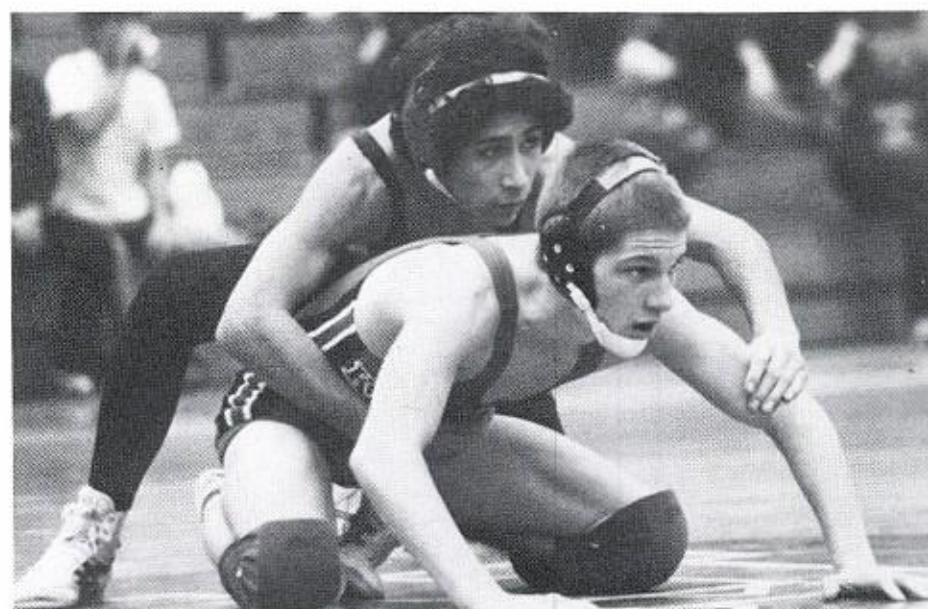

Their one loss came after an exciting pep assembly. During that assembly Mr. Werschke taught the crowd how and when to cheer for the team that night.

With the help of a few of the wrestlers, he taught the crowd a little bit about some of the moves and holds. Eventually he built the crowd up to a fevered pitch, as they cheered their team to do their best against El Dorado, or "ElDork" as they were known that week, who was at that point challenging them for first place. Unfortunately they lost, in what could only be called the most emotional match of the year.

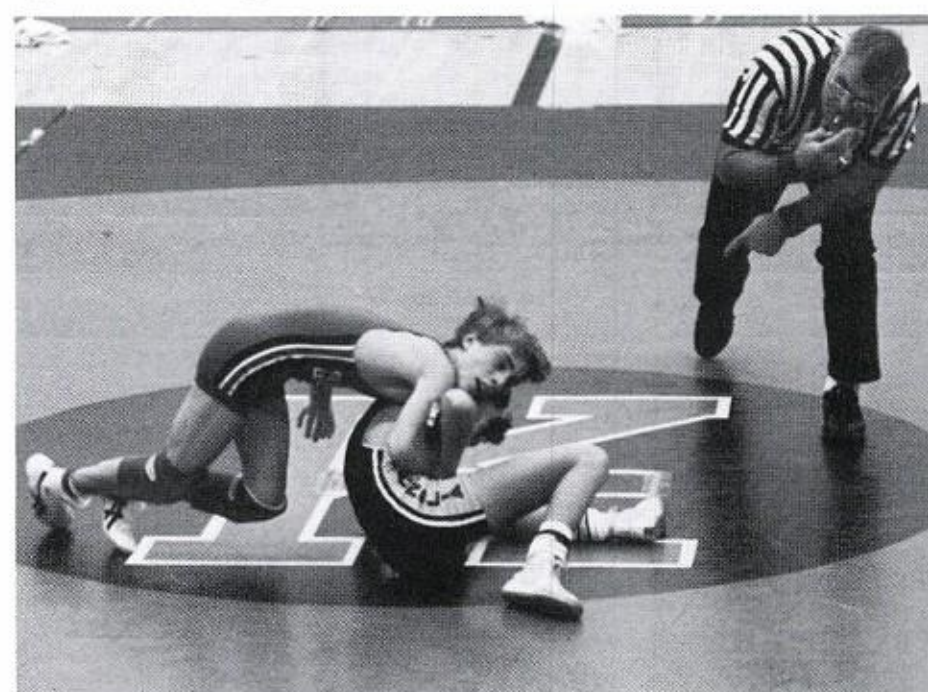

But no one could take away the league title.

Individual awards went like this: Dave Bestenlehner — Captain, MVP, Most Inspirational, Scholar Athlete and #3 in CIF; Don Chrisman — Most Improved; Matt Post — Coach's Award; Phil Graham — Rookie of the Year; Tony Ruiz — #5 in CIF; Jim Devore — #6 in CIF.

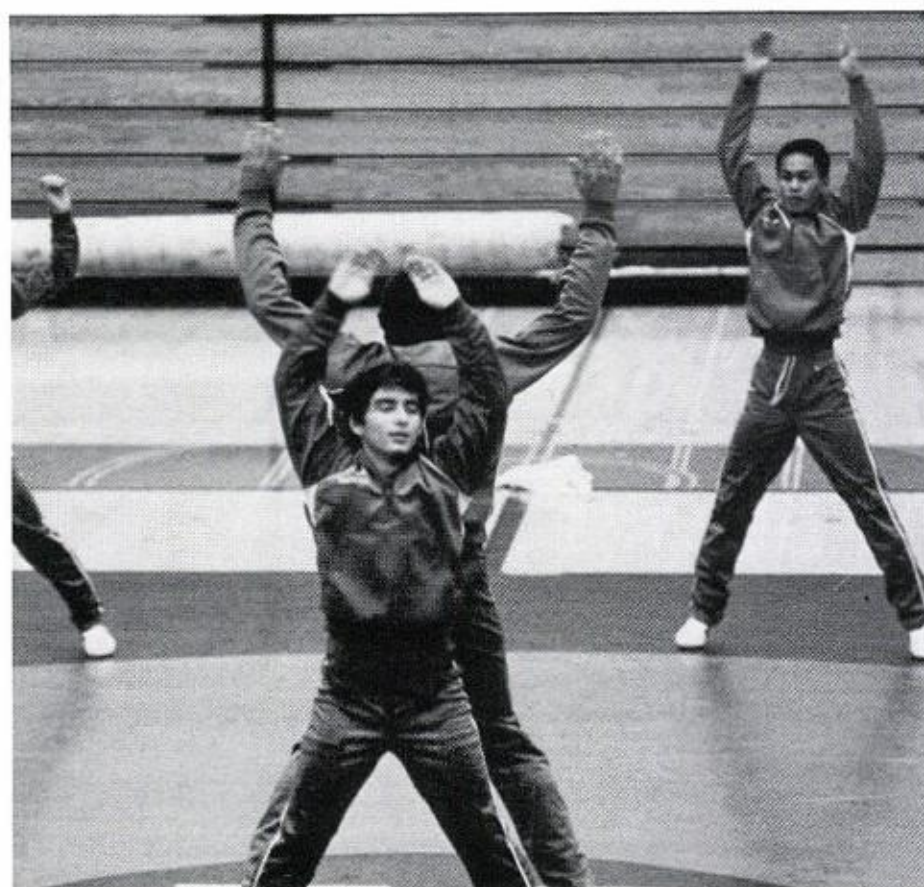

All in all a tremendous year for Katella's Varsity Matmen.

Led by the immortal Coach Jack "Brick" Wiedenman, the J.V. matmen wrestled their way through a tough Empire League schedule to capture the league crown.

Knights Steam all the Way to 3rd Round of CIF

Damien Finally Derails Knight Train

The 1984-85 Varsity Roundball season started out with a major tragedy. In the first game of the Valencia Tourney, against Rancho Alamitos, Richard Lucas (a 6'6" soph) broke his leg when he slipped and fell on a breakaway layup. They went on to lose the game by a shot at the buzzer. The Knights then proceeded to the consolation finals where they defeated El Modena. Bob Erbst received Offensive Player of the tournament.

In the final game of the Anaheim Tournament the Knights played Edison (Fresno), who was then ranked number 4 in the state, in the finals. In a double overtime battle the Knights defeated Edison. Bob Erbst had 32 points, and was named MVP of the tournament. Steve Bennett was also named to the all tournament team.

The Knights easily defeated Servite in the final of the Katella Klassic. Bob Erbst was named MVP of the tourney, and Steve Bennett was named to the all tournament team.

In their first league game against El Dorado, the Hawks shot 69% for the game to hand Katella its first league loss. Against Kennedy, Bob Erbst, with 5 seconds left, threw a bad pass which the Irish intercepted and scored on at the buzzer to hand Katella a 1 point loss. The Knights were then 0-2.

The Knights then won their next 10 league games to become 10-2. They even pushed their second game against El Dorado into overtime. Unfortunately Don Yourstone had a turnover which El Dorado converted to two points. The Knights tried to play catch-up ball, but still lost. But the Knights still finished third in the league, one game behind Kennedy and El Dorado who tied for first.

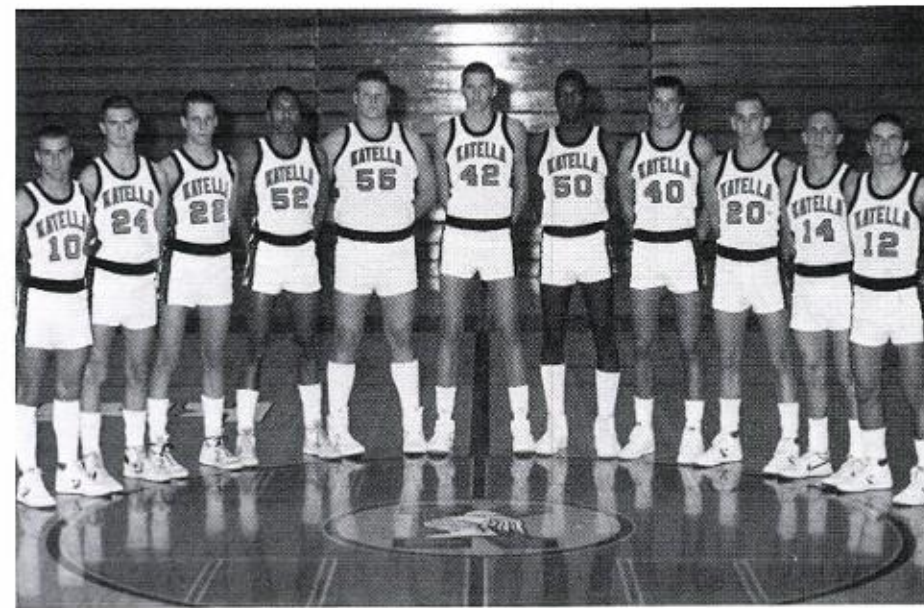

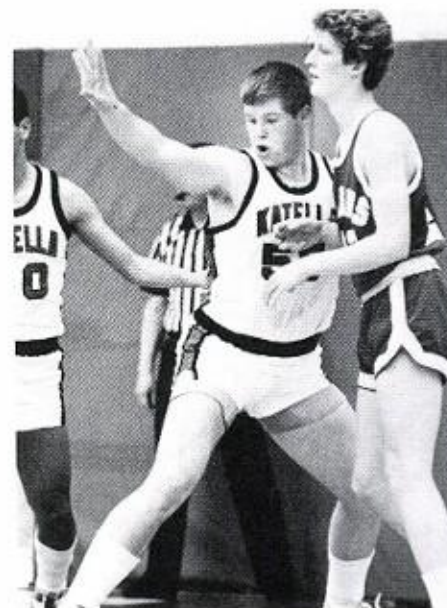

Bob Erbst Selected to L.A. Times 1st Team All-County

Bennett & Yourstone Also Honored

The Knights out shot Buena Park in the first round of CIF. Dave Linker had 27 points to lead Katella to victory. In the second CIF game against Burbank, Katella blew a nine point lead in the fourth quarter. It came down to 2 seconds and the Knights had the ball under their own basket. Dave Linker threw a pass to Bob Erbst for the basket at the buzzer to advance the Knights to the quarter-finals.

Katella played Damien High School at the Glendora High Gym. Damien proved they were more than a match for Katella, only missing two shots in the entire first half. Erbst, though, had 23 points in the first half, giving Katella a precarious two-point lead. However, Erbst and Donnelly sat out the third quarter in foul trouble, watching Damien shoot 76% from the floor to out-score the Knights.

The honors for the Knights went like this: Bob Erbst-LA Times 1st team All-County, Register 3rd team All County, Offensive Player of the team, All Big-A Empire, 1st team All-Empire; Steve Bennett — 1st team All-Empire, 3rd team All Big-A Empire; Don Yourstone — 3rd team All-Empire.

J.V., Soph., Frosh Win .662

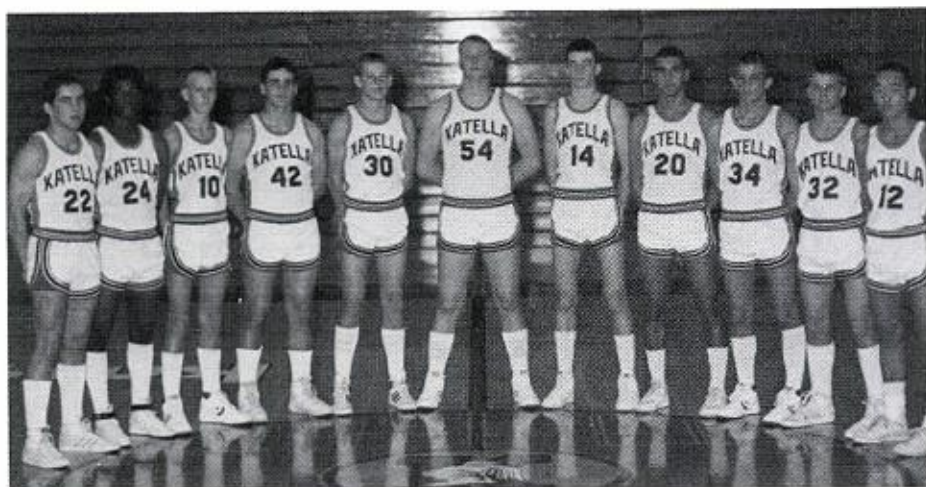

Katella's underclassmen basketball teams stormed through their regular seasons with a combined record of 43-22 (.662), and the JV and Sophomore teams each pulling out a second place finish.

The J.V. team ended the league play 11-3, one game out of first, and 14-7 overall. Two of the JV players were promoted to the varsity team before league play even began, causing the team to rearrange their entire play. They won only three of their first five games, but then everything came together. They proceeded to win 8 out of the next nine to miss first place by 1 game. The co-captains were Jim Anderson and Earl Boberg, with John Sunu capturing Rookie-of-the-Year.

Katella's sophomore squad finished 8-5 with a 12-2 mark in league, 17-4 overall. The only two losses they suffered were at the hands of Cypress who ended the season undefeated and 2 games ahead of Katella. Before league play the sophomores won the Santiago tournament by beating Valencia 53-52. Awards went to: Eric Taylor — Captain, Matt Goodrich — Offensive Player of the Year, and Todd Lawmaster — Coaches Award.

The Frosh team, 9-5 in league and 12-11 overall, was a team that lacked real talent. But they more than made up for it in desire and hustle. They demolished Loara again 78-28, rolled over El Dorado and Esperanza 80-57 and 89-66 respectively. They also had a 102 point game against Pacifica, 102-95. Awards went like so: MVP — Jeff Yourstone, Captain — Bubba Lester, Most Improved — Ian Donnelly, and Most Inspirational — Sing Vilaysak.

New Frosh/Soph Builds Threat For Katella's Opponents

For 1984-1985 Katella's basketball program had the addition of one new team. The girls frosh/soph team. They joined the girls JV and Varsity to make the girls Basketball program an official triple threat. This team has the capability to work together and the desire to win as a team.

The three teams were led into action by Varsity Coach McAulay, Junior Varsity Coach Kruse, and Frosh/Soph Coach Murslian.

All of the teams had a relatively successful year, and all of them look forward to what could be only more success for the women and young ladies of Katella's Girls basketball program.

CIF Again for Netters

First year coach Don Morrell displayed his versatility as a coach by running an organized, spirited program. He used some football stretches to loosen up his charges and then had the guys do the famed "Katella 6"; a hitting drill. Once again Los Al proved to be a nemesis to the Knights. As predicted Katella lost to the Griffins in both matches. Our team was also surprised by El Dorado in a mild upset. The match served as an eye opener however, and served to make the netters evaluate their season in realistic terms. In the next El Dorado match Katella again lost but they played very close to their "max" Potential losing by a mere 2 points.

Katella ended the season in third place with a 10 win 4 loss record. The third place finish allowed them to advance to the CIF which was one of their preseason goals. One injury during the season probably affected the season outcome. Don Dolandson suffered a stress fracture in his foot, putting him on the shelf for the entire year. He was the guy who could have made the difference in the tight matches.

Ashik Patel was the number one player on the team and was also rated in the top 50 in Southern Cal. He was undefeated during league play. O.J. Tatsuta, only a sophomore, lost only once during league. Steve Linstrom and Steve Lee were singled out as having made tremendous improvement. The team elected Ashik Patel and Dan Brunet as captains. The tennis players flashed a brainy side too.

Badminton Captures Illustrious Empire League Title

One of the more little known sports at Katella, yet one that is growing in popularity is Badminton. For the second consecutive year this team has captured an illustrious, and much sought after, Empire League title to bring back to Katella. Along with a league title, they were also a strong favorite and one of the top ceded teams in C.I.F.

Both the high and the low point of the season came against our archrivals, Kennedy. The first time we met, the Irish downed the Knights to capture first place in the league. But we waited patiently for the rematch. When we met again Katella fought and clawed, slowly coming out of the match with a winning game and a share of the league crown they never relinquished.

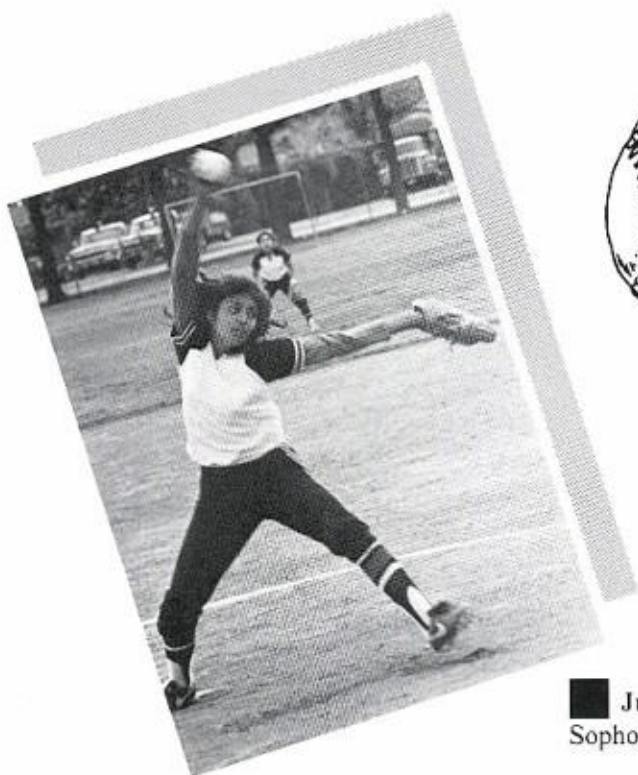

A team record dropped as Katella whipped a seemingly defenseless Anaheim High School team, 29-0, making themselves out to be juggernauts of the badminton world. For a team that consists of mostly underclassmen, Katella raised a number of eyebrows in 1985. To dispell the rumor of badminton being a "sissy" sport, wrestlers Joe Kim and Steve Pagaduan joined the team.

With all this, is it any wonder why Coach Richard Grauman predicted a successful '86.

Young Knights Construct Solid Defensive Walls

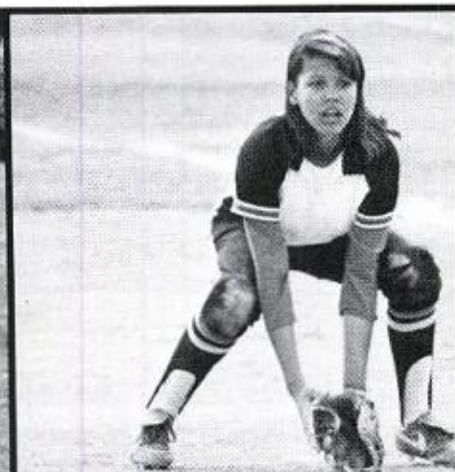

Big bad Esperanza received their bumps and bruises from a young impudent Knight softball team. In a game that was finally decided in the last inning when Deanne Cox drove in her double play partner, short-stop Julie Standerling. The game ended with Katella winning 3-2. The real excitement came when Cherie Gardner singled, Sparky Cox followed with a single, and Spanky Standerling bunted aboard to jam the bases. And then Becky Jacobson, just a Freshman, slashed a single to drive in two runs.

Standerling turned out to be one of the defensive stars of the game, as she started a double play with the bases loaded and relieved to save the game for Deanne Cox.

The girls had a 3-13 season which is not too bad when one considers that eight girls on the team were either Frosh. or Sophomores. This year's team was very strong in the defensive department. In fact it has been said that Spanky Standerling and Sparky Cox form the best double play "combo" in the league. They've turned six during the season.

The team suffered only one serious setback during the year and that occurred when Julie Ramiriz split her pitching hand against Loara and the wound required eight stitches. On a positive beat Julie Standerling has been chosen to join a USA team and play in Hong Kong.

■ Kelli Johnson, 10th. grade catcher, was good at blocking the plate.

Mac's Men Fry Opponents Domination Stands

Continuing along in one of Katella's stronger lasting athletic program's tradition, the Varsity Baseball put together what was incredibly destructive to any and all opposing teams. After a poor start the Knights seemingly got their act together and took it on the road, making other Empire League teams rather squeemish at seeing Katella listed on their schedule. At the Loara Tournament, before Katella began to realize their potential, they were knocked out fast and painlessly by teams that simply seemed to overwhelm the dormant Katella attack. But instead of being down on themselves they picked themselves up, dusted off a bit, and roared into the Santa Ana Elks Tourney. There they stormed through to capture the second place trophy. They then proceeded to have a ten game winning streak overwhelming opposing teams left and right. When the dust finally settled at the end, the Knights had chalked up an over all mark of 14-5, and a league mark of 9-2, to capture a bench in C.I.F. Also, 84-85 was the Knights best finish since 1980, with the help of pitchers Chris Doll (5-1) and Jerry George (8-2). To put it as simply as possible, the '85 Knights has set the standard for all Katella teams to meet.

JV/Soph/Frosh Baseball Shine Through With Class

Katella's two underclassmen baseball teams, having mediocre and spectacular years, were joined by a brand-spanking-new Freshman Team in '85. However it was the J.V. and Sophomore teams that outshone the new member of the Katella baseball class. The Sophomores came within viewing distance of perfection, finishing the year 17-1 overall, 12-0 in league. Strong pitching was the stronger points of Knight attack. Led by 5-0 starters Travis Driscoll and Matt Goodrich, plus 5-0 reliever Marc Gerdes, the sophomores put together one of the more enjoyable years ever. The J.V. finished 85 with a mediocre 6-6 in league, 11-8 overall. Among their accomplishments is a consolation championship in Foothill Tourney. The J.V. Knights defeated everyone in the tough Empire at least once, except for the ever tough Cypress club, who became the top dog in the league. Overall, the underclassmen Knights have shown the promise to keep Katella on top in the high school baseball world.

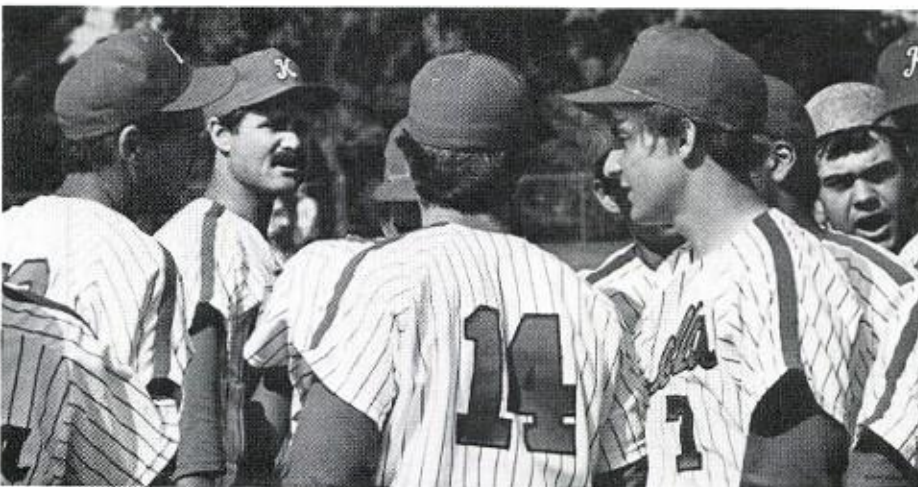

Shifting up to another gear, John Paboojian chugs home with a Knight run.

Scott Beaumont Backstrokes Into CIF

Coach Roy Brown's very young team compiled a 13 win 31 loss record on the year. The breakdown was: Boy's Varsity 3-8, Girl's Varsity 2-9, Girl's JV 3-8, and the best record was turned in by the Boy's Frosh/Soph team 5 wins and 6 losses. Top point getters for the varsity were Joe Brideau with 105 ½, Scott Beaumont 104, and Jim Williams 94 ½. On the Girl's varsity Rae Lynn West compiled 107 ½ points. On the Frosh/Soph team Travis Rose stacked up 102 points.

Sophomore Scott Beaumont, unbeaten during the league season, is the only Knight who continued on to the CIF. He won the league finals in the 100 yd. backstroke. His best time during the season was a very fast 57:1.3 seconds. Scott incidentally has the fifth fastest time in Southern California.

The swim team worked hard and still had time for some fun. The Crescent Seven made themselves known to all. Nicknames were given to Rae Lynn West — Buffy, Scott Beaumont — Twiggy, and Scott Rogers was dubbed Mouse. Coach Brown is glad to have so many swimmers back for the 86 season.

Tracksters Share Same Goal

What sport runs circles around all others? If you said Katella Track, you're absolutely right!

Track is one of the rare sports that allows a mixed group of people with their different talents to come together and share their joys and disappointments as one. Whether you can jump, throw, sprint, run long distance or just have the skill to try something new your sport is track.

This year the members of the Katella Track Team can proudly walk into the gym and gaze up at the Empire League Championship Banner that has a newfound home with all the others. The Boys' Varsity had a successful 1985 track season.

They went into the League Meet undefeated and had a grasp on the Championship. Katella came out sharing the title to a strong Cypress team. All members reached high marks, each helping their team in some way. A few select people went on to CIF. Among them were David Dement in the mile, Terry Johnson in the 110 hurdles, the 100 and 200 yard dash. Greg Portis in the triple jump and the 100 yard dash, Shawn Donnelly in the long jump, and the 440 relay made up of Greg Portis, Shawn Donnelly, Brian Cales and Terry Johnson. The Frosh/Soph team finished the season in second place. Top scorers were Bill Ashmore, Brad Enochs, Omar Ortiz, Jim

The Girl's Varsity finished their season in fifth place. Top scorers were Kim Brophy, Joy Danley, Monique Kragten, Amy Melton, Kelly Rader, Kris Sanchez and Rikki Smith. Amy Melton also broke the discus school record with her 114' 11" throw. Kim Brophy went on the CIF in the shot put.

The track team wouldn't have had such a successful season without the coaches. Coach Coachrane kept everything smooth throughout the first annual jog-a-thon and the Katella Relays with his wit and support. The other coaches included Mr. Hunt (Shot and Discus), Mr. Wilkins (High Jump), Mr. Fischl (Hurdles), Mr. Hobner (Pole Vault) and our retiring Sprint coach Mr. Bighead.

The season was completed with a tremendous team joy and a special house decorating night. The graduating seniors finished their high school athletic career with many new friends and many new memories. The Best of Luck in the years to come.

|| THE SCHOLARS

- Senior, Steve Kennedy, performs his lab in physics.
- Gary Birhanzel and Paul Greedy work on a car in autoshop.
- Thailia Kanarakis thinks of a thought from the tip of her pencil.

School, no matter how hard it is for some extremely stubborn students to realize, is not only a place for a large social gathering. School, in our case Katella High School, is a place to receive an education that will help us as we venture beyond the walls of protection our parents and teachers have constructed around us.

The knowledge we each receive depends on our, and our parents, choices. Therefore we have each received variations off of the same basic structure that the school district has set in front of us.

We all have taken different paths that will lead us, hopefully, to the destination we dream of. And our High School education plays an important part in our future.

For some, the knowledge Katella gives us will serve as the last post of formal education in our life. It will be our shield to save us from drowning in ignorance, and it will be the only thing to help us progress.

Others will use the education Katella gave us as a foundation to build on with more education. It will be the stabilizer, the basics that a college education will grow and flourish on.

So it is obvious that what subjects will be taught to us at Katella is of the utmost importance in our lives at this point. Without it we would drown in the sea of ignorance, and our future education would collapse from such a soft base to build upon.

However, unlike others whose plight is far less fortunate than ours, we have seemingly endless supply of diverse courses to help us nurture the talents, skills and abilities we have into a promising and bright future.

Katella is far luckier than other schools. Here there are many different academic departments, all supported equally by a tremendous staff and willing student body.

With a Katella education to help brace us for a future that holds many, so many, different possibilities, we are fortunate.

And, perhaps, we take time to give a thought of silent thanks for the many academic opportunities our high school has given us.

Creativity Breaks the Barriers of Language & Lit.

To say Language was an important part of life would be one of the greatest understatements of all time. Language is a major factor of life. Without it communication would virtually grind to a halt. There would be no way to let hardly any of your feelings or opinions to be known. To put it quite bluntly, life would be a bummer.

Katella contributes mightily to helping students understand language. Despite the griping of teen-agers when English classes are spoken of, some actually know there is a method to the madness.

English classes give students the knowhow to express themselves more clearly, and to understand someone else more precisely. The teachers of these classes take great pride in knowing they contributed to helping someone grow.

Taking a foreign language is very important in such a mixed cultural and ethnic background as such exists in America. Here you can learn to communicate as others do, and to see and appreciate things as they do.

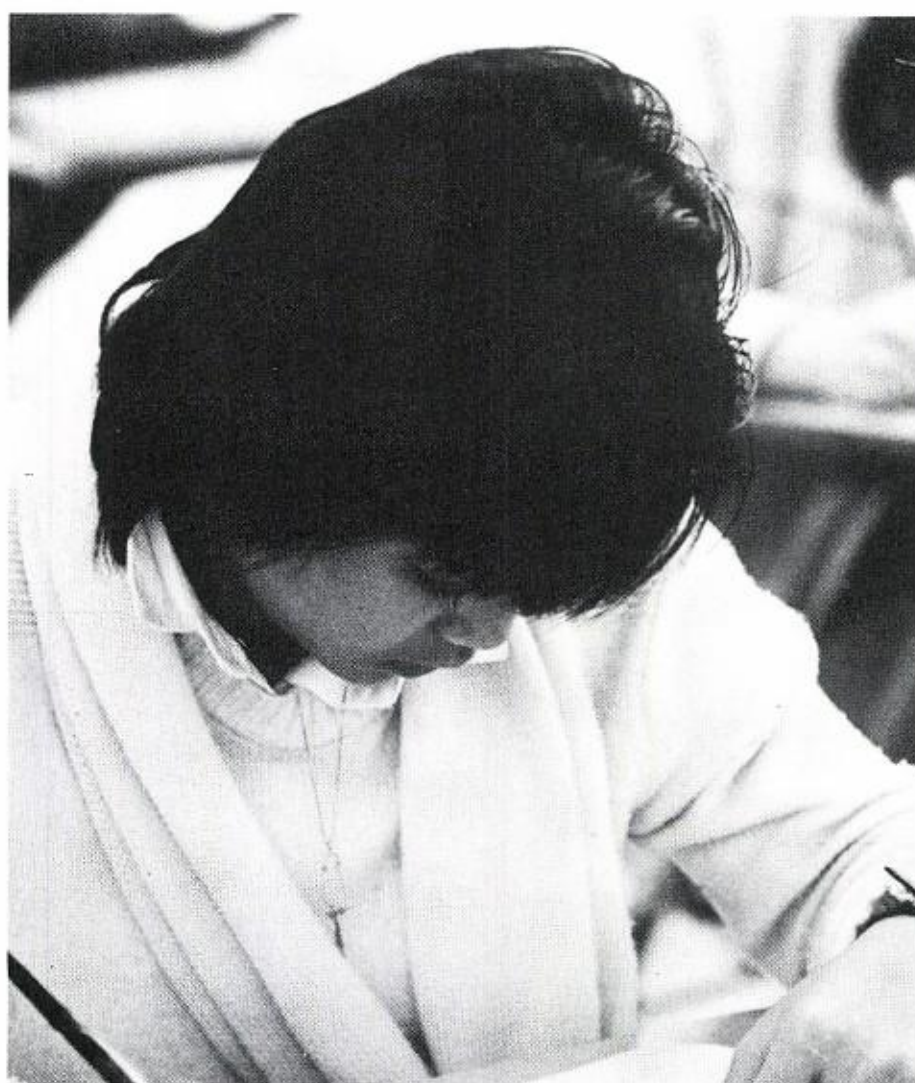

Languages are infinitely important to our growth as thinking beings. If anyone tries to convince you otherwise, just smile. They couldn't try to convince you of too much without using language.

■ Jay Garner perks up his eyes to a new creative idea to express his feelings.

Through Dissection Students Discover the World

SCIENCE

While you probably won't discover a cure for cancer, clone a human being, or split an atom, you will discover many incredible things about the world we live in.

Katella's own staff of ace scientists, the teachers, will take us through their wonderful world of science. With courses such as biology, chemistry, life science, physics, A.P. biology, and physical science, some of the wonders of the universe can be sat out before us.

Although one year of science, and for some students two or more, is required, many students chose to go on. Bigger and better challenges await those who venture onward. And satisfaction is close behind.

Science is one of the more tremendous departments and courses offered at a high school. Add Katella's incredible instructors and willing students and you have reached sciences full potential.

Social Science is a very integral part of our life. These subjects, known as world history, US history, economics and political science, commonly known as government, give us things that can be priceless as we grow mentally.

What does it show us? World history shows us how society began, sometimes faltered, but basically progressed to where we are today.

US history tells us of the beginning of our great country. It shows some of the basic hows and whys our country is the way it is today. From it, we learn about some of the men who helped make our country great.

Economics gives us the important reasons why money makes our country tick. From the Federal Reserve Bank to the stock exchange, Econ. gives us indepth insights into the monetary system of our country, and the world.

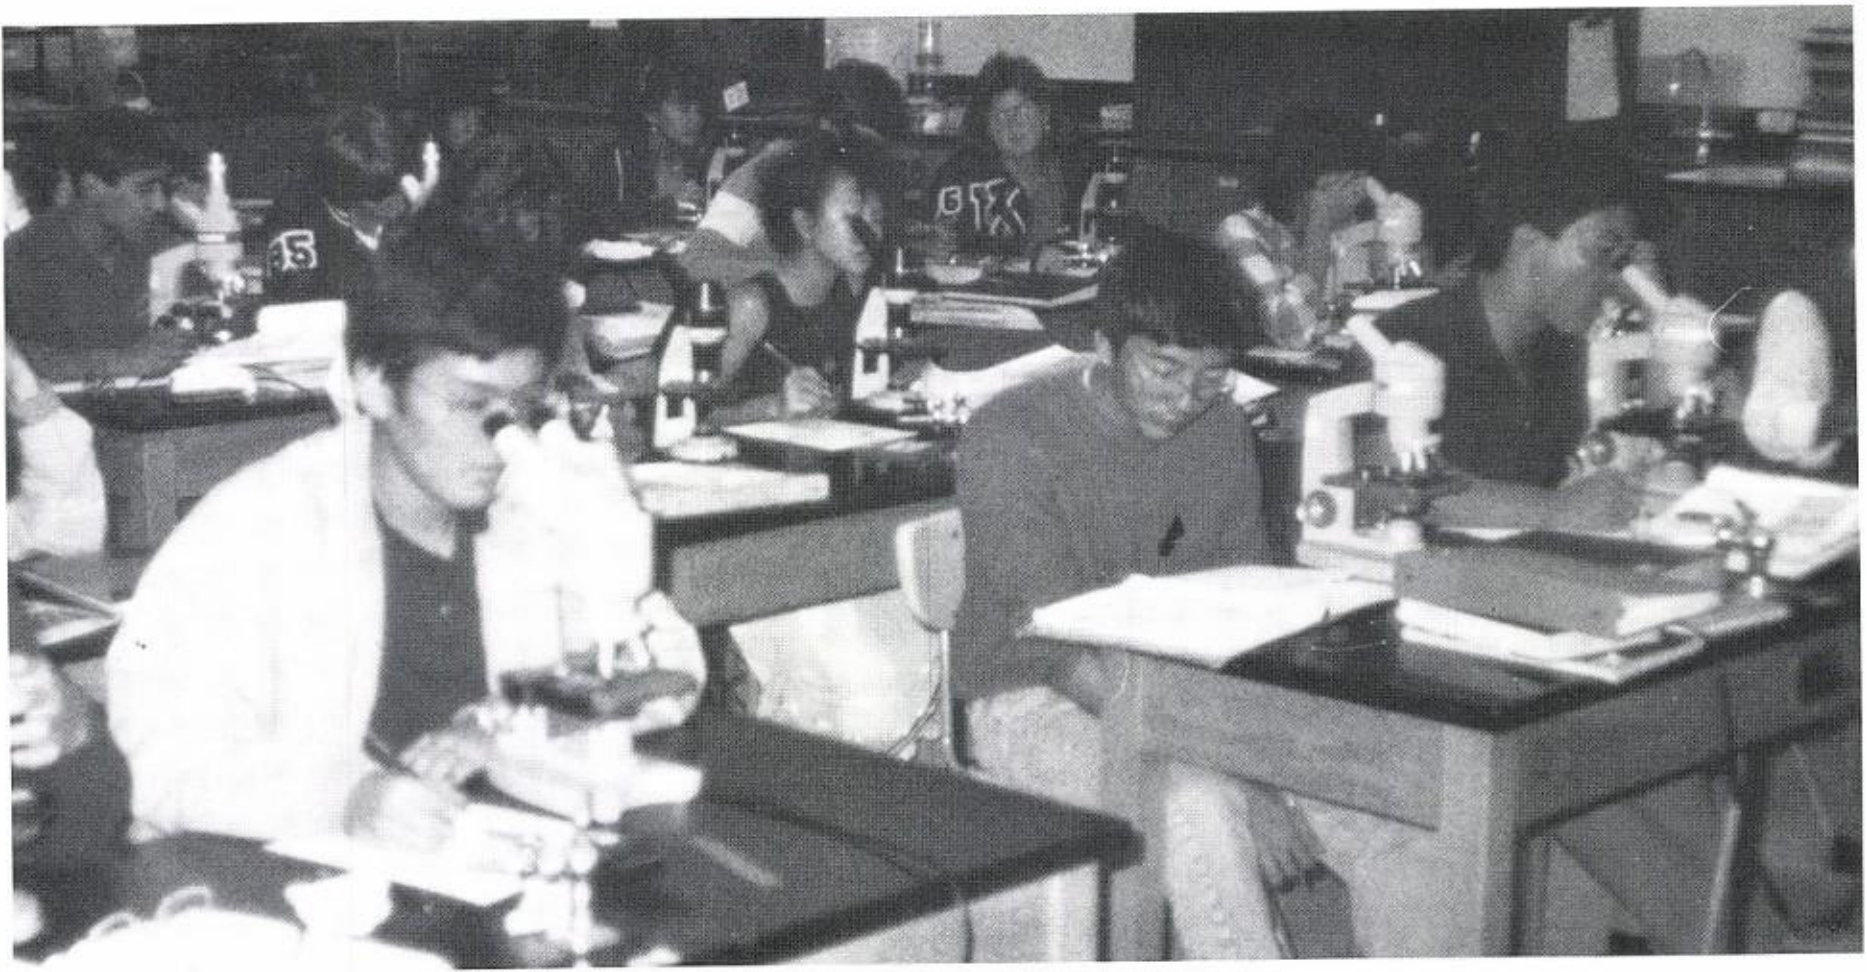

Government gives us the ins and outs of the American political and governmental system, today and yesterday, straight from the black-and-white of the constitution.

Combined the above with the amazing teachers on our campus, and social science becomes one of Katella's stronger departments.

Business/Math/Physical Ed All Come Together

Out in back of the school, lurking below the eaves of the gym, is Katella's physical Education Department, more commonly known as P.E.

With Athletic Director Tom Danley, who doubles as P.E. coach and triples as Basketball coach, at the helm, Katella has continuously had the best P.E. departments around.

P.E. has always been enjoyed by the students at Katella. It is, after all, the only class in which you can work out the frustrations and tension of a particularly bad day with a physical workout. Also, how many classes can you be fierce competitors with your friends, and then be friends again afterwards, while the whole time moving yourself toward being physically fit?

The Athletic Division of the department has been almost inhumanly successful. Year after year, Katella's basketball program has been one of the strongest in the county. Along with the wrestlers, tennis, swimming, baseball, drill team (yes, drill team), track, and many other sports, Katella has proved that a little physical diversion makes the regular academic classes go a lot smoother.

Numbers. Whether you like it or not people have to deal with them every day. How many hours did I work this week? How much money do I owe my friends? How far overdrawn is my bank account? All these good things are used every day by everyone. And with the price of a basic computer dropping toward five dollars everyone is going to want to know more about math.

Enter Katella's own illustrious staff of expert mathematicians more commonly known as math teachers. With them to guide us take our hand as it were we enter the wonderful world of math.

Everything from algorithms to z planes are taught to us in these classes. They range from consumer math to calculus. We can learn percentage, quadratic formulas, right angles and variables among other things.

Students complain about their math classes left and right, bellyaching about homework, grouching over harsh teachers and a numerous assortment of other complaints. But deep down, they understand that math is an instrumental part of their learning experience.

Debit Accounts Payable, credit cash type those reports. Warm up the computer and pop in the disk. Hey did we actually make any more money or what. How much tax do we owe?

Ho Hum another day in the business department. Boring? Only if you no longer among the living. Enter the world of business and you've stepped into the world of high finance and fast living. But that's not all there are other benefits to taking a business course other than trying to get a career out of it.

Accounting can help you to balance your books in the future. Typing can help you tidy up that report or impress a friend a letter that can be easily read. Shorthand can help you get those notes you need written in a more complete form for that report. Business Machines and computers are beneficial to anyone and everyone for the plain and simple fact that the world's going nowadays.

Getting involved with Katella's business department can, and will be beneficial to everyone concerned.

■ Coach Roy Brown.

■ Dan Stander decides what else to do with the computer.

Old Traditions Bring New Talents

HOME EC.

Cooking and sewing, the Home Economics Department at Katella, used to be considered a set of classes as exclusively for girls as shop was for boys. However in past years the sex barrier on these classes has been broken and their popularity has increased.

Learning to sew, knit, cut, maim and mutilate material into something that was originally planned on a pattern, the equivalent of a blue print, is something that many upon many student will find useful. Using patterns may not be of utmost importance, but knowing how to repair torn or ripped clothing is invaluable experience for anyone to have.

Cooking has become an extremely successful set of classes at Katella, probably because of its use of food, a teens best friend. Learning culinary expertise in the kitchen is something amazing, but just learning the basics of cooking can be just as important has to eat to survive.

Katella has been fortunate to have such an extremely competent staff to run their home ec department.

With luck, although none is really needed, the department will continue to expand its popularity.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Going another path apart from Katella's basic academic grind, is the famed industrial art, and also the fine arts, department.

Even though the biggest share of the classes set out behind the school like something that would be too embarrassing for anyone to see, Industrial Arts are one of the most popular set of elective classes at our, or most any, high school.

From wood to metal, auto to drafting, all the way to photography, Industrial Arts teach people who take the things that they will use the rest of their lives. Combined willing students with incredibly knowledgeable teachers, and the learning experience will be fantastic.

If regular old art, drawing painting, and ceramics, are more your bag, Katella has a fantastic Fine Arts Department. In these classes the student will learn, from the finest teachers around, how to refine their artistic talents to the paramount of its possibilities. Even if one only likes to dabble in art, Katella most definitely has a class for everyone in its Fine Arts Department.

■ Mr. Fried commences the traditional tug-of-war.

■ Coach Beaumont looks on his team in anticipation of a victory.

THE MENTORS

■ Coach Young records the scores of his team.

■ Mr. Schneck demonstrates the art of ceramics.

■ Mr. Wagner keeps time while giving musical cues to students.

When the dust finally settles in June, and it is time to take a look at the year of school that has just passed, students will generally tend to forget one very important set of people who helped them to reach that point in time. Teachers.

It is they who remain the unsung heroes of the education system. Teachers are the ones who give unselfishly of themselves and their time to help enrich the lives of the students who pass before them.

Unfortunately, the students lose sight of that fact. Instead, they take the teachers who help them for granted. The students tend to forget that the person in front of the room instructing them is a human being doing them a favor.

Even the exceptional teachers, the ones who are well liked, are forgotten and never thanked. The situation is unfortunate.

Maybe, in the future, some students will take the time to go up and thank their teachers for giving so much to them . . .

THE UNSUNG HEROES

They remain mostly out of sight, doing the job "someone has to do" for our school. They look not for glory and fame from their jobs, but simple satisfaction of a job well done.

They don't teach, yet we can learn from them. They don't make the decisions or lay down the rules, but what they do can affect us just the same.

Perhaps you've seen them cooking and serving our lunch in the cafeteria; the person you can almost see in your mind, but not quite. Maybe you've noticed them after school as they sweep floors and clean desks and chalk boards. You might have even taken a glance at them as they organize the equipment in one of the locker rooms.

Or maybe you looked their way as they did one of their other numerable jobs.

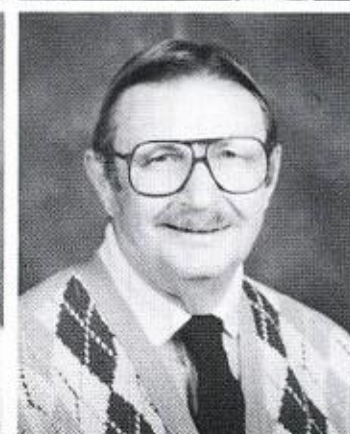

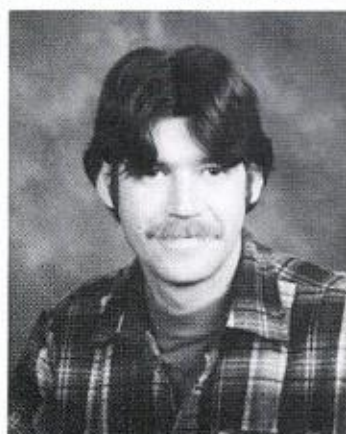

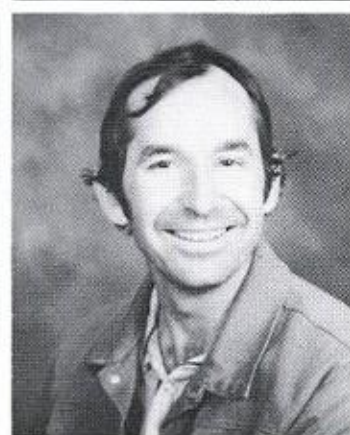

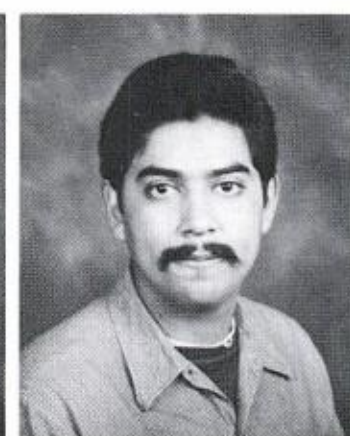

Either way, they are here at Katella helping to make our school better than ever by doing what some consider the "dirty" job.

Yet, no student goes up to them, pats them on the back, smiles, and gives them a heartfelt thanks. And that's not right.

Maybe someday these so-called "extras" will receive the recognition and thanks they truly deserve for doing their infinitely valuable job.

■ John Sepouloma is on a "search and destroy" mission.

THE INDIVIDUALS

As we see the changing times ahead of us everyday, we also see the changing faces of the students at Katella. From that first moment on campus as Freshmen to that last look back as Seniors, we see one another grow into an individual, each his own.

To begin, we start as Freshmen, those squirrely, trendy, "little kids" who get the ridicule from the upperclassmen. They are new to all of the traditions and rules of high school, but will learn them before they leave as Seniors. We all know what it felt like as we were laughed at and mocked by Seniors, only hoping that we will survive that "very long" year.

As Sophomores, we see ourselves as "awesome" because we know that this is the year we turn sixteen and get that "sacred" driver's license. But aside from that, this year is a time for growing, maturing, and finally understanding those things that were foreign to us as Freshmen.

After two years are down, there are still two more to go.

The Junior Class. To some this will be the longest and roughest year, but to others it will be very easy and fun. Nothing much happens this year until about the end of May, that's when you feel the first symptoms of "Senioritis."

Now we come to the class that dominates over all the others, The Senior Class. They are a special breed because they have survived the traumas of the past three years. This is a year for individualism to take flight. They know this is their last year to leave school with a bang.

It is now time for graduation and we all see ourselves in that cap and gown impatiently waiting for that diploma, which is our "key to freedom." You have now graduated and entered a world that is indifferent and new, but yet is exciting because in our world today we are becoming closer as one. With our technology and understanding, "It's A Small World."

Pondering the corners of her mind at lunch is junior Leshia Walls.

"All right class, today we're going to learn about . . .," pretends Senior Julie McLaughlin.

Photography student Amy Daily becomes the subject of her own hobby.

And A Smile Means Friendship to Everyone, . . . And A Smile Means . . .

■ Darin Jose squints from the glare of the sun.

■ Lauri Bellville leads the freshmen class in a cheer.

■ Jackie Tamura crams for an upcoming exam.

■ "It's story time," says Nancy Williams as she reads to the kindergarten during R.O.P.

■ Denise Debbie claps her hands to the beat of the music.

Freshmen Tough it Out

In August the papers come in an envelope; and the excitement begins. After lasting through two complete years of the grind called junior high school, the city of Anaheim legally allows them to go on and become, drumroll please, Freshmen.

But the excitement of finally going on to high school, and coming within four years of graduation, is tremendously overshadowed.

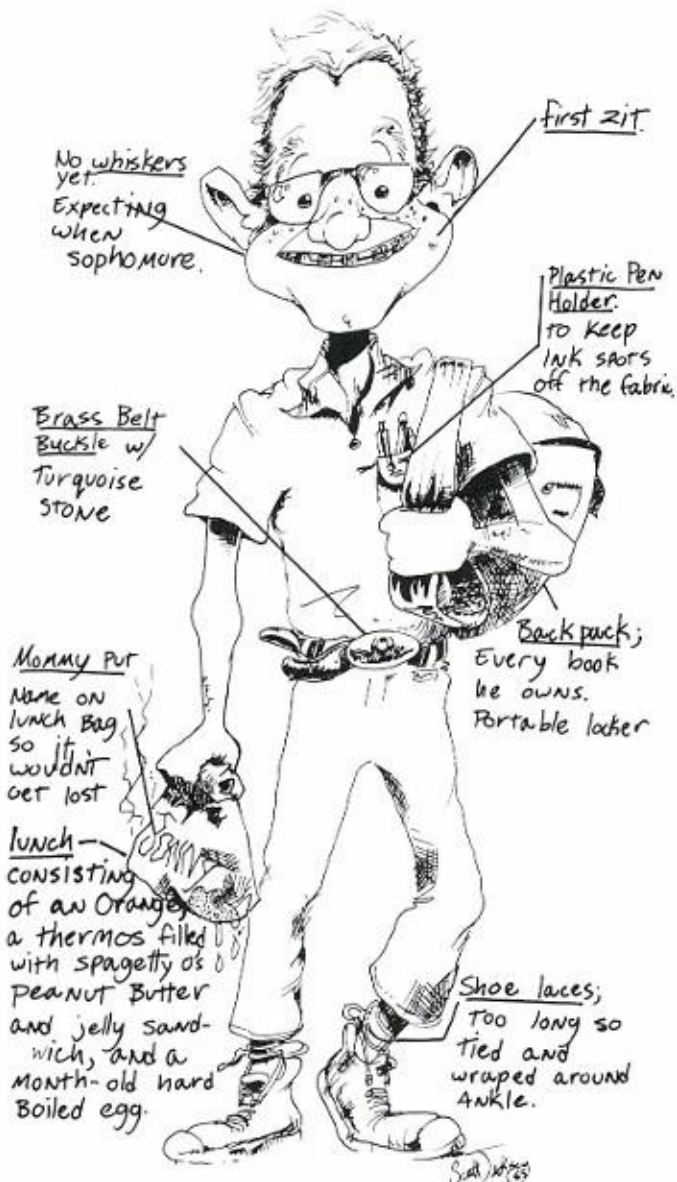

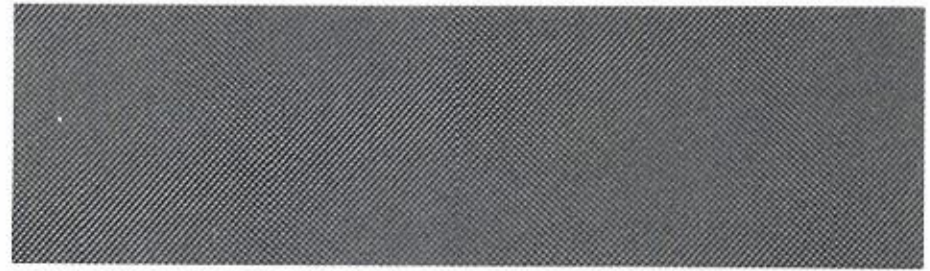

Suddenly they find themselves in strange settings on a new campus. Once again the problems of finding classes reach up to capture the new students.

Then, as if that wasn't bad enough, they find out what the other three grades actually think of theirs. Freshmen jokes sting and burn as they are shot off toward with deadly accuracy. Suddenly they become the goals.

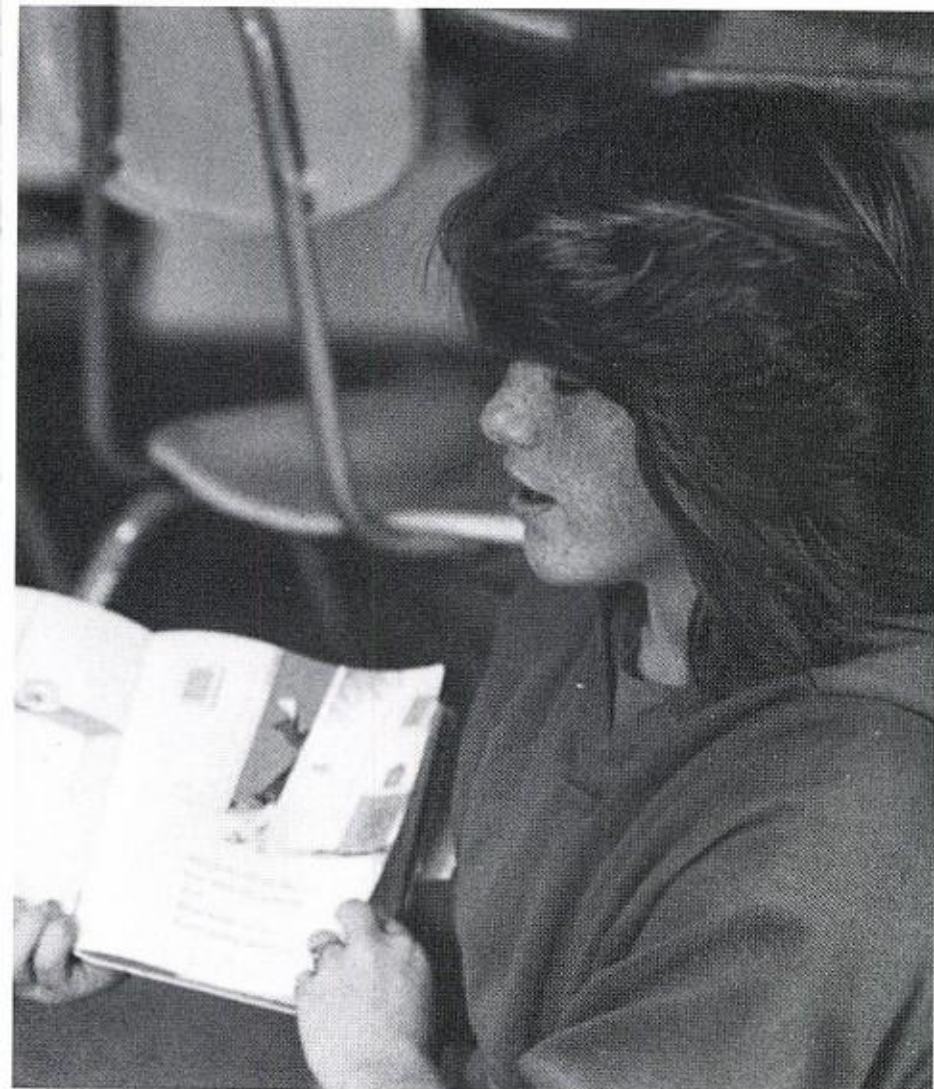

The entire class is suddenly associated with a small animal called the squirrel. If any upper classmen do anything silly, the cry rings out, "Stop acting like a freshman!"

Despite all of this, the class of '88 has braved through this first year and proved themselves to be Knights of Katella.

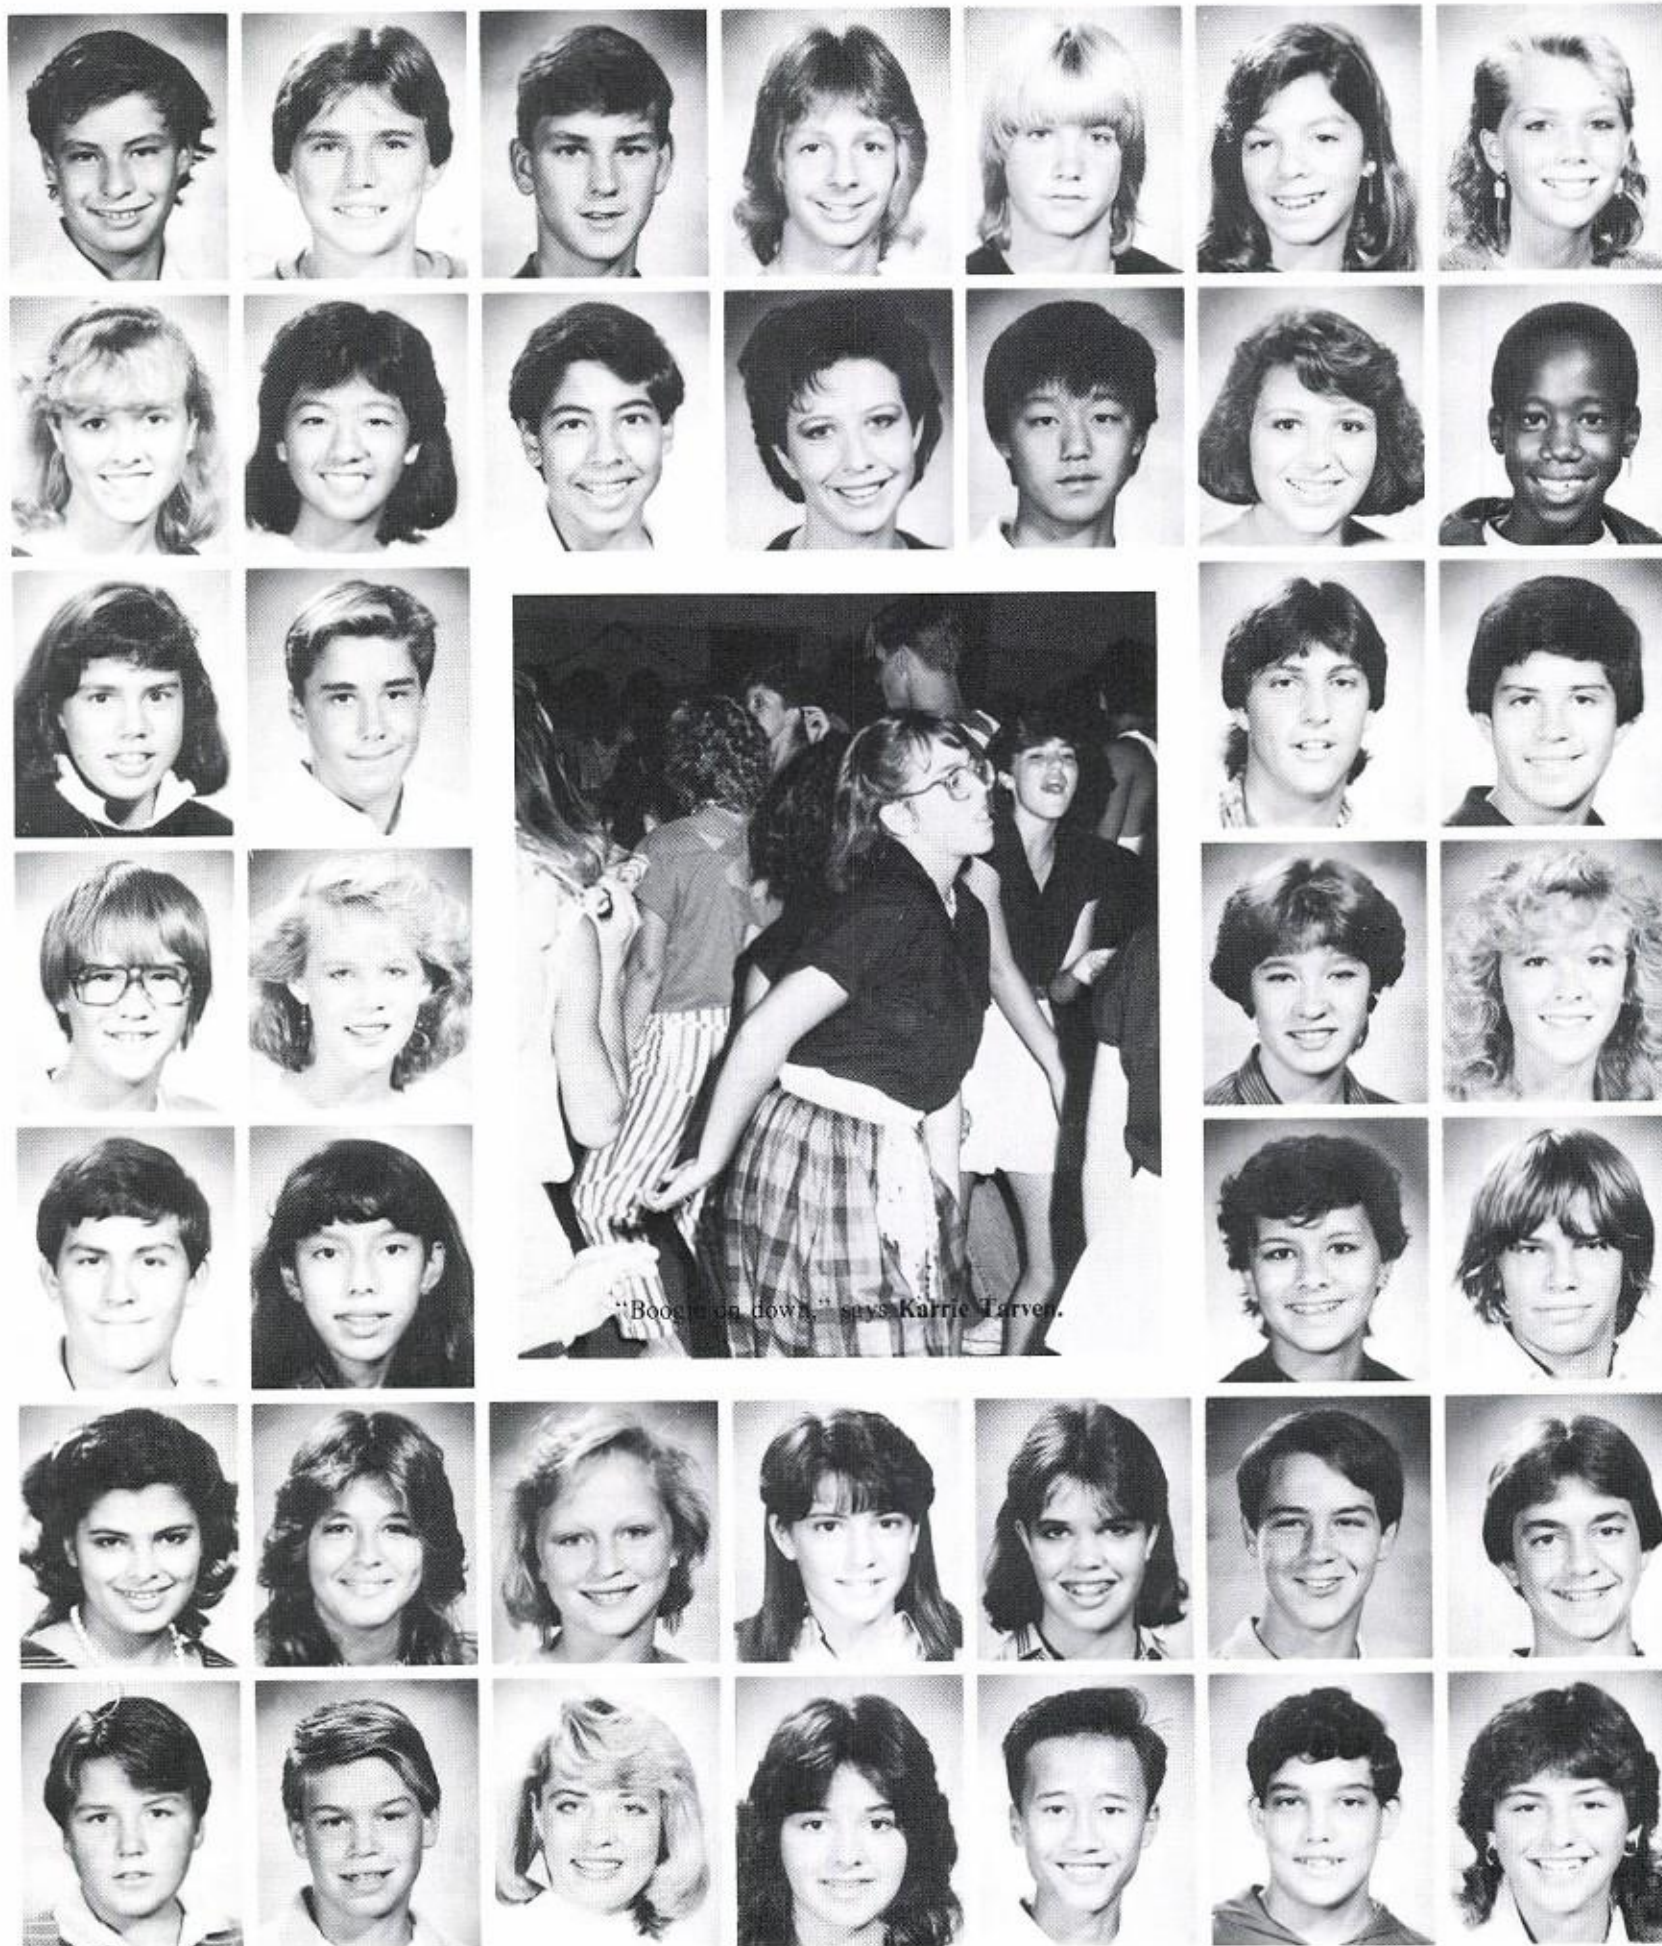

Yet, now they will move up, forgetting the woes of ninth grade, they will look upon the next class, '89', and say with disgust, "Whatta bunch of squirrely freshmen!"

Scott's Collection Over 15,000

According to the Wall Street Journal, one of the better investments of the past few years has been, believe it or not, collecting baseball cards. Katella's Dave Scott is one of those elite few.

Dave started collecting in 1977 when his brother and some friends on his block began to get into collecting. His collection now numbers over 15,000, most of which he himself purchased.

According to Dave, cards that are misprinted, misspelled name, etc., become extremely valuable, as are hall-of-famer's cards. In his collection, Dave has a Pete Rose card worth $80, and a card of his idol, Reggie Jackson, worth $45.

Every two months, Dave frequents local hotels and conventions centers in search of more cards at card shows.

While at the shows, Dave will occasionally get a baseball player to sign their card. Basically, though, Dave sells the cards he doesn't want and purchases the ones that will complement his ever-growing collection.

'87 STRIVES FOR THE TOP

During the year of 1985, the class of '87 took a step closer to the top, becoming sophomores. There were two mystical magical things that they were now allowed to do.

One, they could learn to drive a car by going through driver's ed. and braving the line at the DMV.

Two, they were officially allowed to make Freshman jokes.

'87 is a class that continuously made a spirited effort showing at school assemblies. Led by their own jock-squad, they challenged all of the other classes, sometimes unsuccessfully, to shouting contests. Altogether, '87 had proved they were worthy of carrying on the Katella tradition.

Off campus '87 kept up their spirit by sponsoring the Sadie Hawkins Dance. As usual it was a dance that was entertaining to all and well worth attending.

1985 was a year full of memories for the class of '87. It was a year that, good or bad, they will never forget for it only happens once.

Beaumont 8th Best in U.S.A.

Gliding swiftly through the water, Scott Beaumont appears to be making no effort at all as he swims to yet another victory. A sophomore here at Katella, Scott competes regularly in the backstroke and freestyle, his two specialties. He first started at age five, when his mother took him to the YMCA for swimming lessons. Later that year, he began swimming competitively. By the time he was 10, he was ranked 8th in the nation for the backstroke.

Scott is truly devoted to swimming. He practices from 5:15-7:00 every morning and from 4:00-7:00 every afternoon, except Sundays. His dedication has paid off, though, for Scott has a collection of nearly 400 medals. Despite his success, Scott remains modest, saying, "No matter how good I get, there is always someone out there who can beat me."

Owen Tatsuta is a Goal-Oriented Sophomore

Owen Tatsuta picked up his first racket when he was eleven years old. In a very short time, he was playing in tournaments and winning. As a freshman at Katella, he qualified for the varsity team. That year, he played the #1 singles position at UCLA against Northern California and won the State Championship. "I put 100% into my tennis," quoted Owen. Weekdays, he practices one to two hours with the team and three to four hours on his own. When he isn't participating in a tournament on the weekend, he will often practice as much as six hours! That's dedication!

Owen's second love in sports is soccer. He started this game also at a young age and has advanced through the years to more challenging teams. The years paid off when his team won the State Championship.

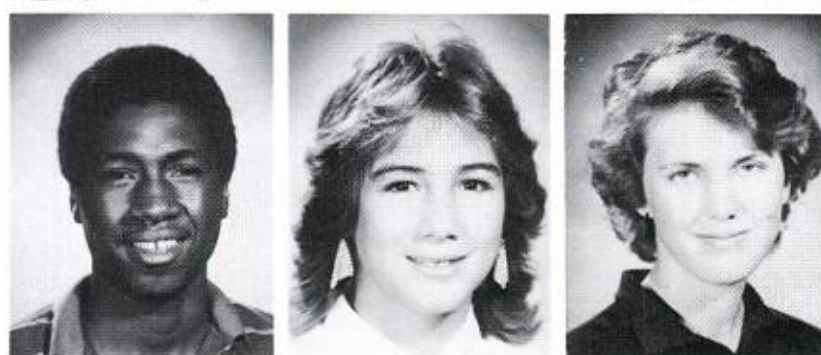

Besides his dedication to sports, Owen is also committed to excellence in school. With a 3.86 G.P.A., he has earned the title of being a GATE and honor student. Explains Owen, "Sports help me out in academics. With sports being competitive, I can compete for grades — I don't accept B's."

"Is this my best side?" asks Mark Stromberg.

Janet Brott pauses for a moment to absorb the wonderful Katella atmosphere.

McLaughlin Twins Tall and Talented

"Being tall isn't always easy," state Karyn and Kathy McLaughlin. But the six-foot twins found their height to their advantage last September when they went to John Robert Powers Modeling School for an interview and evaluation. Needless to say, they were quickly accepted into the program. Every Thursday, the twins attended classes in self-development, voice, and exercise, and learned modeling skills such as applying makeup and walking up ramps. On Saturdays, they took part in photo shoots. Because twin models are so unusual, Kathy and Karyn were often asked to pose together. Occasionally, they also participated in fashion shows put on by the modeling school.

After graduating from John Robert Powers the twins look forward to active fashion careers. Both would love to do a commercial, although neither plans to stay in the modeling business for long. Kathy eventually hopes to become a writer, while Karyn would like to do something with sales. But in the meantime they say, "We're having a lot of fun!"

Harvey Makes His Mark

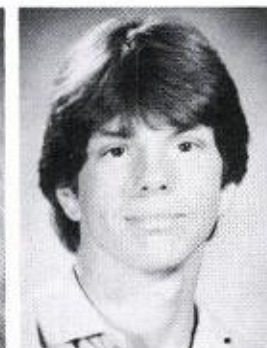

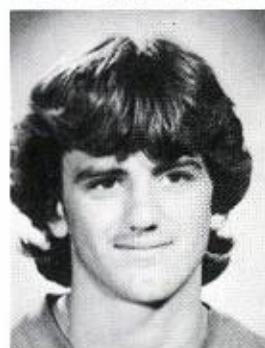

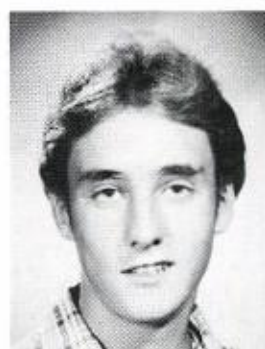

Sixteen year old sophomore at Katella, Robert Harvey, has one of the most different and interesting jobs I know of. He is the Assistant Project Coordinator for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

CFF is a non-profit organization that raises funds to help discover a cure for the disease. Robert's main job is to help organize the fund-raising projects. In the past they have done fund-raisers like jog-a-thons, telethons, bowl-a-thons, and aerob-a-thons. Many celebrities have taken part in supporting the activities by providing entertainment at the fund-raisers. Robert says that he is always trying to come up with new and exciting ideas for projects.

Every weekend, Robert can be found at the fund-raising sites. His job requires him to be able to deal with all kinds of people in a genteel manner. He must use his organizational skills and be able to work under pressure. Robert plans to work for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation for as long as they need him. It will probably be seven to ten years before a cure is found. Right now Robert and his boss are raising $1000 a week! At this rate, he hopes that a cure will be found sooner than predicted.

Juniors condition for their final year

This year has been an excellent year for all of us, and we can think of it as a pre-test to being seniors. Next year the class of 86 will show more enthusiasm than any other class here at Katella because we've got what it takes.

Our class has excelled in academics and athletics throughout the year. We worked very hard in preparing for the Junior-Senior prom. The dance was held in May and turned out to be one of our greatest accomplishments.

For Valentine's day, we sold carnations. The sale was a success and we made a profit for our class. We all worked together as a team which peaked an excellent year.

■ Anne San Mateo flaunts the "flapper" look.

FU CONTINUES OLD ART

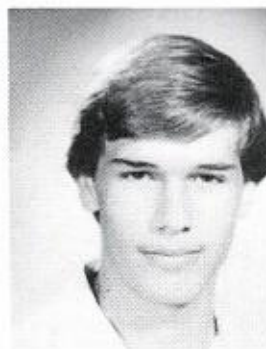

Since the age of nine, Michael Fu has been practicing the unusual art form of Chinese calligraphy. It is the most complicated type of writing in the entire world. A single character may consist of more than forty strokes, which is almost equal to the number it takes to write the entire English alphabet.

In order to preserve the traditional Chinese writing techniques, Michael uses the ancient writing set, which consists of a brush pen made of animal hairs, a stone tray, an ink block, and water-absorbent paper. Michael makes the ink by placing water in the tray and rubbing the ink block against it until the ink is rich enough for writing. After preparing the paper and brush pen, he's ready to start copying the scripture from his booklet.

Michael says his main reason for practicing is to maintain traditional Chinese virtue. Although he hasn't won any awards for his writing, it still remains his favorite hobby.

Sentif Steps 'On Out'

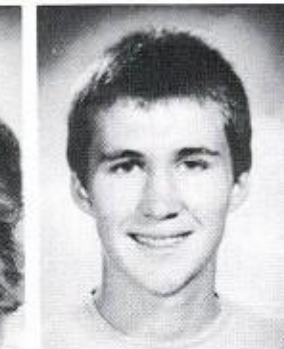

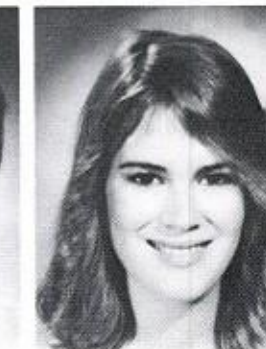

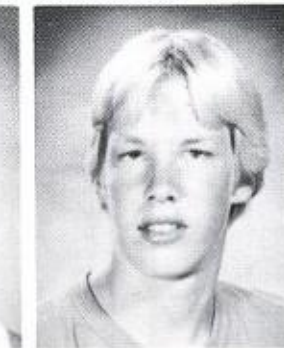

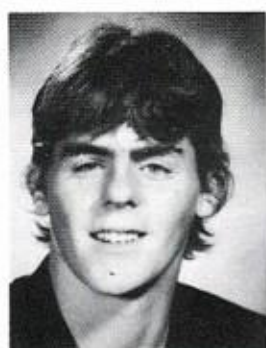

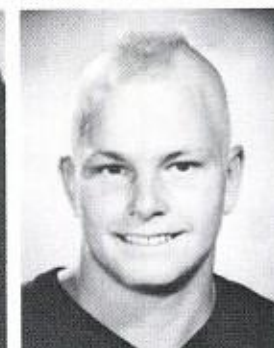

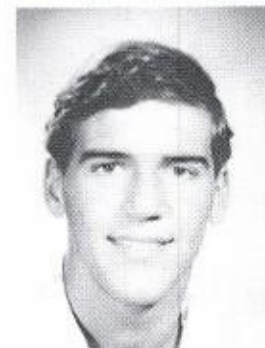

Brian Sentif, Katella's very own assistant drum major, got started on his career when he was in seventh grade at Magnolia Jr. High in Chino, CA. In 1981 he moved to Anaheim and eventually became assistant drum major here at Katella in his sophomore year. According to Brian, drum majoring is a very competitive and challenging sport. When the drum major is with his band, he is the leader and tells the players where to go and what to do. Wherever the drum major goes, the band goes.

When the parade season ends, the drum majors compete on their own without the band. They compete in what is called an "L" pattern, which consists of a step off, a left turn, a counter march (or reverse), a right turn, a salute, and a halt. All competitors perform to a previously taped march. The judges score each individual part of the "L" pattern, in addition to giving scores on showmanship, poise, and baton movements.

At the end of the year, the State Champion is decided. Two competitions, one at Arroyo High School and one here at Katella, determine who will be the winner. In 1984, Brian won this prestigious award at Arroyo High. Besides this, he has also received several awards from all over California, including two firsts, 10 second places, and 3 thirds.

Gass Doesn't Need Fuel To Get High

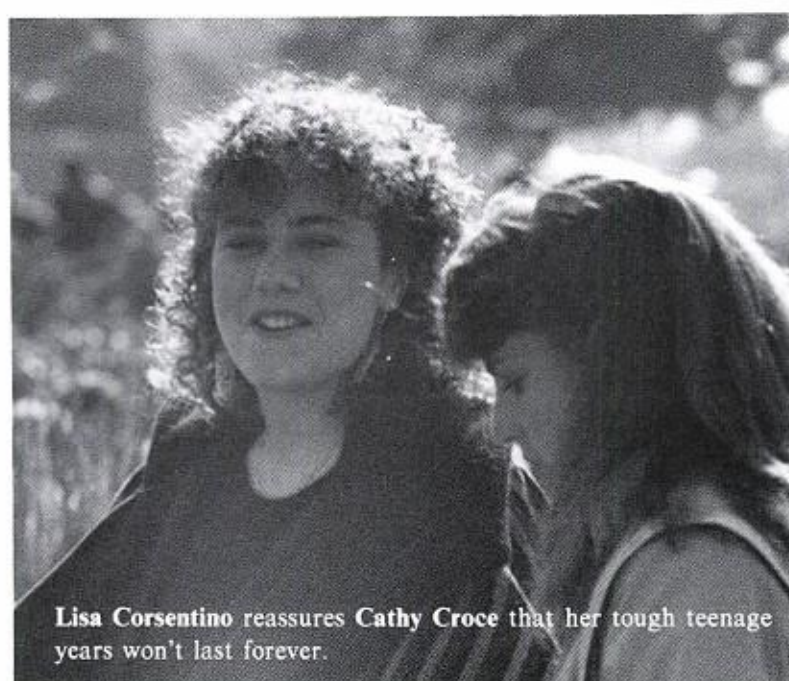

Junior Brian Gass started his bikeracing career at the tender age of two. Since that time, he has advanced to the #3 ranking nationally in two categories.

Inspired by an older friend, Brian began to race BMX bikes at the age of five. At his very first race, he placed second. By the time he was eight, he was #1 in his age group throughout the country. Now Brian races world wide. His many stops have included Holland, Mexico, and Germany, as well as assorted stops within the United States. His sponsor for these races is BMX Products Incorporated, who is the largest manufacturer of BMX bikes in the world.

While most students were at home over the past Christmas vacation, Brian went to Las Vegas and won the World Championships for his age group. This summer he will travel to Canada to compete in the World Championships there. Among his other achievements, Brian has appeared in and on "Super BMX", "BMX Action", and "BMX+". He is also the oldest of three racing brothers.

Whatever Brian does in the future, we hope he will enjoy as much success as he has already experienced in BMX racing.

Karen Works Wonders with Kids

Every weekend, Karen Lidgard can be found teaching kids in Sunday School. She got started as an aide ten years ago, teaching at grammar school and at her church. When she came to Katella, she entered the ROP program and received her certificate to be an aide.

Although Karen enjoys teaching kids of any age, she particularly likes the 2 to 5 years olds because they're just starting to learn. Sometimes she finds it difficult to teach when she's not feeling well, but the children always end up making her feel better. Says Karen, "Kids at this age really bring out your best side."

For many young people, school is very frustrating and takes a lot out of them. They have almost no energy left when the weekend finally comes. But Karen automatically perks up because she knows that on Sunday she'll be back in church, doing the thing she loves best.

THEY'RE SOOO SENIOR...

Twelve long years are coming to a halt this year. Through those years we've had a bevy of changes and transitions. We have come to a point in our life where we are caught between looking back in retrospect and looking toward our futures.

As Seniors prepare to graduate, we must say farewell to the safe and secure surroundings of our high school and greet a new world full with the opportunities just waiting for us. We are not only learning the physical structure of Katella; but we are leaving some of our best friends and memories behind.

Looking back we reminisce about our first few unsure days at Katella, when we were treated like lower life by the upperclassmen. But, through the years here, we gained out confidence and matured into the Seniors that, we, ourselves, had once so greatly admired. Of course, it was our duty to treat the incoming freshmen accordingly and keep the Katella tradition alive.

Looking towards our future, we are looking forward to the great horizon of experiences and new beginnings that life has to offer. Some of us will continue with our schooling, we will head off to colleges and universities anxious to meet new people and learn more about the world around us. Others will find jobs and careers that they have perhaps been training for.

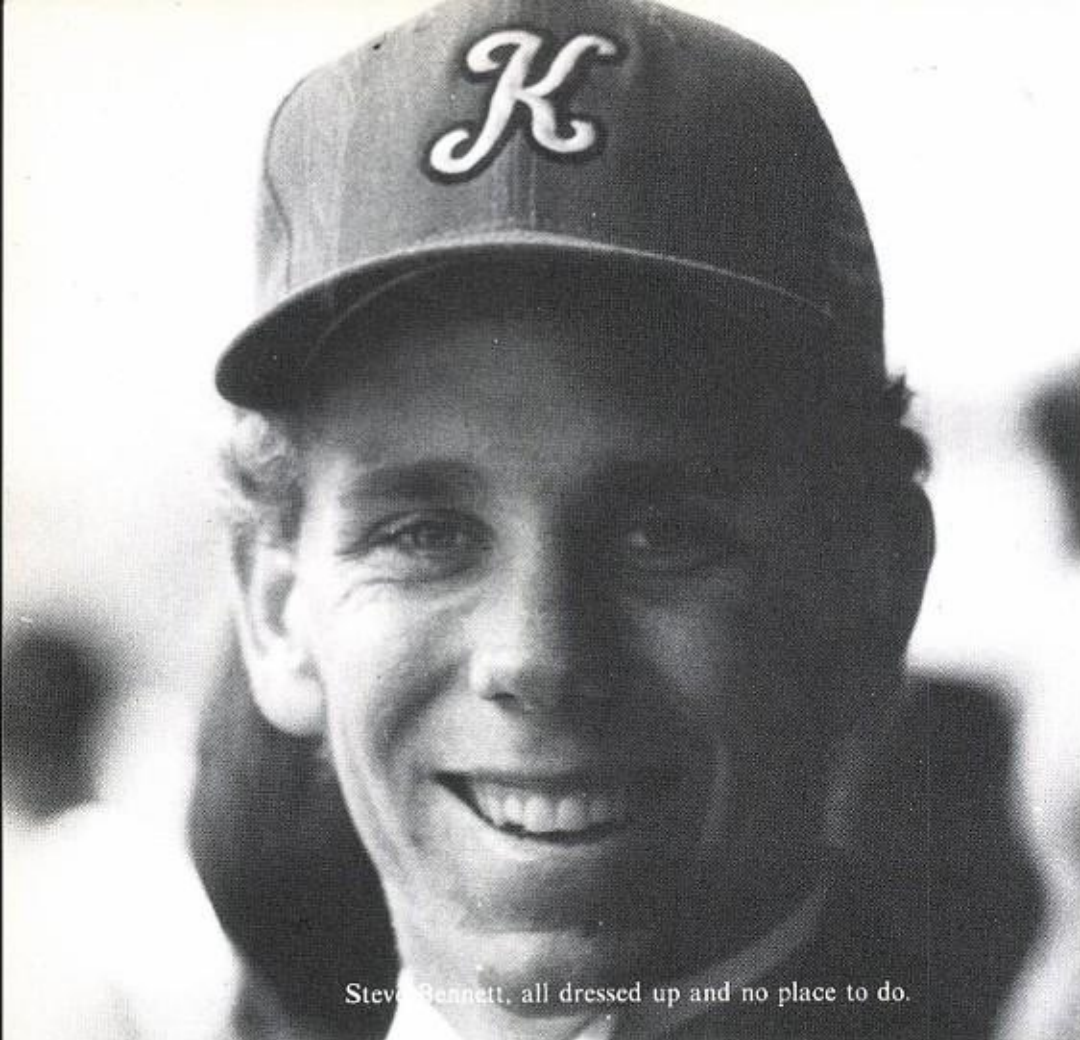

It is inevitable that we shall go on our separate paths and start new lives; but the memories, some painful, some beautiful, will always be a part of our lives as long as they remain in our hearts.

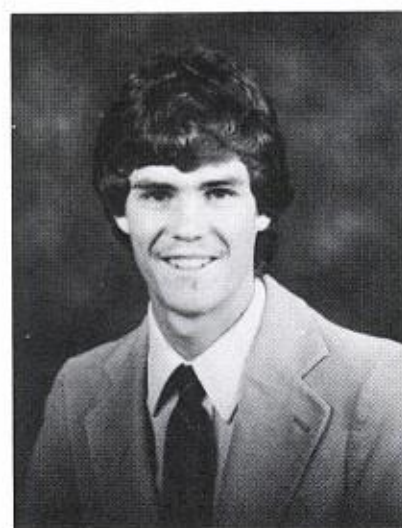

■ Ashik Patel shows off the moves that made him famous.

■ Al Rangel dribbles smoothly down the court.

■ Manny Villanueva warms up for the Dunk Tank pitch off.

Hansen Learns New Ways

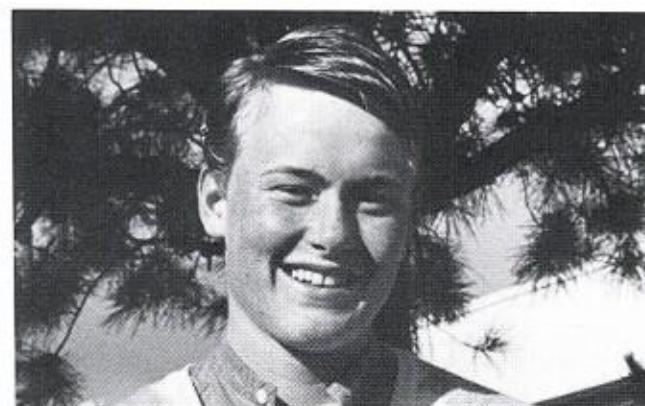

Peter Hansen is not just another blonde haired all-American kid, and if you know him, you would most definitely agree. In fact, he's not American at all. Senior, Peter Hansen is a foreign exchange student for Denmark, where he makes his full-time home.

Peter is an only child who, while he is in Denmark, enjoys many things, including team handball, a sport that is relatively unknown to Americans, dancing, where rumor has it he rivals John Travolta, and swimming, where it is common knowledge even fish won't challenge him. His favorite pastime is seeing new places, and that is one of the reasons Peter became a foreign exchange student.

Leaving his home, girlfriend, parents, relatives, and friends, Peter set off to America, ending up in Anaheim, California, U.S.A. where he is now staying with his sponsor family the Cleavelands.

Peter has contributed to Katella's athletic program while he has been here, by being on the swimming and water polo teams.

There have been problems, though, in Peter's transition from Denmark to Southern California. The language probably ranks high on his list of obstacles. With both English and the unique slang used by native Southern Californians to slow him down in communicating, Peter has done a remarkable job of putting most of that problem behind him. Awesome, huh?

In his comparison of California and Denmark, Peter states that he likes the people here better, but that you can do more with the people there. He also says that we in California are a year and a half behind Denmark in clothing styles. Also, he adds in a final comparison, the school scheduling is much different in Denmark than at Katella.

While in Southern California, Peter has had time to visit the different places around. He has been to both the mountains and the Colorado desert. Of course, he has also been to Anaheim's world famous Disneyland three times.

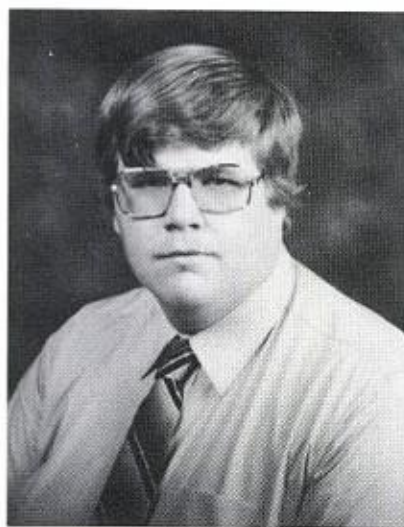

He wants to come back to Southern California sometime in the near future, but until then he will be going back to Denmark in the summer. Peter, once he is finished with high school, will attend a three year college in Denmark and major in banking.

Peter Hansen has proved that he had more than enough to be a Katella Knight.

"Unique" Is Middle Name

Senior, Andrea Mac Antosh is a musician. Not your ordinary teenage musician, for she has no guitar or piano. Instead, she specializes in Renaissance, Medieval, and Baroque styles of music. Definitely not to be found on a top 40 station.

Andrea started when she had an appendicitis in the 5th grade. While she was in bed her father bought her a plastic recorder to keep her busy. A recorder is a vertically held flute. From there her interest blossomed.

Eventually Andrea began to play crumhorns, and then she picked up on the flute. The groups she has played with include the Rio Hondo College Collequim, Pastime with Good Company, Claremont Graduate School Collequim, UC Riverside Collequim, and the 4:00 Players.

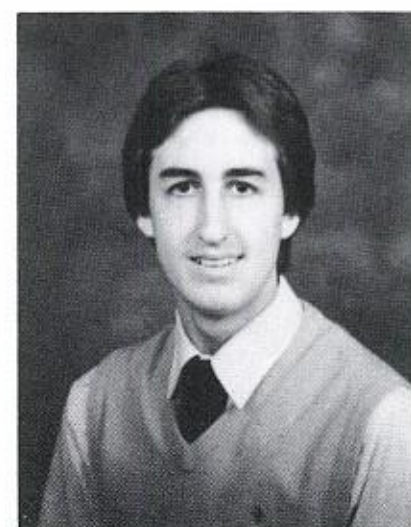

In the fall Ms. MacAntosh plans on attending UC Riverside, majoring in Early Music with the flute and recorder being her major instruments.

After college she hopes to go to Switzerland in order to attend Schola Musica Antiqua, a finishing school for Early Music. Afterwards, she wants to tour Europe and eventually teach music at the college level.

Andrea, with her talent and determination, has a promising future in a very unique field of music.

Frizell Amazes Herself With Dancing

Mishi Frizell loves to dance. Not only is she on Katella's Drill Team, but she also participates in Scottish Highland Dancing, a very traditional form of dance.

Mishi got started in the 7th grade after watching some friends in her clan perform. (A "clan" is a group of people who are all descended from the same ancestor). She began taking private lessons, alternating with her sisters and cousins, and was soon competing. In her very first competition, she took third place — an unusual accomplishment since it normally takes much longer for a dancer to place for the first time.

Competitions at the Highland Games take place at least once a month. The dancers perform four to ten dances a piece and are judged as individuals.

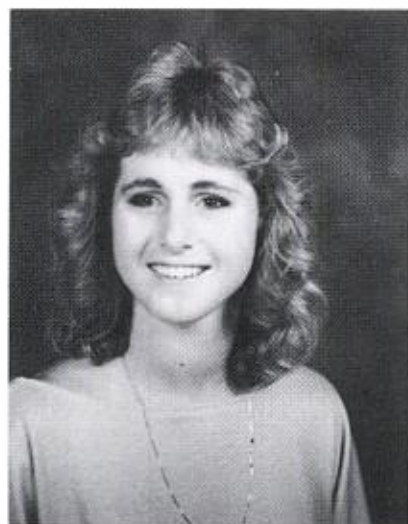

Each dance has some symbolism attached to it. For example, the "Sword Dance" is done over two crossed broad swords, and in olden times was carried out before a battle. If either dancer touched the sword in any manner during the dance, it meant that his clan would probably lose, or do poorly in the upcoming battle. The traditional "Highland Fling" shows the Scot's pride in its intricate footwork, and is probably the most well-known of all Highland dances.

The dancers must wear specific costumes for each dance. Both men and women wear a kilt, argyle socks; and special dancing slippers. Girls wear a velvet vest or jacket with six silver buttons down the front, and must wear their hair completely up off the neck. Men wear a jacket, sporrah (leather pouch), and a bonnet, which they must not loose during the dance.

Mishi is still amazed at the numbers of medals and trophies she has won. Within two years she moved up from Beginner to Open, the highest level of amateur dancing. Although she fears that she may have robbed herself of some learning experiences along the way, she is rightfully proud of her achievement. Along with her sister, Marianne, she has danced all over the United States and done especially well in Arizona.

Because being on the Drill Team takes up most of her time, Mishi can't compete regularly anymore, but she still practices and gives performances. Mishi states, "It's tough and painful, but exhilarating. The bag pipes really get into one's blood and keep the dancing alive."

Look Out Harvard, Here Comes Lynn

Lynn Davenport does not just have an extremely capable mind, nor does she have just a physically capable body. Instead, she has a rare combination of both. And, that combination has helped Lynn along her way toward her goal of being a doctor.

Lynn will have help on the way toward her dream. She has captured one of the 569 scholarships from the National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students. According to Mr. Ehlers, the senior counselor, Lynn is the first black student who attended Katella that has excelled in both academics and athletics.

She attributes the opportunities that helped her win the scholarship to growing up in a predominately white community. Lynn was the only one in Orange County to win one of the scholarships.

For role models, Lynn did not have to look out of her home. Her father is a microbiology professor at Cal State Fullerton, and her mother is a part time phys-ed instructor at CSUF. As Lynn says, "Education has always been stressed in our family."

Lynn has applied to every imaginable scholarship available, and Mr. Ehlers has kept her informed of any other possibilities.

Being a doctor is Lynn's main ambition, and she would definitely like to pursue that at Harvard. However, Lynn's father is not overly thrilled at the idea of Harvard because of the high tuition cost. But Lynn is confident. She claims that if she uses the scholarship she has received, that she could get a loan, other scholarships, or work to pay off the balance of her tuition to this famous institution.

Athletics has also been a strong part of Lynn's life. Since the age of ten she has played tennis. She has been a major part of Katella's Varsity Girls Tennis team, one of the best in the county, for all four of her years at Katella. She is the number two singles player on the team, and has made CIF twice. "Tennis is what I do," she said simply, then added, "I love to compete." Along with tennis, she has ran track and was into jazz dancing.

However, it is tennis that she thinks might get her another scholarship to supplement the Achievement Scholarship. Confidently, Lynn said, "I can be an asset to any team."

She has also taken drama while getting her Katella education, and says she has met many nice people there.

Yet, as she leaves high school, the dream of being a Harvard doctor lingers . . .

Everything is Funny as Long as Its Happening

Worry is the Last Thing On Her Mind in Her Life

Everyone has drawn, sketched, painted, or done something with art. Some have even dreamed of a career in art. But few have done what a young lady on our campus has.

Myrna Barker is not only a beautiful person, she's also an incredibly talented artist. From the very beginning of her life she has been interested in art. However, it wasn't until her junior year at Katella that she realized she could parlay her interest, with help from the awesome talent she has, into a possible career.

Myrna has been accepted to the famous Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, New York. She also received a grant for $4,000 of the $12,000 tuition required to attend the institute, and will work on campus to pay off the difference.

In her first two years she will study art and design, and in her third year she will study graphics. She is anxious and excited to get started.

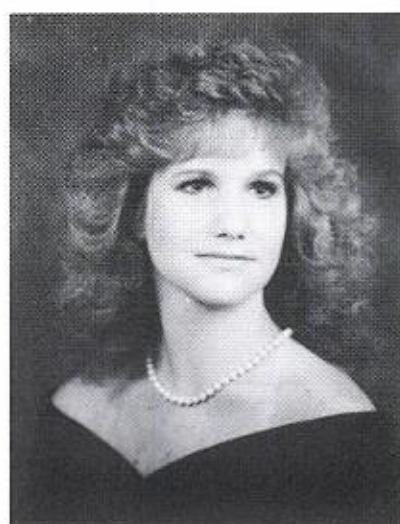

Already Myrna has attended the Art Center, College of Design, and USC on scholarships during high school.

Myrna's brother and sister are artists, and her uncle owns an advertising agency. Maybe that's why she says, "Art's always been in my family."

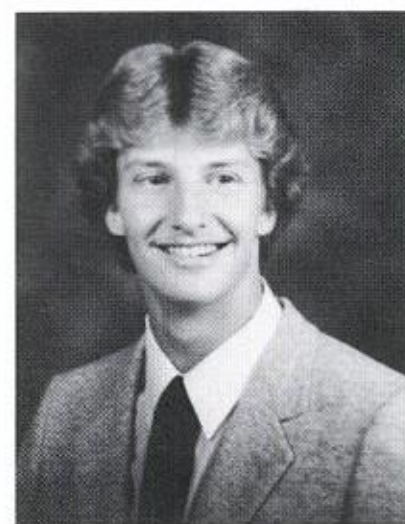

Her plans are to become a graphic designer or illustrator. Sometime she thinks she would also like to own her own ad agency.

One of Myrna's biggest worries now is that she will lose her own personality and become a "New Yorker," when she leaves in August.

With her talent and intelligence, Myrna has little to worry about.

Kalti Surroundings Entrege Madsen

On August 11th, 1984, the United States received a very unique import from the country of Denmark. His name is Per Madsen, a foreign exchange student here at Katella High School.

Per will be returning home on July 30th to his family, friends, and dog Blanca. However, his stay at home probably won't last that long, for he plans on returning next year.

The main reasons Per came to the United States, California, and Anaheim, includes the fact that he has studied English for six years and wanted a chance to try it firsthand. Also, Per wanted to meet new people and, like most students, wanted to take a year off of school.

the winter averages down near -20 F with quite a blanket of snow, and the summer temperatures will top out at a sweltering 70 F. Also in Denmark, Per says, people are not allowed to drive until the age of 18, but people under 18 are treated more like adults then in the U.S.

While in the U.S., Per has been on Katella's track and cross-country teams. Per will graduate from Katella while he is here, and would like to go to college here. The schools, Per says, are much easier here than in Denmark.

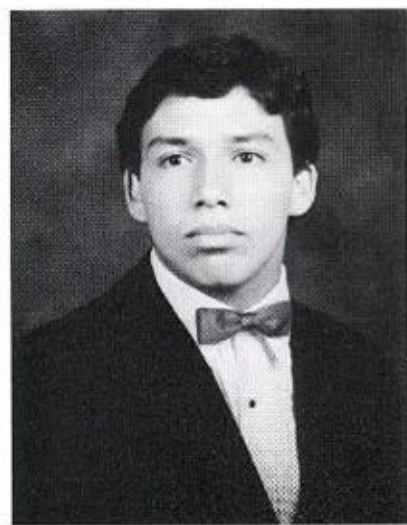

While in the U.S., Per hasn't really kept in touch with his parents back in Denmark. Instead, Per has spent his time becoming more familiar with his sponsor parents, the Heim-biggers. Per has really enjoyed the time he has spent with his sponsor family.

An important event happened to Per while he was in the U.S. He turned the magic 18 years of age. Per was no different from any other teenager when it came to the big number 18. To him, it was the biggest event since he learned to walk.

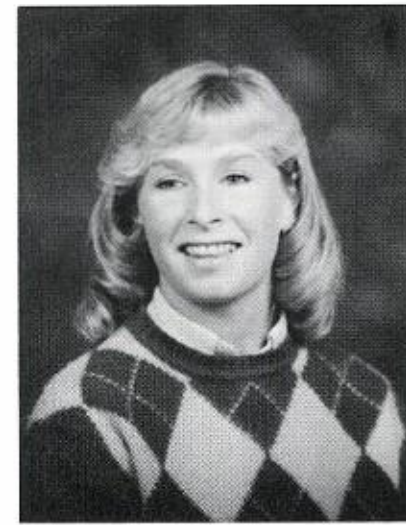

Even though he plans to come back, if he doesn't, he will always have the knowledge of a Katella education.

Senioritis — What Is It? Who Gets It?

By the time graduation comes all of us will have suffered Senioritis in one form or another. But few, very few, of us actually know anything at all about this crippling disease.

Therefore, we, on the yearbook staff, have contacted Dr. Stanley Brentwood, Chairman, Head of Research, and janitor of the National Outfit on Senioritis in California's Higher Organizations Of Learning, more commonly known as NO SCHOOL.

"We know, at this moment, almost everything about Senioritis," Dr. Brentwood told us over the phone from his Bel-Air office. "We know the symptoms, and, after a few basic steps of treatment, how to cure it."

"What," we asked anxiously, "are the symptoms, treatment, and cure?"

"Well," Dr. Brentwood started, "first of all, the disease only strikes those between the ages of 17 and 19, and only after they have had 12 years of formal education, not including kindergarten."

"The symptoms will sometimes go unnoticed in these people for month's. The more general symptoms include: smashing alarm clocks with sledge hammers while cursing school, trying to convince parents they are sick every school day, muttering over and over how many days of school are left, being consciously aware of how many seconds it will be until they are handed their diploma, fidgeting constantly in their seats, having an attention span of 13-15 seconds on anything that has to do with school, and suddenly having unlimited amounts of energy when told to be quiet and work."

"The list could go on and on, but those are the general one's."

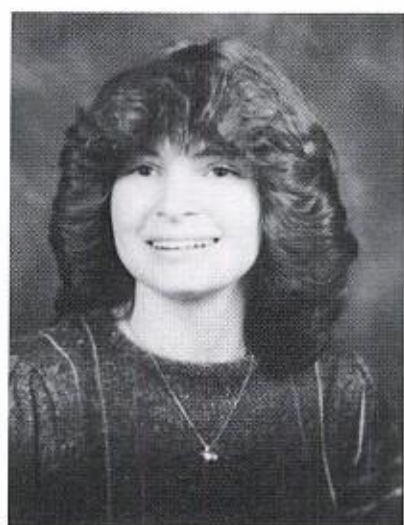

"Treatment is long and taxing on all involved. It includes sleeping in for 2-3 extra hours each weekend, listening to music at 50 decibels for 30-45 minutes every night, rambling on to a friend for an hour every night, and constantly playing games with their own mind to stimulate interest in class. Of course, each treatment program varies from person to person. To be safe, talk to your doctor before trying any of the prescribed methods of treatment."

Then Dr. Brentwood became silent. The silence was too much to handle. Our interest was peaked too high to wait for him to continue.

"The cure!" we cried, "What is the cure, Doctor!?"

"Graduation," he replied.

"Hobbies"

Are Her Hobby

When she isn't working with the school board, senior Joy Danley has found a very expensive hobby to occupy herself in her free time away from school.

She races Hobie Cats, more commonly known as catta-marans.

Joy started three years ago when she was a sophomore at Katella. Some friends of hers taught her all she needed to know about racing and she caught on with speed.

She races in class 16 which is the highest there is. Joy's usual position is jibb, in which it is her job to control the fibb, along with watching for varks and other boats in the water. She, alone, is the "crew" for a skipper.

Joy has raced in San Diego, twice in San Felipe, Mexico, Lake Perris and San Luis Obispo. She belongs to "Fleet 30," which is a club of Hobie Cat racers.

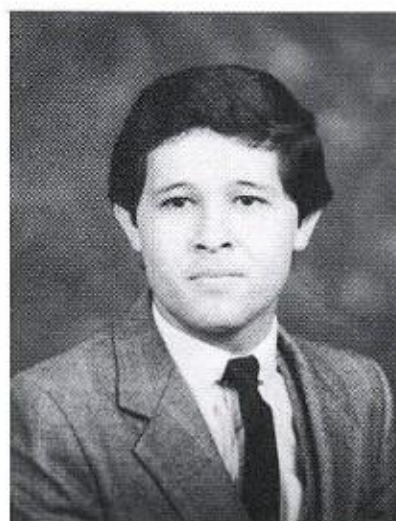

At a regatta, race, Joy, who has taken 5th in a national qualifying race, claims the atmosphere is completely casual and relaxed, which is probably best for a hobby like that.

Paboojian Models For His Money

Katella's very own Senior, hearthrob of many screaming teenage girls, John Paboojian, has not exactly spent the past year the typical way Seniors do.

A year ago a friend of his got John into a very unusual line of work. Instead of flipping hamburgers or bagging groceries at a neighborhood store, John became employed in the world of glamor and glitter. He became a model.

John was featured on the pee-chee type folders entitled "classmen," which featured a different guy on each one, along with a paragraph of personal info.

Slowly but surely, John is now getting his pictures around to the smaller magazines in hopes of furthering his career. Sometime in the near future, John will be featured in Teen Beat magazine.

His favorite places to model include the beaches. His favorite beaches, to all the ladies looking for him, are the pike and Newport.

But John also loves all kinds of sports, including fishing and driving. Baseball, though, is by far his favorite.

John has played baseball for 12 years and hopes to become a professional, someday, and play in the majors.

In between his grueling practice schedule, John visits high schools and answers questions on modeling.

Modeling, he says, will remain as a part-time job as long as it does not interfere with baseball.

The motto John lives his life with is "What people do will eventually catch up to them." If that's true, then John has nothing to worry about.

'Everyone Has a Dream' — Billy Joel

At precisely 4:00 p.m. on June 13th, 1985, Katella High Schools class of '85 stepped out onto the field of Glover Stadium with the band playing Sir Edward Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance," the procession of students, signifying the start of Katella's 18th graduation, began.

Once the entire class was at their seats, John "Tony" Ruiz led both spectators and class in the "Pledge of Allegiance" and National Anthem. Then Halle MacDonald, 84-85 ASB President, welcomed all to the ceremony and proceeded to introduce the student body officers.

John "Tony" Ruiz presented the 85-86 ASB President, Lincoln Wachtel, with the senior class gift, a check of over $2000 to the athletic department.

Lynn Davenport and Melissa

Scheier delivered a pair of very uplifting and inspiring speeches. Between the speeches, Katella's Choir sang a very emotional version of "Everyone Has a Dream" by Billy Joel.

Dr. Escoc then presented the 34 Academic Honor and/or CSF Gold Seal Bearer students. The Salutatorians were Clara Saucedo, Angela Huisman, Halle MacDonald, and Theresa Manly. The Valedictorian was Sandra Mathews.

Finally Dr. Escoc presented the class of '85, and, the moment all had waited many long years for, the awarding of diplomas by Cynthia Grennam and JoAnn Barnett of the school board.

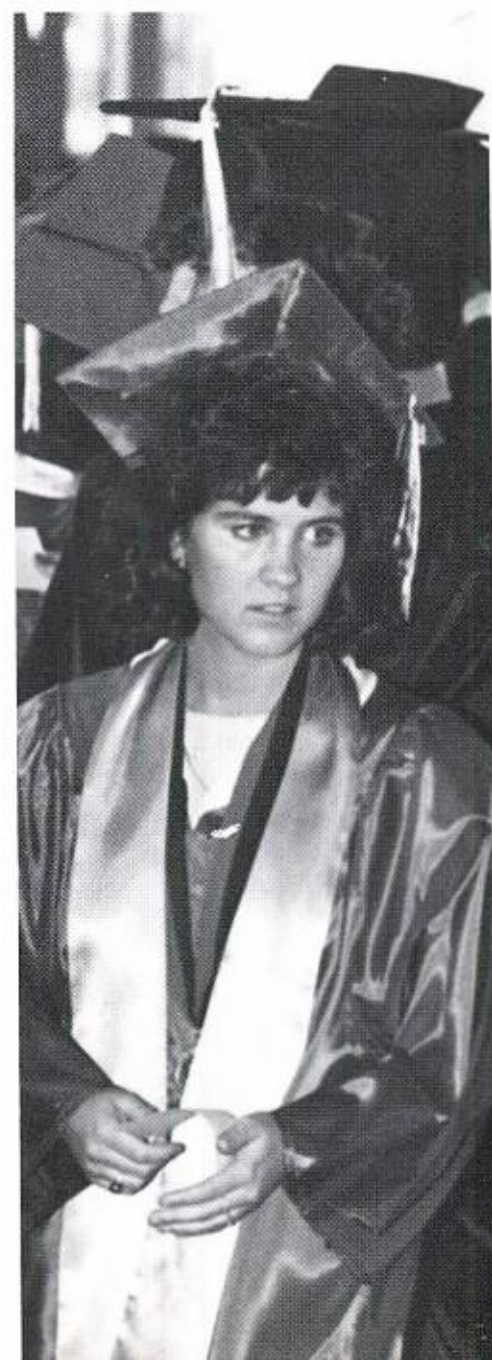

At the playing of the Alma Mater the class proceeded out into LaPalma Park to bid each other a tearful farewell.

While we were studying, taking tests, making new friends, and going to parties, the rest of the world was also plunging in first gear. Many events made 1984-1985 one to remember both nationally and internationally.

All over the nation, a young man named Michael Jackson was an ultra phenomenon. He sold more than 10,000,000 copies of his solo album, Thriller, setting records across the nation.

In New York, the Statue of Liberty began to look haggard from 98 years of wind, salt air, and acid rain. She began a two year program to restore her once glowing appearance. This included a new goldplated torch.

Ronald Reagan won the 1984 presidential election with the biggest electoral vote in the nations history. He won with 49 percent of the total vote.

The victory of the 1984 world series went to the Detroit Tigers who won the San Diego Padres four games to one.

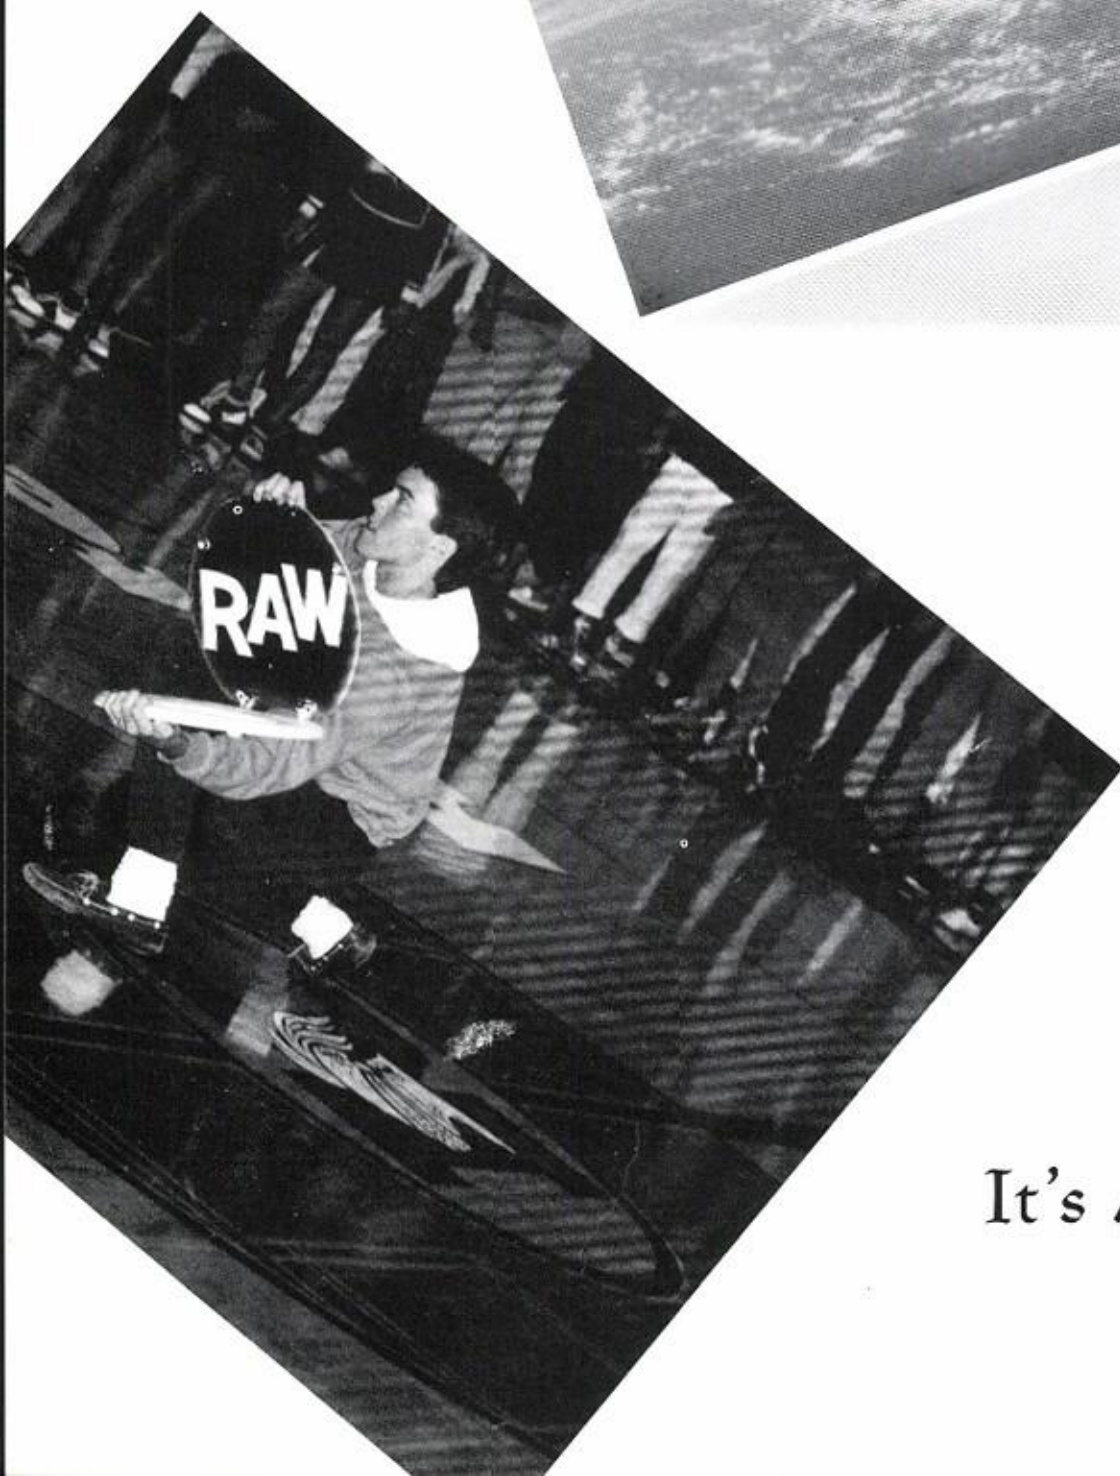

Around the other side of the globe, El Salvador had their first free election in 50 years. Jose Napoleon Duarte was elected.

In Beirut, the U.S. marines finally pulled out. After more than 260 marines were killed, it was decided that Reagan's commitments was too high.

It's A Small, Small World ...

The Ever-Changing Times

In Our Small World

Despite the miles between us, our world is coming closer together. The evidence is there, obvious to those who wish to see it. It can no longer be ignored.

Yes, there are problems in our world, but no one claimed that were perfect. Wars and fights seem to dominate our headlines, but look just beyond them. Most of the fights seem to be from people making a last stand against the fact of our "smaller" world.

It is an everlasting battle.

What evidence is there, someone might ask. The fact that some countries can set down their guns to meet on an athletic field, or that people can send money and food to a starving country half way around the world proves that we are closer.

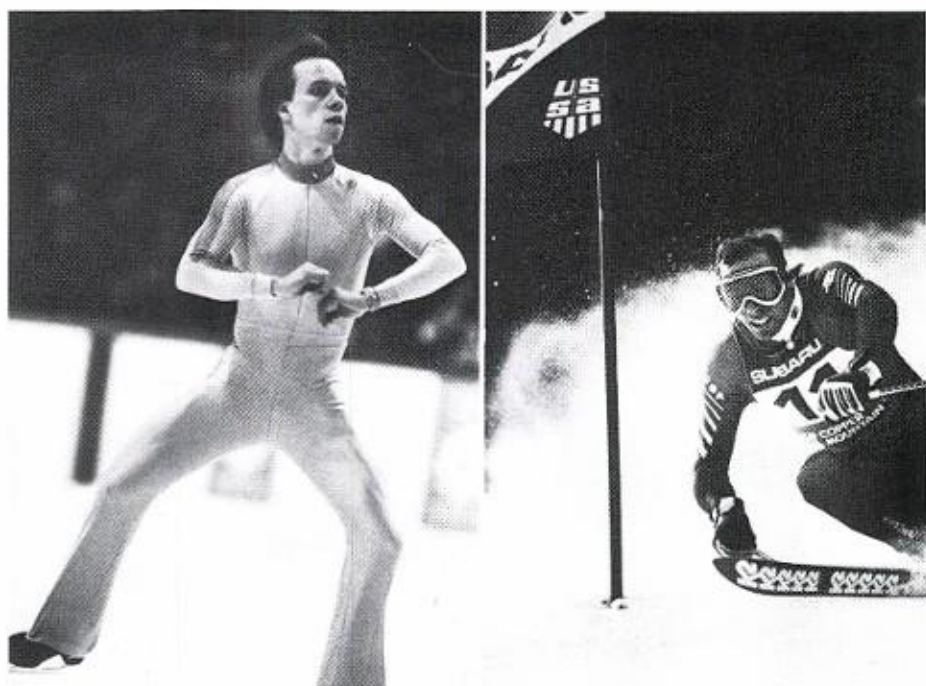

Look around your own neighborhood and see the different creeds, races, and nationalities that have come together to live their lives next to one another in one great sign of trust.

Even at Katella, we see all of the above. We live with the fact that we can be anywhere in the world in such a short time. Seeing it at our school makes it more believable.

If you didn't believe we are in a closer-knit world, weigh the above evidence and just take a good look around you. There is only one conclusion.

It's A Small World, After All.

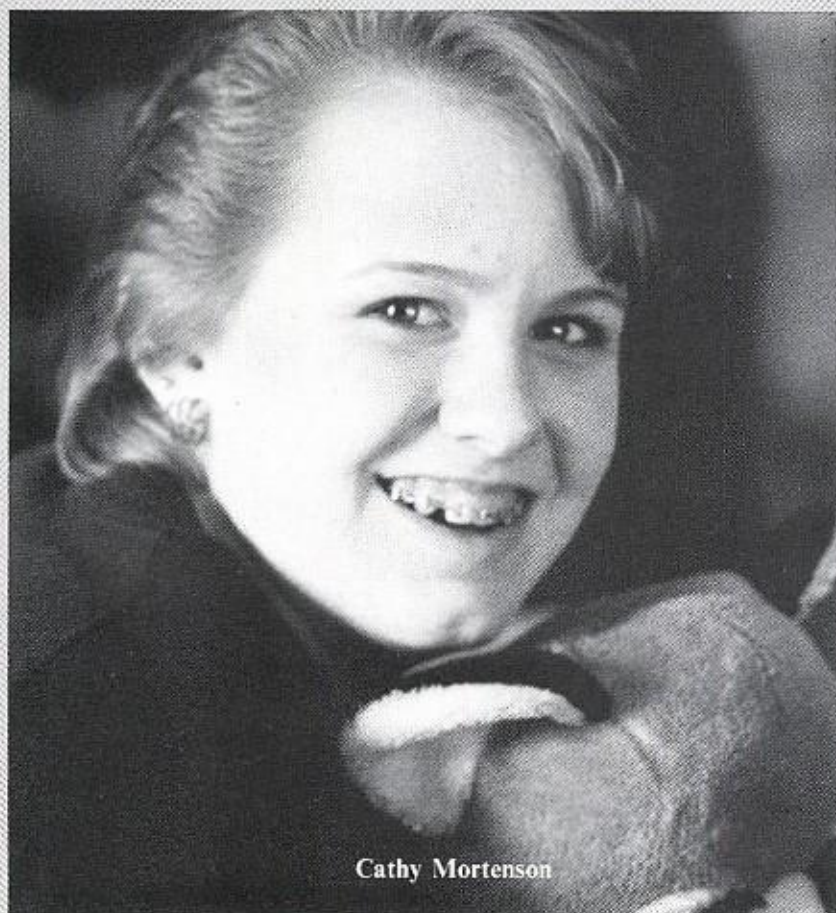

It's A Small, Small World . . .

■ President Ronald Reagan won re-election with the biggest electoral vote in the nations history. The photo shows President and Mrs. Reagan at the victory celebration on election night, November 6, 1984.

■ Scott Hamilton won a gold in the men's figure skating and Steve Mahre won the gold in the Giant Slalom skiing event.

SOME THINGS
YOU DON'T WEAR ON YOUR UNIFORM.

You wear them inside. Things like pride. Being proud of being fit and trim.
Looking good in uniform. Things like patriotism. Glad you are able to serve your country. Being secretly proud that you're doing an important job. And doing it well.

They are feelings that go along with the practical things. Such as earning over $570 a month and having food, lodging, medical and dental care all paid for. You get to learn a skill that could have civilian job applications later on. You have an opportunity to meet and work with all kinds of people.

In the Army, pride and practicality go hand-in-hand.
See your Army Recruiter.

COLOPHON

The 19th edition of the Katella Legend yearbook was printed by the Herff Jones Yearbooks in Marceline, Missouri. 1300 copies were printed, using an 80lb. Bordeaux paper for the black & white pages and a 100 lb. Bordeaux paper on the color pages. All of the above-mentioned was bound together with a Smyth sewn cover. Cover designed by Cynthia Petrovic. Layouts on all sections used a four-column placement of all photos and copy. All body copy was set with a 10 point Times Roman type-style with captions and portrait identifications in an 8 pt. and italicized. All headlines for every section in 24 pt. and a 14 pt. sub-headline.

All artwork was provided by Scott Jackson and Cynthia Petrovic. Special thanks to: Elaine Mercado and all those at Portrait Gallery for their fine photo work; Herff Jones Yearbooks' Larry Kluss; Jay Sabicer for his help with the slide show; AP/Wide World Photos; and all those who gave their time and effort who were not mentioned above.
